Board Approves Changes to Building Site Plan

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

In a nearly unanimous vote, the Leisure World Community Corporation (LWCC) board of directors approved changes to the site plan for the Administration Building and Clubhouse I Improvements project during its regular meeting on May 22.

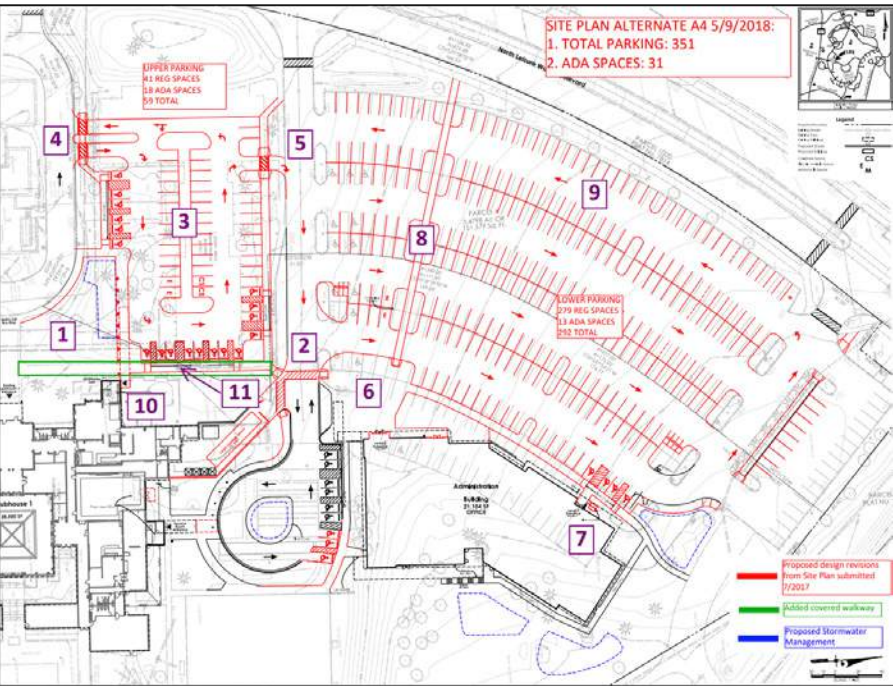

The approved motion authorizes management to submit the final engineered plans to the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission (M-NCPPC) for site plan approval.

A previous revised site plan, Alternate A3, was reviewed by the Community Planning, Security and Transportation, Education and Recreation, Restaurant and Landscape Advisory Committees at a joint committee meeting in April.

Based on a final engineering review, some minor revisions were made to the site plan post-meeting.

The resulting site plan, Alternate A4, includes several revisions to traffic flow, including a one-way outer parking lane in the existing

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

At 16-years-old and just 101 pounds – four pounds shy of the Army’s weight requirement – Nelson Warren nonetheless joined their ranks thanks to an unscrupulous recruitment officer who let him stuff sinker weights in the bottom of his boots.

No one knew then, least of all Warren’s grandmother, “Big Ma,” who chuckled at him in disbelief when he called to say goodbye before basic training, that one bent rule would be the start of a 22-year military career that took Nelson, a Bronze Star Medal recipient, through two tours in Vietnam.

On Wednesday, July 4,

Warren leads the community’s annual parade procession as grand marshal. He is believed to be the first African-American in Leisure World’s long parade history to serve in the role, according to master of ceremonies Stephen McCleary.

Army Life

Warren, or “Tiny” as his family nicknamed him, joined the Army in April of 1954, several years before the U.S.’s involvement in Vietnam escalated.

He went to Fort Knox, Kentucky, for an eight-week basic training, and then spent another eight weeks at engineer school at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, where he also used

Family-Owned Company Provides Top Notch Care to Residents

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

Family & Nursing Care is a local, family-owned business that provides medical and personal care to clients whose needs range from one hour of care, one day a week to 24-hour, live-in assistance.

Located on-site at the medical center since January, the company uses vetted caregivers, which include certified nursing assistants and geriatric nursing assistants, who must be certified with at least two years of experience. Family & Nursing Care also employs registered nurses and licensed nurse practitioners to provide more advanced, in-home medical care.

The Company prides itself on accepting only seven percent of the applicants who apply for its caregiver positions.

“We are very invested in who we’re sending out to help our clients,” said Kelly Salb, director of client services. “We’re a family-oriented company. And we want to treat people as if they were our family members.”

Their services range from assisting a client with his or her grooming and personal care, to completing basic household chores and providing rides to the grocery store and doctor’s office.

Some long-term insurance plans cover their services, and the company works with clients to help them navigate through the insurance reimbursement process.

Apart from the Rest

Many other companies in Montgomery County provide the same kinds of services as Family & Nursing Care, but Salb feels what sets the company apart is its client services model.

Client services managers visit the homes of potential clients to find out exactly what they’re looking for in a caregiver and answer any questions or concerns the client may have. The client even has the option of interviewing a potential caregiver.

“So it’s a more personal feel,” Salb said.

The company understands that each caregiver-client relationship is unique, and so will sometimes make special accommodations, such as when a Leisure World resident needed help packing sensitive documents.

“[The resident] felt so comfortable with this caregiver, she only wanted this caregiver to help her; so we allowed it,” Salb said.

Clients don’t sign a contract; they can stop their service at any time.

And if a caregiver doesn’t work out and personalities clash, the client services manager steps in and either provides feedback to the caregiver or replaces the caregiver.

“We don’t want any resident to feel stuck,” Salb added.

Contact Information

Residents who are interested in Family & Nursing Care’s services can call the company’s main line at (301-588-8200) 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and either ask for Kelly Salb or ask to speak to any client services manager.

The company celebrates its 50th anniversary in October. For more information, visit (familynursingcare.com).

Annual Health and Wellness Expo Educates a Bustling Crowd

by Leisure World News

On May 24, over 75 community organizations, medical professionals and local vendors came to the “To Life” Health and Wellness Expo in Clubhouse I to offer their expertise and increase awareness of their services.

The annual, free Expo, which is in its ninth year, is presented by Bender Jewish Community Center’s Coming of Age in Maryland program and co-sponsored by the Jewish Residents of Leisure World.

Former Washington Post journalist Bob Levey delivered the keynote address, and several workshops on mental and physical health followed.

At the exhibitor tables, attendees heard from a broad variety of exhibitors promoting well-being throughout the lifespan. Topics ranged from fire safety to living with chronic medical conditions.

While health organizations issued tips for wellness,

At left, a massage therapist works out the kinks in an Expo attendee’s back. At right, an attendee receives a medical assessment. Photos by Leisure World News

Montgomery County Public Libraries spoke about how their materials are rendered accessible to visitors with disabilities, and recreation exhibitors announced opportunities for health-enhancing activities.

Attendees could even receive free health services, including visual acuity and glaucoma screenings, bronchial testing and massage demonstrations.

Resident Dr. Sue Schwartz came to the Expo having recently had personal issues with transportation. She was able to pick up materials on transportation services, but is glad as well that the Expo amasses so much information in one place, making her visit a convenient way to become familiar with a variety of health matters.

Local Television Plans Live Morning Broadcast at Leisure World

by Leisure World News

Got plans for the morning of Friday, June 29? If not, residents can tune into their televisions – or even watch in person – that day to see the community featured on a morning television program.

Local television station WTTG, or Fox 5, is planning to broadcast parts of its Friday, June 29, morning show live from Leisure World of Maryland.

Continuing its tradition of visiting various communities in the Washington, D.C., region in a series of “Zip Trips,” WTTG in mid-May announced its 2018 lineup of destinations, which includes Leisure World.

Zip Trips are featured on the channel’s Friday morning news programs from May through August. Other destinations in 2018 include the Anacostia area of Washington, D.C.; Reston and Woodbridge in Virginia; and Bethesda and Frederick in Maryland.

During the Friday morning

Zip Trip broadcasts, Fox 5 anchors enthusiastically interact with members of the community and feature “must stops,” food and music within it.

In a short video (it can be viewed at <https://bit.ly/2sszoxv>), featuring a look at a Zip Trip to La Plata, Maryland, in 2016, a Fox 5 anchor described the trips as “a chance for Fox 5 to get out into the community and showcase some of the areas around the D.C. region. We come in, we hang out with the people ... and basically just showcase the town.”

The Leisure World communications department is coordinating with WTTG as it plans the June 29 broadcast.

“This is an exciting opportunity for Leisure World of Maryland to share with the region and the world what makes this community a wonderful place to live,” said Maureen Freeman, director of communications. “We have so much to offer, and this is a great chance to show our Leisure World energy and pride.”

Emergency Preparedness Advisory Committee

Emergency Protocol for Thunderstorms and Lightning

by David Darr

Leisure World and the surrounding area have already experienced thunderstorms and lightning this season and will likely have more as spring turns to summer.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency offers useful information about how to deal with thunderstorms and lightning. Visit (www.ready.gov) for details about preparing for thunderstorms and lightning.

Know the Terms

- Severe Thunderstorm Watch – Tells when and where severe thunderstorms are likely to occur. Listen to WTOP (103.5 FM) or other local news sources for updates.
- Severe Thunderstorm Warning – Issued when severe weather has been reported by spotters or indicated by radar. Warnings indicate imminent danger to life and property for those in the path of the storm. Listen for updates on NOAA Weather Radio or another battery-powered device.

Before a Thunderstorm and Lightning

- Have an emergency kit and a communications plan.
- Postpone outdoor activities.
- Get inside a building or hardtop automobile.
- Close window blinds, shades or curtains.
- Unplug electronic appliances and equipment.
- In a forest – Try to find a low area under a thick growth of small trees.
- In an open area – Go to a low place such as a ravine.
- On open water – Get to land and find shelter immediately.

During a Thunderstorm and Lightning

- Use a battery-charged device to listen to news sources for updates. If you do not have one, consider getting a NOAA Weather Radio—to purchase, search NOAA Weather Radio for online sources.
- Avoid contact with corded phones and devices. Cordless and wireless phones not connected to wall outlets are okay to use.
- Avoid contact with electrical equipment or plugged-in cords.
- Avoid contact with plumbing.
- Stay away from windows and doors.
- Do not lie on concrete floors and do not lean against concrete walls.
- Avoid any natural lightning rod, such as a tall, isolated tree in an open area.
- Avoid hilltops, open fields, the beach and boating.
- Take shelter in a sturdy building.
- Avoid contact with anything metal.
- If driving, try to safely exit the roadway and park. Stay in the vehicle with the emergency flashers on until the heavy rain stops.

Visit (www.fema.gov) for additional information about preparing for weather and other emergencies.

Preparing for Tornadoes: Before, During and After the Storms

by David Darr

According to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), tornado season (late spring through early summer) has arrived at Leisure World and the surrounding area.

Visit FEMA's website at (www.ready.gov/tornados) for suggestions about what to do before, during and after a tornado.

Know the Terms

- Tornado Watch – Tornadoes are possible. Remain alert for approaching storms. Watch the sky and stay tuned to NOAA Weather Radio, WTOP (103.5 FM) or other local news source.
- Tornado Warning – A tornado has been sighted or indicated by weather radar. Take shelter immediately.

Before a Tornado

- Build an emergency supply kit (www.ready.gov/build-a-kit) and make a family communications plan (www.ready.gov/make-a-plan).
- Listen to NOAA Weather Radio or other news sources. Listen to the instructions given by local emergency management officials.
- Be alert to changing weather conditions. Look for approaching storms.

Look for the following danger signs:

- Dark, often greenish sky
- Large hail
- A large, dark, low-lying cloud (particularly if rotating)
- Loud roar, similar to a freight train
- If you see approaching storms or any of the danger signs, be prepared to take shelter immediately.

During a Tornado

- Find a basement. If no basement is available, go to a small interior room on the lowest level of the building and away from corners, windows and doors.

- Do not open windows.
- If in a manufactured home or office, get out immediately and go to the lowest floor of a sturdy building or a storm shelter.

If outside with no building available, try to:

- Get into a vehicle, buckle up and drive to the nearest shelter. If the vehicle is hit by debris, pull over and park.
- Take cover in a vehicle, buckle up and cover your head with your arms, blanket, coat or cushion if possible.
- Lie in an area lower than the level of the roadway and cover your head with your arms and a blanket, coat or cushion if possible.

In all situations:

- Do not get under an overpass or bridge.
- Do not try to outrun a tornado in urban or congested areas. Instead, leave the vehicle for safer shelter.
- Watch out for flying debris.

After a Tornado

- Listen to WTOP (103.5 FM) or other news sources for updates and instructions.
- Check with family and friends by texting or using social media.
- Watch out for debris or downed power lines.
- If your home is without power, use flashlights or battery powered lanterns rather than candles to prevent accidental fires.

For More Information

Visit (www.ready.gov/) and (www.redcross.org/) for more information on preparing for many weather-related and other kinds of emergencies.

lower lot that will allow residents to return to the upper end of the lot without having to exit and reenter the parking lot via Leisure World Boulevard.

Alternate A4 site plan also includes 351 total parking spaces, 31 of which are ADA accessible.

Twenty parking spaces were lost in the revision to accommodate a shift in stormwater management areas that will prevent removal of some existing trees.

The revised site plan package is expected to be submitted to M-NCPPC for review, which would also include reviews by Montgomery County Department of Permitting Services for stormwater management concept and the Montgomery County Department of Fire and Rescue Services for emergency vehicle access.

Gate Access

The LWCC board passed a motion directing that the request for gate access software and hardware be considered in the 2019 budget process.

The type of gate access proposed would use Radio Frequency Identification technology, or RFID as it's commonly called, to augment security as vehicles enter and exit through the gates, according to the Security and Transportation Advisory Committee.

The proposed project does not suggest eliminating the gate guards, but rather makes the entire process at the gates "more efficient by not having [guards] multitask between Lifeline [calls], answering phones, watching traffic [and] watching foot traffic. This takes a lot of the distraction away," said board chair Paul Eisenhaur.

In the coming weeks, management will review preliminary budget assumptions with the Budget and Finance Advisory Committee in preparation for 2019 budget planning.

Old Fitness Center

The board approved the recommendations of the E&R Advisory Committee, Budget and Finance Advisory Committee and management to convert the current multi-purpose room in Clubhouse II to a meeting room and the old fitness center to a ping pong/card room at a cost not to exceed $47,000.

The room conversion project will result in expanded space for ping pong players – from two tables to three – and the return of a second meeting room in Clubhouse II.

Funding for the project will be drawn from the Resales Fund, a two percent fee, paid by the buyer, and charged on each resale of property in Leisure World.

Other Motions

- The board approved modifications to the Health Advisory Committee's charter. The new charter incorporates areas of interest and concern for Health Advisory Committee members that were not represented in the former charter, such as personal safety, wellness, disease prevention, management of chronic illness, security and other health-related issues.
- A motion to waive a bylaw that disqualifies residents from serving on the LWCC board of directors if they are employed by an organization that maintains a business within Leisure World failed.

The next regular meeting of the LWCC board of directors is Tuesday, June 26, at 9:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

to teach.

“That’s where I learned my main trade,” he said. “My mind was sharp and I picked up everything.”

He worked in the Army Corps of Engineers as an engineer equipment repair technician, fixing tanks and other equipment in the motor pool.

In 1957, after a 14-month stint as a civilian, including a luckless job search, Warren reenlisted in the Army and never looked back.

“I owe everything I learned to the military,” he said.

His first tour in Vietnam began in 1966. He was so slight of frame that the military police arrested him three times for impersonating a soldier.

“They never thought I was in the military and here I was their boss, and they didn’t know it,” Warren said. “They thought I was somebody’s son. I had to call my Company Commander to come down and get me out.”

Vietnam and Beyond

Warren’s Command Company, the 169th Engineer Battalion, was stationed right across the street from an ammunition dump in Vietnam.

“Charlie got into that ammunition dump and he blew it up,” Warren said. “This round came through the roof, right through my legs, through the floor and about two feet into the ground.”

Not knowing what was happening, he grabbed his rifle and got his men together, “but not a round went off,” he said. “If one had went off, it would have wiped us out.”

Warren completed a second tour of Vietnam in 1971, ultimately spending 25 months in the embattled country.

“I’m not one to complain,” he said. “I’m just blessed to be here.”

Throughout his career, he also spent tours of duty in Japan, Korea and Germany. He was honorably discharged from the Army in 1976, ranking as a chief warrant officer two (CW2).

Leisure Life

A Cleveland, Ohio, native, Nelson arrived at Leisure World in 2011 with his wife of 16 years, Edith. Between them, they’ve shared nine children and multiple grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

At 80 years of age, he cheekily refers to himself as the man with a “bionic heart,” having recently completed surgery in May to change the battery in his fourth pacemaker.

On July 4, he will lead participants down the parade route in a convertible at 9:30 a.m. when the motorcade departs from the Administration Building parking lot.

Summer's Burden: Protecting the Community from Mosquito and Tick-Borne Illnesses

by Paul McCauley
and Sandra McLeskey

After a long, cold winter, residents can enjoy the warm sunshine, longer daylight hours and increased time spent outdoors.

And soon the community will witness the arrival of goslings and fawns, as geese and deer deliver their next generation.

Not as visible to residents is the arrival of a new generation of ticks and mosquitoes, and the possibility that some residents will contract viral and/or bacterial diseases carried by these uninvited neighbors.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recently published warnings about the risks of contracting potentially life-threatening diseases carried by ticks and mosquitoes. Illnesses such as Zika virus, West Nile virus and Lyme disease have been identified in various parts of the country.

While the incidence of these diseases in Maryland is not among the highest in the nation, the rate of occurrence is increasing.

Illnesses from mosquito, tick and flea bites have tripled in the U.S., with more than 640,000 cases reported between 2004-2016, according to a May 2018 press release from the CDC.

Screening for Mosquitoes

The Maryland Department of Agriculture conducts periodic inspections, approximately 6-8 times per year, to determine if any mosquito breeding or potential breeding is happening in Leisure World.

Department personnel target certain ponds, streambeds and low-lying areas susceptible to standing water, and treat breeding spots with a mosquito larvicide, which is an insecticide specifically targeted against the larval life stage of an insect, says S. Keyes from the College Park Office of Mosquito Control for the Department of Agriculture.

Montgomery County does not employ aerial spraying for mosquito-borne diseases, and the County does not trap mosquitoes to check for infection, so the onus is on all homeowners and residents to protect their communities.

Surveying the Community

One way residents can help protect the community from mosquitos is by removing any standing water sources.

Any items stored outside that retain water, such as corrugated downspout extensions, can serve as an effective nursery for the next generation of mosquitoes.

A quick walk through several mutuals by members of the Health Advisory Committee revealed numerous white, green and black corrugated downspout extensions attached by homeowners. None of the downspout extensions found have screening over the lower end, allowing mosquitoes easy entry to lay their eggs.

Many have dips in the middle, allowing water to pool. Even without dips, the corrugations trap small amounts of water that can remain indefinitely.

A better alternative is adding another segment of aluminum downspout piping to carry rainwater away from the foundation.

Removing Breeding Outlets

Mosquitos breed in as little as a quarter inch of water, and any water remaining in place for as little as five to seven days allows enough time for larvae to develop and mature into mosquitoes.

The Maryland Department of Agriculture recommends Marylanders adopt the following practices to help rid their communities of mosquito breeding spots:

- Throw out or frequently empty and scrub out items that hold water such as tires, buckets, planters, toys, pools, birdbaths and lawn care equipment.
- Clean out roof gutters and downspouts. Ensure tarps and swimming pool covers are positioned so water drains off.
- Don't leave garbage can lids lying upside down. Be sure water does not collect in the bottom of garbage cans. Dispose of all empty beverage containers, plastic wrappers, etc.

- Pump out bilges in boats. Turn canoes and small boats upside down for storage.
- Keep mosquitoes out of the home by using air conditioning if possible. Make sure windows and doors have screens on them and be sure that screens do not have holes.
- If ditches do not flow and contain stagnant water for one week or longer, they can produce large numbers of mosquitoes. Report such conditions to the Maryland Department of Agriculture's Mosquito Control Administration at (410-841-5870). Do not attempt to clear these ditches because they may be protected by wetland regulations.

Mosquitoes and Other Animals

At this time, animals other than mosquitoes do not appear to be involved in the spread of Zika virus, and there is no evidence that the virus is spread to people from contact with animals other than mosquitos.

West Nile virus also is not transmitted directly to people from infected animals. However, pets and other animals can become infected with West Nile virus if bitten by mosquitos carrying the disease.

Infected animals may have a fever, weakness, incoordination, muscle spasms and signs of a neurological disease, such as change in temperament or seizures. If you suspect that your pet has been infected with West Nile virus, contact your veterinarian.

If you find a wild bird or animal that seems infected, use caution. Sick or injured wild animals may bite and scratch, and may pose a risk to humans, according to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

Contact Wildlife Services toll-free at (1-877-463-6497) between 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.,

Monday-Friday (except state holidays), before attempting to handle an animal.

Lyme Disease

Although West Nile and Zika viruses have the potential to be very serious, Lyme disease is a much more common problem in Maryland and the U.S.

Lyme disease is a bacterial disease spread by infected ticks.

These ticks become infected with Lyme disease by biting an infected deer or chipmunk. The ticks that carry Lyme disease are very small and hard to spot, so a person may not be aware that they have had a tick bite.

Although Lyme disease can be treated with antibiotics, the symptoms are rather nonspecific, and the diagnosis is often delayed.

Decreasing the Risk

Elderly people and people whose immune systems are weakened by medical conditions or drugs are at greater risk of becoming seriously ill if they contract one of these mosquito or tick-borne diseases.

Individuals can decrease their risk of contracting mosquito or tick-borne diseases by avoiding areas where mosquitoes and ticks live and breed, such as densely wooded areas frequented by deer and areas with standing water, particularly in the evening when mosquitoes are active.

Wearing long-sleeve shirts and long pants, even in warm weather, protects against both ticks and mosquitoes. Using an EPA-approved insect repellent containing DEET, Picaridin or oil of lemon eucalyptus can also be helpful.

Inspecting the skin's surface for the presence of ticks after a time in any outdoor wooded area can help identify ticks and remove them before a potential disease is transmitted.

Leisure World is a community of mutuals that can help safeguard the health of all residents. For more information about West Nile virus, Zika virus and mosquitoes, visit (www.montgomerycountymd.gov/mosquito).

GOOD TO KNOW: RECYCLE YOUR E-WASTE

by Leisure World News

The Global E-Waste Monitor 2017 reports that the U.S. produced 6.3 million metric tons of e-waste, also known as electrical and electronic “trash,” in 2016, second only to China’s 7.2 million metric tons.

And only a fragment of this material is recycled. The rest ends up in landfills where its toxic components can contaminate the air, soil, water and the food we eat.

Yet here in Leisure World, says Brad Kline, supervisor of Leisure World’s Sanitation Department, e-waste has been collected and recycled for more than eight years.

A community e-waste drop-off is located across from the Woodshop entrance off of Gleneagles Drive. Items to be recycled can be placed on a pallet that is next to the Clubhouse I dumpster enclosure. As needed, the Sanitation staff picks up the e-waste and takes it to a recycling center.

E-waste accepted at the drop-off includes, but is not limited to, radios, stereos, televisions, VCRs, computer CPUs, monitors, printers, toner cartridges, telephones, cell phones, copiers, fax machines, cables and chargers and small appliances, such as toasters, toaster ovens and microwaves.

Residents are reminded that before recycling a computer CPU, the hard drive should be removed and destroyed or wiped clean. Likewise, for a cell phone, the SIM or SD card should be removed, and the memory wiped.

GOOD TO KNOW: CABLE TV SERVICE AT LEISURE WORLD

by Leisure World News

Comcast XFINITY provides bulk TV service – for which every homeowner pays $30 monthly as part of the Trust fee. The $30 monthly fee provides residents with:

- 140 channels
- two digital cable boxes
- two digital transport adapters

Optional services, such as enhanced TV, internet access and internet-enabled phone service, are also available for purchase at an additional fee for which residents pay Comcast directly.

To set up, change or upgrade service, call customer service at (1-855-638-2855) or visit (xfinity.com). To find a local XFINITY store or service center, visit (xfinity.com/storelocator).

Residents who wish to set up or verify their account must provide their account number and PIN number (current customers only), address and phone number, driver’s license number and Social Security number.

Residents who wish to install XFINITY can either choose a self-install kit or professional installation. The self-install kit includes equipment that can either be mailed or picked up. To schedule a professional installation, call (1-855-638-2855).

For additional information, including Leisure World’s XFINITY TV service agreement and a local TV channel lineup, visit (residents.lwmc.com) and click on Comcast in the Services and Amenities dropdown menu.

Wanted: Volunteers to Deliver the Leisure World News

by Leisure World News

Twice a month, the Leisure World News is delivered throughout the community by some of your neighbors and friends. Did you know that these individuals are volunteers?

This corps of volunteers is essential to the community, delivering papers right to your door or building. When asked why they do it, responses range from: I like to get the exercise and fresh air, to I meet my neighbors and make new friends, or I want to be involved in my community.

Would you like to be part of this elite corps? You could be. Right now, Montgomery Mutual needs a volunteer to deliver the Leisure World News on Barclay Court. You do not have to live on this court, or even in Montgomery Mutual. You just need the desire to provide this service to your neighbors. The commitment in time is small, only an hour or so of your weekend twice a month.

If you think this is the volunteer opportunity for you, contact the Leisure World News at (301-598-1310) or (kbrooks@lwmc.com) for more details.

Voting Information

Below are some important dates that all voters in Leisure World should know, concerning the upcoming primary election:

1. First, you should know that only those who have registered with the Montgomery County Board of Elections will be permitted to vote in this year's election. You should call the Board of Elections to be certain that you are registered. Their number is (240-777-VOTE).

Even if you are sure you are registered, it's still a good idea to call to be absolutely sure.

2. Only those who are registered with the Board of Elections in the Democratic Party can vote in the Democratic primary. Only those who are registered Republicans can vote in the Republican primary.

If you registered as an unaffiliated voter (the 2nd highest number of voters), you will have very few elections in which you will be permitted to vote. You will not be allowed to vote in the primary election (which is often the only important election) for U.S. Senator, Maryland Governor, State Senator, State Delegates, County Executive, County Council Members, and other elections. Even if you think of yourself as unaffiliated, it's a good idea to register as a Democrat or Republican.

3. Fortunately, you can easily change your party affiliation now, by calling the Board of Elections at (240-777-VOTE), and they will mail you a form. The deadline to register to vote or change party affiliation for the primary election is Tuesday, June 5, at 9 p.m.

4. If you want to vote by mail (formerly called absentee voting – and you don't have to give any excuse; -- just ask for an absentee ballot) you can obtain a form to do so from the Board of Elections at the phone number listed above. You can also obtain it online, but it's better to be sure by calling the Board of Elections. The deadlines to return absentee ballots (voting by mail) are below.

5. Early voting begins on Thursday, June 14, from 10 a.m.-8 p.m., and continues until Thursday, June 21, same times each day. The closest early voting site to Leisure World is the Mid-County Recreation Center at (2004 Queensguard Rd., Silver Spring, MD 20906). There is usually no line to wait in to vote in early voting, and it's located about a 10-minute drive from Leisure World.

6. Tuesday, June 19, is the deadline for a registered voter to request an absentee ballot to be sent to you by mail or fax—5 p.m. if you request by mail; 11:59 p.m. if you request by fax. If you want to request an absentee ballot to be sent to you by email, the deadline is Friday, June 22.

If you have an absentee ballot, you must postmark it by Tuesday, June 26, and it must be received at the Board of Elections by Friday, July 6, at 10 a.m. It's much safer to mail it in at least a week before primary Election Day.

7. Tuesday, June 26, is primary Election Day. The times are different from early voting. You can vote at your assigned precinct from 7 a.m.-8 p.m.

8. Some people have spread the false information that LW voters can vote at any of the three precincts in Leisure World. This is inaccurate. You must vote at your assigned precinct.

You can call the Board of Elections to be sure which is your assigned precinct. It might not be the one closest to where you live in Leisure World.

I hope this information is helpful to voters in Leisure

World. However, it is subject to change. Please call the Board of Elections to confirm any questionable items.

Save the Administration Building

What do Pisa and Washington, D.C. and Alaska and Kuwait have in common?

Pisa's leaning tower and Washington's Monument were both damaged, by a construction mishap in the former and by an earthquake in the latter.

Connection? Significance? Neither was considered for razing because both are respected, revered and restored. Not so for Leisure World's Administration Building.

Both Alaskans and Kuwaitis receive an annual allotment of money from their governments. If Leisure World has enough money that a building not as ancient as those mentioned here can be razed without legitimate reason, obviously there is money to burn. Let us not burn it.

Return unused funds to our 29 mutuals for repairs and renovations, and refund any remainder to all residents living here for five years or more (not absentee landlords). The monies in both cases can be distributed biennially.

Department (PPD) have gone out of their way to deal with issues in my home. I am a firm believer that if someone does something particularly well, it is appropriate to write their supervisors to recognize quality work.

Since I try to be a 21st century person, I prefer to communicate via email, and I find that I am more likely to send email than snail mail – no hassle of printing, envelopes, postage, etc.

However, when I checked the resident website, (residents.lwmc.com), I couldn't find contact information for PPD staff, or anyone else in Leisure World's departments. While there is a limited directory of administrative offices, the only information given is phone numbers.

I did manage to figure out whom to contact in PPD, only because I serve on a committee with a senior manager and so have his email, and he will forward my compliment.

I would think that with updated web pages, there would be a list of Leisure World departments with full contact information for all administrators, directors and department heads, beginning with general manager Kevin Flannery.

Perhaps there is concern that residents would take advantage of this information and complain, but I think many would do as I did and compliment staff excellence.

Indeed, one of the hallmarks of Leisure World is lack of communication between resident leaders and administrative leaders. Perhaps putting emails on secure residents' webpages would enhance communication with positive and negative feedback.

I would also go further and suggest that residents' webpages list members of various committees with contact information.

The bottom line is that in 2018, when probably over half of all current (and 100 percent of future) residents of Leisure World communicate primarily by email, our new web pages provide us with only mid-20th century means of contact.

– Arthur N. Popper

Enhancing Activities for Residents

As we herald the arrival of spring, most want to venture outside to enjoy the warmth and beauty of the season.

In view of this, the following is a list of how our committees can make this an opportunity:

Plan and develop a number of park-like groves for those who like to barbecue or picnic. Each grove would have picnic tables and benches, stately gazebo, built-in grills, stocked fishpond and on-the-ground games, like checkers. Outlets for electric hookups and fountains for water would be necessary, as would parking and restrooms.

Provide once weekly outdoor serenades, live or recorded. Residents could use the benches already installed or bring their own seating.

Ask residents that garden to contribute their skills by planting borders and flowers. As often as is feasible, hold competitions or contests for the gardeners and other participants.

Decorate the trees around the groves with sparkling white lights to romanticize a monthly "dancing under the stars" event.

Focus on the skills, talents and artistry of residents by hosting a comedy night, a play, karaoke, a poetry reading, a "show and tell" and other presentations from the various clubs and organizations.

Such efforts as those previously mentioned will undoubtedly require staffing/volunteers, equipment, supplies, a cleanup crew and advertising, plus more ideas submitted by residents to advisory committees. I almost forgot, this project will require funding.

If we don't demolish the present Administration Building, but simply repurpose it to meet our needs, we will save a considerable amount of money. These monies could be used to construct and maintain our outdoor activities, plus a grove(s) could be rented to outside agencies/groups to raise further funding.

June 3: America's First Ladies: Influence and Image – Part II

by Jonas Weiss

“First Ladies Man” Andrew Och returns to complete his talk about America’s First Ladies and their influence and image, this time from 1901-2018, on Sunday, June 3.

Och is a historian, author and speaker who traveled across America to document the lives of every U.S. First Lady. The C-Span series, “First Ladies: Influence and Image,” aired to great acclaim and helped reveal the untold story behind the ladies of the White House.

Och says it is important to be aware of the First Ladies that did things or put policies into place that are still relevant today. He brings a fresh look to an often-overlooked subject in American history.

He is the author of “Unusual for Their Time: On the Road with America’s First Ladies.”

An award-winning television and multi-media producer, Och has traveled the world with his pen, paper and camera.

A storyteller from a young age, he enjoys the art of communication and will go anywhere in the world for more knowledge, greater understanding and a good story.

June 3: Spring Piano Recital

Twenty students from the Levine Music studio of Dr. Karen Bartman perform in recital on Sunday, June 3, at 2:30 p.m. in The Inter-Faith Chapel.

Many of the students have studied piano from ages four or five and have recently performed for the Levine

Music annual spring jury exams. The Suzuki Method promotes the philosophy that every child can learn music, and that music is a vehicle to help make each child a beautiful person.

The students have intense parental support in lessons and practice at the beginning stages of their study.

A reception hosted by the children’s parents follows in the Chapel’s fellowship hall.

All residents are invited to attend this free concert and to enjoy in the fellowship and refreshments afterward.

June 15: An Evening with the Riccardis

Get ready for an evening of sidesplitting fun on Friday, June 15, at 7 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium when Sandy and Richard Riccardi return.

Combining comedy cabaret with parody, this husband and wife team of professional musicians has over 35 million views on social media and is performing their all-comedy show, “Tastefully Raunchy” for Leisure World. It describes their cracked and bush-whacked road to happiness.

This original cabaret act, with Sandy singing as Richard plays piano, will have you laughing out loud.

They have been described as a blend of Tom Lehrer, Victor Borge, Madeleine Kahn and PDQ Bach. Or, if you will, Captain and Tenille, Nichols and May and George Burns and Gracie Allen. Cabaret Scenes Magazine calls it “A Musical Saturday Night Live...One helluva rib-tickling night out!”

Richard has played for such megastars as Tom Jones, Joel Gray, Martha Raye, Diahann Carroll and Wesla Whitfield. He was the associate conductor for the third national Broadway tour of “Annie” and has played with the San Francisco Symphony, the San Francisco Opera and the San Francisco Ballet.

As well, he records at Skywalker Ranch for movies and videos, and may even be the guy playing the piano for your cellphone ringtone.

Sandy spent 11 years performing in musical theater and light opera with New York Gilbert and Sullivan Players, the Westchester Broadway Theater and others. She received a master’s of music degree from the Manhattan School of Music.

Sponsored by the E&R Department, tickets are $12 per person and are on sale in both clubhouse E&R offices. Please bring you Leisure World ID.

June 30: Contemporary Classical Pianist Eunbi Kim Performs Solo Works from Album

Pianist Eunbi Kim returns to Leisure World on Saturday, June 30, to present a concert at 7 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium.

Sponsored by the E&R Department, tickets for the concert are $6 and are on sale in both clubhouse E&R offices. Please bring your Leisure World ID.

Kim performs solo works from her album, “A House of Many Rooms: New Concert Music by Fred Hersch” (Albany Records).

The CD is available for purchase after the performance for $20, payable by cash or credit card.

Musical Career

Released in 2017, “A House of Many Rooms” draws together rarely heard classical gems by the 12-time Grammy nominee and renowned jazz artist, Fred Hersch, which take inspiration from Tchaikovsky to tango.

In Kim’s deft hands, each composition by the exploratory artist Hersch, (who co-produced the album with Ryan Streber) evokes a distinct sound, atmosphere or color waiting to be uncovered and interpreted by the listener.

Kim plays this rich and virtuosic music vividly and fervently, exploring Hersch’s flip-side, as one would any newly discovered treasure trove from a living master.

A New York City-based pianist, Kim focuses on contemporary classical music.

She is known for her genre-defying, often interdisciplinary recitals (“Murakami Music,” “re: last night”), which have been presented in prestigious venues in New York (Symphony Space, 92nd Street Y, Le Poisson Rouge, Columbia University, The Cell Theatre) and across the U.S. (Kennedy Center, Asia Society Texas Center, PianoForte Foundation, Georgetown University, among many others).

Kim graduated with her master’s degree at Manhattan School of Music, where she also held a fellowship at The Center for Music Entrepreneurship.

He appears often in recital at the Brazilian American Institute and has appeared at the Kennedy Center, Library of Congress and on many performing arts series, as well as performed at the White House for President Barack Obama.

His dissertation, "The Guitar in the Brazilian Choro," was published by Lambert Academic Publishing in 2014.

As well, he continues as the director of education programs for the Afro-Latin Jazz Alliance based in New York City.

A long-time practitioner of yoga and surfing, Miller created the Balanced Guitar retreat to enable guitar students to learn a holistic lifestyle that will ensure many years of healthy and creative guitar playing.

The retreat meets in a different locale each year; the 2019 retreat is in January in Santa Catalina, Panama.

■ Low Vision Support Group

June 13: Optician Discusses Your Eyes and the Sun

by Larry Cohen

At the Group's next meeting on Wednesday, June 13, Mark Miller, a board-certified optician and manager of Leisure World Opticians, located in Leisure World Plaza, discusses sun damage to eyes and the importance of sunglasses. The meeting is at 1 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

According to the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO) only about half of the people who buy sunglasses say they check the ultraviolet (UV) rating before buying.

Yet, according to AAO, wearing the right sunglasses offers excellent protection against UV rays that can cause short and long-term eye damage.

Tinted glasses in different colors help in various lighting and with various eye conditions.

Residents who have difficulty with depth perception, contrast or night blindness could especially benefit from attending the meeting, but everyone, no matter his or her eyes' condition, could potentially benefit from this event.

Miller has studied and worked in the field of low vision for over 20 years.

General Information

Meetings of the Low Vision Support Group are on the second Wednesday of every month at 1 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

Meetings feature speakers who discuss common issues among the low vision community, such as service providers, transportation, technology and safety needs.

The Group hopes to see a lot of residents and members at the June 13 meeting. For questions, call Larry Cohen at (908-770-9111).

June 21: Therapist Speaks on Clinical Depression

by Sandra McLeskey

Jim Gilmore, supervisory therapist at the Montgomery County Crisis Center, speaks about clinical depression on Thursday, June 21, at 10:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

WebMD defines clinical depression, also known as "major depression," as "a depressed mood most of the day, particularly in the morning, and a loss of interest in normal activities and relationships."

Other symptoms that might be present include fatigue or loss of energy, feelings of worthlessness or guilt, impaired concentration or indecisiveness, insomnia or hypersomnia (excessive sleeping), markedly diminished interest or pleasure in almost all activities, restlessness or feeling slowed down, recurring thoughts of death or suicide and significant weight loss or gain.

It is frequently triggered by a major life event such as a death, move or extreme change in living circumstances.

More women than men suffer from clinical depression, although it may frequently go undiagnosed in either sex.

Most of the time, it can be successfully treated by psychotherapy and medication, although hospitalization is sometimes necessary.

Gilmore will explain the symptoms and course of clinical depression and offer hope for those who suffer from it.

Residents interested in attending this free presentation are asked sign up by visiting the Clubhouse I E&R office or by calling (301-598-1300).

□ Health Advisory Committee

June 29: 'Getting Sensible About Sleep'

by George Stricker

The Health Advisory Committee presents a lecture entitled "Getting Sensible About Sleep" on Friday, June 29, at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

The lecture is presented by Dr. Sarah Kagan, the Lucy Walker honorary term professor of gerontological nursing at the University of Pennsylvania and gerontological clinical nurse specialist in the Living Well Program at the Joan Karnell Cancer Center – Pennsylvania Hospital.

Sleep is the most frequently requested topic from the Committee's lecture audiences. Discussions about sleep seem ever present, but quality sleep may still elude many people as they age.

Come learn about sleep and discuss ways to improve the quality of your nightly rest.

The talk includes tips for optimizing sleep and reducing common challenges to falling and staying asleep.

Kagan aims to engage the audience and provoke critical contemplation as she presents on a variety of topics to different audiences around the world. In visiting Leisure World, she anticipates a lively discussion about "Getting Sensible About Sleep."

A MacArthur Fellow, Kagan presented lectures each of the two last years to capacity audiences at Leisure World, and her return is much anticipated.

The presentation is free, but tickets are required and available beginning on Tuesday, June 5, at 8:30 a.m. in the Clubhouse I E&R office.

The Committee looks forward to a large crowd for this stimulating offering.

FISH Encourages Borrowers to Return Equipment

by Beth Leanza

FISH is a volunteer, service organization that lends assistive equipment such as walkers and wheelchairs to residents and employees of Leisure World.

In practice, FISH doesn't pursue loans. If a person continues to need an item, FISH is happy to let them keep using it.

However, borrowers who have stored away an item, such as a commode, walker, or even a wheelchair, that they are no longer using are encouraged to return it to the FISH office. Also, residents who are using an item are asked to remind family that it is on loan from FISH.

Each FISH item has a sticker somewhere on it that reads, "Property of FISH" and also includes an inventory number.

General Information

FISH is an acronym that stands for "Friends in Sickness and Health." The FISH office is in Clubhouse II, and volunteers are available to assist residents Monday to Friday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. The phone number is (301-598-1345).

If no one is in the FISH office, the call transfers to the E&R office. The E&R staff can assist residents after hours to lend out an item or accept a return or donation.

If calling FISH to find a lost item, let the E&R staff member know.

Volunteering

Residents interested in volunteering for FISH should contact Beth Leanza at (301-598-4569).

It is suggested that new volunteers first spend a session at FISH with a trainer. Current volunteers are encouraged to read and re-read instructions posted on the desk, or on the bulletin board near the desk, as well as the manual.

by York Van Nixon III

Residents were more than impressed with the four recipients of the 2018 AIM Scholarship; they were in awe of their talents.

An audience of over 100 filled the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom on May 20 to witness the awarding of the 2018 AIM Scholarship. Four high school seniors planning to major in fine arts shared in the $8,000 endowment.

Each student made a 10-minute presentation of his or her work using the onsite drop-down screen. Some of the presentations were not only emblematic of their creative gifts, but many also displayed an unexpected ability to evoke emotion from residents who could have been inured to challenges of the human journey.

The AIM Scholarship awards ceremony will be an annual event. AIM has set a goal of $50,000 for 2019. A parallel 501(c)(3) foundation will assist in helping AIM support creative minds shaping the future.

June 7: Come Read Your Poetry and Prose

by Douglas Kiessling

The Writers of Leisure World meet on the first and third Thursday of each month. The next meeting is on Thursday, June 7, at 11 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

The Group's writers come from all walks of life, which results in a variety of writing styles. Poetry and prose are used frequently.

The Group welcomes all who have an interest in attending its meetings.

The Group usually has about a dozen writers who read their work aloud. Each meeting takes about an hour, then several members go to lunch at the Terrace Room in Clubhouse I.

At the last meeting on May 17, Mary Lalley spoke about "Mother's Day" and "Important Words," Lee

Hardy commented on "Timeliness" and Susie Hooper Bilstein read from her book, "Conclusion Contusion."

The Group hopes that more residents will come to read their work. Many members get satisfaction from sharing their work on a regular basis.

The Group likes to hear all levels of work, so bring your poetry and paragraphs to the June 7 meeting.

The Club just completed the addition of a major new industrial area near the town of St. George on its huge HO layout, which has been renamed Kensington with the addition of a scale model station that is a precise reproduction in miniature of the actual station just down the road from Leisure World.

The layout's new addition includes a grain processing facility, a printing plant and several smaller industrial buildings, and a completely redesigned town replete with buildings, pedestrians and auto traffic.

It provides additional opportunities to mimic the operation of real railroads, complete with manifests and schedules, routing traffic from industrial suppliers to their customers and constructing and breaking down long haul trains as required.

Class reunions, family reunions, beach trips and graduation ceremonies – Rossmoor Art Guild (RAG) members are a busy bunch and still find time to take brush in hand.

The month of June promises to be a lively time, too. A new exhibit is expected to be in place in Clubhouse I by the first of the month.

New Members Learn to Slip Cast

Ceramic items hand painted by Khue Nguyen. Photo by Janice Handley

by Reese Barnett

The Ceramics Club has been very busy this month welcoming many new members. Last month's newcomers are moving along at a steady pace and producing a lot of lovely work.

Using the slip casting method, members are able to create shapes not easily made on a wheel.

Members pour liquid clay into molds, wait for the clay to thicken on the inside walls, remove what is now called greenware, clean off the mold lines from the greenware, fire the piece, paint it and then fire it again.

The molds used by the Club are made of plaster of Paris, which came by its name with the discovery of gypsum deposits at Montmartre in Paris during the Middle Ages.

However, it was not until the mid-1700s that it was first commercially mined, and this paved the way for the material, plaster, that was to be used in the production of ceramics.

The first use of plaster in the British pottery industry is generally attributed to Ralph Daniel of Cobridge, Stoke-on-Trent around 1745.

Artist of the Month

The Club's featured artist of the month, Khue Nguyen, learned the slip casting method in the ceramic studio only a few years ago and has since turned her ceramic pieces into true works of art.

She joined the ceramic studio in 2009 with no experience in ceramics or painting. She works in the studio almost every day, and has produced some of the most remarkable pieces.

The Club heartily recommends that residents visit the display cabinet in Clubhouse II where her work can be viewed during the month of June.

Nguyen not only contributes many of her lovely pieces to the ceramic studio, but also to her local church, where the pieces are used in religious ceremonies.

Ceramics Shop

The lovely ceramic pieces created in the studio are, for the most part, hand painted, with many of the designs being original and one of a kind. Club members take care to price them affordably, and profits are donated to a charity that is decided at the end of each year.

It's a win-win situation, so visit the shop and see what it has to offer. It is well worth the effort and time it takes to complete each ceramic piece.

General Information

The Ceramics Club's $10 membership fee includes instruction on how to make your own ceramic pieces. We welcome new members, so drop by the studio in Clubhouse II.

Residents can visit the Club online at (<http://sites.google.com/site/cccofleisureworld/>). The Club hopes to see everyone soon.

Ballroom Dance Etiquette, Part 3

by Joyce Hendrix

Like other types of dancing, ballroom dancing has rules of etiquette that dancers are expected to follow. Rule seven states that “when dancing with someone less proficient than yourself, it’s generally expected that you’ll be dancing at their level of experience, not yours.

There’s no need to be shy about dancing with someone who’s more experienced than you. It will do more than you can imagine to boost your confidence,” according to the ballroom dancing website, (dance-pi-zazz.com).

According to the site’s rule number eight, “dance invitations are rarely rejected. It’s considered polite to dance with whoever asks.

Of course, it’s reasonable to expect that you might ask for a delay if you’ve just come off the floor from a fast-paced swing or Latin dance and need some time to catch your breath.”

Rule nine says dancers often applaud when the music stops, even when there’s no live band. They applaud their partners and each other.

When the lady has been returned to her seat, it’s appropriate for both to thank each other for the dance.

Rule 10 says be considerate – Dancers should remember that they’ll be in close contact with other people, and so are encouraged to practice good hygiene.

Next Dance

On Saturday, June 23, dancers are encouraged to grab their dancing shoes and come dance to the music of Mixed Company.

For more details, see the Events and Entertainment section of this publication.

June 13: 'The Story of Diamond Cutting'

by Chuck Mason

The Gem, Lapidary and Mineral Society of Leisure World's upcoming meeting features a program by gemologist Timothy Morgan entitled "The Story of Diamond Cutting."

The meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, June 13, at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II, and is open to residents and their guests.

Early gem cutting moved from India to Europe where the diamond cut known as the European cut was developed. Innovation moved to America under Henry B. Morse who, in about 1860, established a diamond cutting business in Boston, Massachusetts.

Morse, taught by Dutch diamond cutters employed in his business, subsequently developed the American cut, more generally known as the brilliant cut, which to this day is widely regarded as the ideal for diamonds.

Morgan presents his program from the background of both a gemologist and historian. He is a member of the Gemological Institute of America, and taught history for 35 years at Christopher Newport University in Newport

News, Virginia. He earned his doctorate from the College of William and Mary.

The Society's lapidary shop, located in Clubhouse II, will be open for visitors after the meeting. The shop is well fitted with equipment for making cabochons. Residents who choose to become a Society member and take training have the option of producing some beautiful

"cabs" on their own, right here in Leisure World.

For information about the shop, contact shop steward Mark Parker at (240-723-5860).

For information about the Society's meetings and other activities, contact president Frank Roddy at (301-598-3698).

Gardeners Learn About Their Bees

Several plants and flowers surround a small bench at one of the garden plots, making it a cozy nook. Photo by Leisure World News

by Cindy Hensen

Meetings of the Garden Plot Group are the second Tuesday of the month at 9:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I. The next meeting is Tuesday, June 12.

At the last meeting, Lee Vandenberg, beekeeper at the garden plots, reported on the bees. Vandenberg is president of the Montgomery County Beekeeper's Association, which has over 200 members and is getting ready to open another chapter.

He put the beehives behind Shed 5 not only for protection, but also for the full sun, which the bees love. The bees will not attack anyone, but they are protective of the hive. One bee lives around 60 days and collects one teaspoon of honey in its lifetime.

The Queen Bee is slightly different in looks, lives about five years and lays 1,500 eggs a day. The Group has a new Queen in one hive this year. Vandenberg will collect the honey in June to late July, but must leave a certain amount, as that is what the bees live on during the winter months.

He told the Group that the gardens' cucumbers and squash are great pollinators and should do really well this year. His goal is to have another hive on the opposite side of the garden.

Vandenberg started learning about bees in 2011 beginning with a beekeeping course. He is a member of the Seed Saver's Club, which uses only seeds to garden with, and teaches at Brookside Nature Center.

Gatherings

The Group had a potluck cookout on May 18. The Group's potlucks and other get-togethers begin in April and end in October, weather permitting.

All gardeners are welcome and asked to bring what they can. They are a great time to meet and exchange gardening ideas and tips.

At the Garden

The garden water is turned on and the water stations are filled with ice-cold water for the gardeners. The Group's board is always thinking of ways to make gardening easier. The Group has new hoses, wheelbarrows and some new tools.

The garden is so busy, it's like a giant sale is happening. It's wonderful to see so many people enjoying the sun, watching plants grow and enjoying the fruits of their labor.

Have fun, gardeners.

What We're Reading: Recommendations for Your Summer Reading List

by Verna Denny

Summer is almost here, which means it's time to curl up with a book by the pool, on the lanai or whilst sitting on a balcony or porch.

The Book Club Network has compiled a master list of all the books read by the 10 Book Club Network clubs in 2017 – over 100 books in total – covering a variety of topics and genres. For a copy of this list, send an email to (verhd@msn.com).

To get started, here are six books identified by members as their book club favorites:

- “The Boys in The Boat: Nine Americans and Their Epic Quest for Gold at the 1936 Berlin Olympics” by Daniel James Brown: A riveting, inspirational story of nine boys who rowed together for the University of Washington’s eight-oar varsity crew and won Gold at the 1936 Berlin Olympics, upstaging Adolph Hitler.
- “A Gentleman in Moscow” by Amor Towles: A novel that spans Soviet history from 1922-1954. The “gentleman” is put under house arrest inside the Metropol Hotel in Moscow for a revolutionary poem he’s written. The story tells how he masters his circumstances.
- “The Glass Castle” by Jeannette Walls: A gripping memoir about the author’s troublesome childhood growing up in a poverty-stricken, dysfunctional family.
- “Our Souls at Night” by Kent Haruf: The main character,

Addie, propositions her neighbor – “I think I could sleep again if there were someone else in bed with me. Someone nice.” This is a different kind of love story about two older people determined to take a chance at happiness despite societal expectations and norms.

- “The Rent Collector” by Camron Wright: Sang Ly, Ki Lim and their critically ill son live at the largest dump in Cambodia. They live a hard life surviving by scavenging for recyclables. But when Sang Ly learns how to read, the whole world of literature opens up for her, changing the trajectory of their lives.

- “The Warmth of Other Suns” by Isabel Wilkerson: A beautifully written and well-researched chronicle of the migration of African-Americans who fled the South, for the North and West, in search of a better life.

NA'AMAT Honors Woman of the Year and Others at Donor Luncheon

by Carole Mund

The end of the year donor luncheon at Norbeck Country Club was a delightful afternoon of good food and entertainment. Many thanks to Theda Rosenblum for making it all possible.

At the luncheon, NA'AMAT RBZ honored Harriet Chaikin as "Woman of the Year."

In her role as vice president of fundraising, Chaikin oversaw many events, such as the annual fashion show and the spiritual adoption luncheon, which raised funds to support the mission of the organization.

The Washington Council of NA'AMAT honored Pamela Relkin for her many years of service.

What is NA'AMAT?

NA'AMAT is an international movement with over 300,000 members in 10 countries.

NA'AMAT members are a network of inspirational women dedicated to social justice and equality. Members raise money to fund crucial support services and educational programs for women, children and families in Israel.

In the U.S., NA'AMAT advocates for legislation and participates in coalitions for civil rights and child welfare. Membership in NA'AMAT and supporting its many fundraising activities guarantees the continuation of these vital services and programs.

raising activities. However, the work and plans continue.

Get involved in the planning of next year's events. By doing so, volunteers have the opportunity to meet new friends and connect with an organization that makes a difference in the lives of so many.

NA'AMAT is a charitable organization dedicated to help NA'AMAT Israel provide educational daycare, vocational training and legal aid for women, services and assistance for new immigrants and centers for the prevention and treatment of domestic violence. It was formally known as Pioneer Women.

Attend the Club's next executive board meeting on Tuesday, June 19, at 10:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I to become more active and make a difference.

Tribute Cards

Tribute cards are an excellent way to support and maintain the essential programs NA'AMAT provides as well as to attain donor credit.

NA'AMAT has cards to honor all occasions, from congratulations for a special event to memorial cards.

Each card is $3.50 if purchased and sent by you, or $4.50 if sent by Linda Schoolnick, tribute chairperson. Full donor credit is given for each card.

For questions, contact Linda at (301-681-1076).

■ League of Women Voters

There's No Voter Like an Informed Voter

Copies of the League's voters' guide are available in the Clubhouse I E&R office. Photo by Leisure World News

by Maxine Lewack

Confounded by the number of candidates running in the Tuesday, June 26, primary? Overwhelmed by the amount of mailed literature, robocalls and TV ads?

It's easy to make sense of it all for those who take advantage of the League of Women Voters' non-partisan voter education resources.

Best known is the printed voters' guide, now available in all of the high-rise buildings, both clubhouses and the Administration Building. Copies can be found at local libraries and some senior and recreation centers. The guide is also available online at (www.411.org).

(www.411.org) also has answers to questions about early voting sites, polling locations and hours and the process to obtain an absentee ballot.

The Montgomery County League office also maintains a "hotline," available at (301-984-9585), where potential voters can speak to a live person who can answer their questions about voting.

Rossmoor Discussion Group

The Rossmoor Discussion Group enjoyed a lively season of discussions, which included such topics as early childhood education in Montgomery County Public Schools, economic development in Montgomery County, renters and rental housing, gun control and food security, among others.

The Group toured the Montgomery County Traffic Control Center to see the procedures and devices that help to move vehicles along, and had a fun-filled lunch at its final meeting.

General Information

All residents – men and women – are invited to join the League in September. With the 2018 election approaching, it should be a lively year.

The League meets the second Wednesday of each month from September through June.

For more information, contact Maxine Lewack at (mglewack@gmail.com) or (301-847-9527).

Event Highlights New Pet Legislation

by John Moens

On May 21, NARFE literally “went to the dogs” when it held its first-ever pet information event.

In an open meeting in the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom, Del. Ben Kramer and Emily Hovermale, Maryland state director of the Humane Society, addressed 40 guests in recent and pending legislation to protect Maryland’s four-legged companions.

Kramer described the typical experience of animals released from their cages following passage of the Beagle Freedom Bill. The meeting was both the most heart breaking and heart warming – sometimes simultaneously.

The new law provides for the adoption of animals diagnosed as still healthy upon completion of medical experiments.

The bill was so named because 96 percent of the dogs used in research are the ever-loyal, compliant beagle breed.

A pending bill will make Maryland one of only two states to prohibit the sale of animals by puppy mills.

A Federal law is now pending that, if passed, would extend the prohibition on puppy mills to every State.

The pet event originated when Kramer mentioned pet legislation during a chapter meeting last year. The chapter felt that this is an issue that should be brought to the attention of the entire community.

The chapter is unsure if the pet event will become an annual occasion, but hopes that it will inspire residents to take the time to phone or write in support of state and federal legislation to help protect animals.

Join Us

Residents interested in joining NARFE are invited to contact the chapter’s recruiter, John Lass, at (301-288-4210).

TMO Elects Its Officers

by Janice McLean

The recently formed Town Meeting Organization (TMO) formally elected its first slate of officers at its meeting on May 17.

The individuals elected are Sheryl Katzman, president; Janice McLean, vice president; Carolee Rowse, secretary; and Carole Portis, treasurer. They will serve for two years.

TMO was organized by a group of residents who are interested in and concerned about the governance and management of the Leisure World community.

It sponsors periodic community-wide town hall meetings, based on the New England Town Meeting model from America's Colonial period.

These meetings are held to inform and involve residents about issues affecting them, such as the proposal to demolish the current Administration Building and construct a new one, the funding of a strategic plan and the structure and the operation of the Leisure World Community Corporation (LWCC) board of directors, among others.

On March 1, TMO held a successful first town hall meeting that featured presentations by residents and the chair of the LWCC board of directors.

Presentations were followed by a lengthy discussion and in-depth question and answer period about the status of the plans for the new Administration Building.

The Group's website, (www.townmeetingorganization.com), is currently under construction. It will feature information on topics that were addressed at the first town hall meetings as well as topics for future meetings.

General Information

TMO meets on the third Thursday of the month at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse I. All residents are invited to attend to become informed and involved in the community. The Group's next meeting is Thursday, June 21.

For further information, email (admin@townmeetingorganization.com).

Club Awards $8,100 in Scholarships

College scholarship winners and Rossmoor Women's Club members mingle at the Club's spring luncheon on May 16. Photos by Ingrid Masi

by Marcia L. Elbrand

Eighty-eight women spent May 16 at a spring luncheon at Manor Country Club. Attendees, members and guests of the Rossmoor Women's Club (RWC), enjoyed an elegant lunch, and then applauded the awarding of six college scholarships.

Three winners were chosen from a field of 15 applicants at James H. Blake senior high school. The other three winners were selected from among the 300 Montgomery College students in the ACES program.

Most ACES students are the first person in their family to attend college. Rita Posner, education committee chairperson, oversees the Club's scholarship program, and has helped it grow in size.

"This year, we were able to award a total of $6,000 to high school seniors and $2,100 to the college women," Posner said.

Kickoff speaker at the luncheon, Cathy Green Plotkin, is the head teacher for the Head Start class at Harmony Hills Elementary School in Silver Spring, where RWC volunteers are completing their second year of a dynamic partnership.

Volunteering at Head Start

Twenty Head Start youngsters benefit from committed RWC volunteers who provide generous support each month of the school year. As fall weather arrives, the children receive hand-knitted mittens and scarves.

Before holiday breaks in the school calendar, they and their families receive bags of nutritious groceries to supplement food budgets.

In December, Posner purchases gift books for each child to take home, to begin a home library. And, in addition to providing gift books and 20 subscriptions to "A Weekly Reader," RWC provides funding for books to supplement the classroom library.

RWC volunteers visit the classroom each month, working with children on projects and building their language skills. This spring, the Club is also paying for bus transportation for the class to spend a day at the Smithsonian's National Zoo in Washington, D.C.

Donations

As a gesture of support for another of the Club's charities, luncheon attendees filled an entire mini-van with donations of summer clothing, packages of disposable diapers, personal care items and new children's toys, all destined for families temporarily residing at the Betty Ann Krahnke Center, the only emergency shelter in Montgomery County for victims of domestic violence, sexual assault or human trafficking. Annually, the shelter assists more than 500 individuals.

Raffle Winners

Three lucky luncheon attendees left the Country Club holding raffle prizes, including an attractive necklace from Talbot's, won by new member Mary Ellen Graham, a Sangria basket, won by Peggy Sullivan, the Club's new assistant treasurer, and a gift certificate for dinner at the Club's forthcoming 50th anniversary gala on Sunday, Sept. 23, won by Marcia Elbrand.

Deadline Approaching

To be included in RWC's handy annual directory, often called the "little green book," membership chairperson Arlene Siller must receive membership dues for the coming year by Sunday, July 1.

Send checks of $40, payable to the Rossmoor Woman's Club, to Siller at (3100 North Leisure World Blvd., Apt. 630, Silver Spring, MD 20906). For questions, contact her at (301-460-7859) or (abs929@yahoo.com).

Individuals wishing to contribute extra support for a particular RWC activity are welcome to send along an additional amount (separate check preferred) for such a project. Write the project or charity's name on the memo line of the check.

New Leaders

RWC is forming a nominating committee to select a slate of officers for a future election. Approximately 140 members elect leaders for two-year terms, supported by advisors who are former leaders.

"If you have been a successful Club leader in past years, or think you might have a flair for it, please share that information with me," said Club president Aggie Eastham.

For more information, contact Eastham at (aggie.eastham@verizon.net).

June 10: Picnic in the Park

by Beth Leanza

The Club's successful potlucks take a break for the summer. On Sunday, June 10, at noon, the Club holds a barbecue at East Norbeck Park.

For a small fee, (usually $10) members can eat hamburgers (beef, veggie, turkey), hot dogs, steak, salads and desserts.

Boomers also enjoy watching movies followed by socializing and snacks every month on a Friday at 7 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium. However, this month, Boomers will gather on Saturday, June 16, for a screening of "Dunkirk."

Some members go out to dinner and a movie. Dinner is usually at Gordon Biersch and the movie is at Stadium 13 Theater in Rockville.

For a great live performance, don't miss Toby's Dinner Theatre in Columbia. The show follows a buffet dinner. Some months, the Club also gets together to play board games.

Sock Hop

Lovers of '50s and '60s music are encouraged to come to a Sock Hop, which are usually held on the third Saturday of every month at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II. Bring snacks and beverages, plus $5 to pay the band.

The next dance is Saturday, June 23. For more information, see the Events and Entertainment section of this publication.

Mah Jongg

Experienced mah jongg players can join a group that meets on Tuesday or Wednesday nights at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II. For more information, email Donna Cope-land at (dc@grandmathegeek.com).

Friday Hikes with Joyce

If you want to carpool, contact Joyce Richardson (301-598-7098) or (777cheekie333@gmail.com) by Thursday evening.

However, many walkers meet up at the walk site. Always bring water to each hike.

- June 8 – Rock Creek Park Trail (Rockville). Meet at the lower circular parking lot at 10:15 a.m. Bring water and a lunch. Drive through the Connecticut Gate and stay on Connecticut Avenue. Turn right onto Aspen Hill Road and drive to Baltic Avenue. Travel a short distance and turn right into the parking area. The Club returns to Leisure World to eat lunch.
- June 15 – The Audubon Naturalist Society, Woodend Sanctuary (Chevy Chase). Meet in the parking lot near the gift shop at 10:15 a.m. Bring water and a lunch. Drive through the Connecticut Gate. Continue on Connecticut Avenue South for approximately five miles. Turn left onto Plyers Mill Road and travel for 364 feet. Take the first right onto Metropolitan Avenue. Turn right onto Stonybrook Drive. Continue onto Jones Mill Road for 0.6 miles. Woodend Sanctuary is on the right.

Sunday Morning Walks

For a longer walk (about three miles) on Sundays at 8:30 a.m., meet up at the corner of Leisure World Boulevard and Arden Court (across from Kelmscot Drive).

Usually, the walkers go out to breakfast after the walk.

Weeknight Walks

For those who want a shorter walk, meet up with some Boomers in Clubhouse I lobby each night from Monday to Friday at 7:15 p.m. No one carries a banner, so ask around. They walk around the Broadwalk in Montgomery Mutual, about one mile.

Volkssport Walks

One Club member also belongs to the American Volkssport Association (AVA). He posts AVA walk information on (bbclw@googlegroups.com). Click on Walks, below the Calendar.

Join and Connect

To join, send a check for $5, payable to Baby Boomer Club, to membership chair Susan Landesberg at (3505 Twin Branches Ct. 37-C Silver Spring, MD 20906). Enclose your phone number, home address and email address.

Baby Boomers communicate mostly by email. Be sure to add the Club's email address to your email address book or contact list, (bbclw@googlegroups.com), to help ensure that Club emails reach your inbox. The Club keeps its emails limited to activities that members might enjoy.

Residents who don't have email should write "no email" on their check. The Club strongly suggests that these members connect with members who do have email, so as not to miss out.

Club members who are not receiving emails are asked to contact Beth Leanza at (301-598-4569) or (bethlea12020@gmail.com).

Ever wonder what happened to good old common sense?

I do sometimes. They call me "The Free Range Mom" because I fought back when the County detained my children simply for walking home from a neighborhood park without an adult. I stood up for my family and forced the County to change its policies. I wanted to make sure that no other family would suffer like we did.

As a scientist and a mom, it's important to me that our government policies make sense. That's why I'm running for County Council At-Large.

I stood up for my family. As your Council Member, I'll stand up for you and your family.

Pickleball Club Holds Beginner's Clinics

by Susan N. Crawford

On April 22, 20 residents came to the Pickleball Club's beginner's clinic to learn to play pickleball.

The clinic was held by USA Pickleball Association Ambassador Gary Lyst at the pickleball courts.

Clinic participants learned the basic pickleball forehand and backhand ground strokes, the serve, court positioning during a game and scoring.

By the end of the clinic, attendees were competing in games among the group.

Once they learn the pickleball basics, new players are welcome to begin play with the advanced-beginner and intermediate Club players at any scheduled Club playing session.

Beginner's Clinics

For those beginners that want to become more skillful and confident before joining the regular Club players, the Club has special playing sessions on Tuesdays from 4-5:30 p.m. solely for beginners.

A complete list of scheduled Club playing sessions is posted in the cabinet at the pickleball courts.

Those who could not attend this beginner's clinic but want to learn to play pickleball should contact Club president Donna Leonard at (donna19381@verizon.net) or (301-598-4181) and register for the next beginner's clinic.

The next beginner's clinic will be scheduled when at least 12 residents have registered.

Pickleball Club members enjoy a round of play on the courts.

days and Thursdays from 9:30-11 a.m.

The courts are available at other times for any resident. To make private reservations, call Sue Sandler, president, at (240-242-3742). Let Sandler also know of any issues at the tennis courts.

Chess and Ties Make the Man

by Bernie Ascher

Much speculation exists about the origin of the necktie. Historians say that 4,000 years ago in ancient Egypt, pharaohs wore ties with precious stones to ward off evil spirits and bad luck.

In China, when the first Emperor Qin Shi Huang died in 210 B.C., he was buried in a tomb with statues of soldiers (the famous Terracotta Army), who were to serve him in the afterlife. These soldiers wore elaborate neckwear tucked into their armor, perhaps to prevent irritation from their armor and to protect them from the cold.

Croatia, however, takes credit for the origin of the modern tie. During the Thirty Years War (1618-1648), French King Louis XIII hired Croatian mercenaries to fight against the Habsburg dynasty.

They wore red cloths around their necks to tie their jackets. According to one story, the cloths were bandanas given by girls to their men when they went to war, as a sign of their loyalty.

Impressed by this new piece of clothing, which was more comfortable and stylish than the bulky, ruffled collars worn by the French, King Louis named the neckwear "La Cravate." He adopted it himself, encouraged Frenchmen to wear it and started a new era in fashion.

Croatia celebrates the invention of the tie as an official national holiday. The holiday started on Oct. 18, 2003, when a gigantic red cravat was tied around the ancient Roman amphitheater in Pula, a UNESCO World Heritage Site alongside the Adriatic Sea.

The largest tie in the world according to the Guinness Book of World Records, it was 808 meters long and 25 meters wide, weighing 450 kg, with a knot 21 meters high and built in five days from 9,015 square meters of red fabric.

In 2008, the Croatian Parliament unanimously declared Oct. 18 the "Day of the Cravat." On that holiday, many statues and horses in Croatia may be seen wearing red ties.

In England, the debonair Beau Brummel, who had a great impact on men's fashions and is credited with inventing the modern day men's suit, wore an ascot and popularized neckwear in England and other countries. He had "a large hand in the invention of the modern cut tie," according to a fashion website.

In Iran, publicly wearing neckties is effectively banned, according to Radio Free Europe Radio Liberty. "There is no written law against ties, but they are frowned upon under Iran's strict Islamic dress code. Shopkeepers tend to sell them under the counter."

About 60 percent of men's ties sold in the U.S. are sold to women. Although recent figures are lacking, annual U.S. production was roughly 25 million a few years ago. The value of sales declined from $1.8 billion in 1995, a peak year, to $418 million in 2009, according to a 2016 New York Post article entitled "Let's face it, the tie is dead."

Ties are not required to play chess at Leisure World. Most Club members wear open collars.

One member, however, often wins when he wears a suit and tie, perhaps intimidating the opposition.

In the game pictured on this page, White can win in two moves. Do you see it?

The answer follows the usual reminder that the Chess Club meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1-4 p.m. in Clubhouse II. For further information, call Club president Bernie Ascher at (301-598-8577).

ANSWER: White moves the Queen to h8, checking the King, and forcing the King to move to f7. White's Queen then captures the Rook at g7. Checkmate.

So, do not wait for Cravat Day. Do not wait for casual Friday. Do not wait for the extinction of ties. Play chess now!
