Board Passes 2019 Budget Assumptions

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

The Leisure World Community Corporation (LWCC) board of directors approved the recommendation from the Budget and Finance Advisory Committee to adopt the 2019 budget assumptions as amended at its June 26 meeting.

The proposed 2019 Community Facilities Fee would be $174.75 per unit per month within a 2.5 percent consumer price index increase, a $4.25 increase from the 2018 fee.

The fee increase accounts for a slightly more than $44,000 overall increase in the landscape/snow removal, housecleaning services, fitness facility management and pool management contracts.

tions for the 2019 Operating Budget document, sign in to (residents.lwmc.com) and click on Resident Document Locator under the Documents dropdown arrow. Click on the Board of Directors folder; the budget assumptions are included in the June 26 board of directors agenda packet.

Insurance

The board also passed a motion to renew the property and casualty insurance program at a total estimated annual premium of $2,431,412.

PPD Changes Call Center’s Menu Options

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

In an effort to reduce wait times and improve the customer experience, the Physical Properties Department’s (PPD) call center, also sometimes referred to as the customer service center, recently made several changes to its call center menu and operations.

The call center’s automated option menu has been reconfigured, and callers are now asked to either “press one” to either check on an existing work order or open a new one, or to “press two” if they want to choose another service, such as insurance claims, landscaping and pest control, trash and recycling, or the showroom.

The goal of the reconfiguration is for staff members to complete a call in just three minutes or less, according to Dave Merritt, senior business/systems analyst for Leisure World of Maryland Corporation.

Since the new option menu was implemented, the average call time has dropped from eight to two minutes.

“People can’t stand talking to a computer,” Merritt said. “We wanted to minimize that.”

Putting Pen to Paper: Part One

Resident Authors Give their Unique Take on Chess, Politics

by Kimberly Y. Choi and Stacy Smith,
Leisure World News

Several Leisure World authors have recently popped up on the bookshelves of online and brick-and-mortar retailers. Here are two.

Bernie Ascher's humorous prose may be familiar to Leisure World News readers from his eclectic Chess Club articles, which begin by presenting a topic other than chess and then connect it to chess over the course of the piece. Each article includes a chess puzzle and its solution.

A few months ago, his collection of short essays was published as a book entitled "Everything Is Chess."

When Ascher started writing Chess Club articles nine years ago, they were aimed at readers who already played chess. To attract new members, he switched to writing more entertaining articles on a wide range of topics.

With research, he says, he can usually find a way to relate any topic to chess.

Something for Everyone

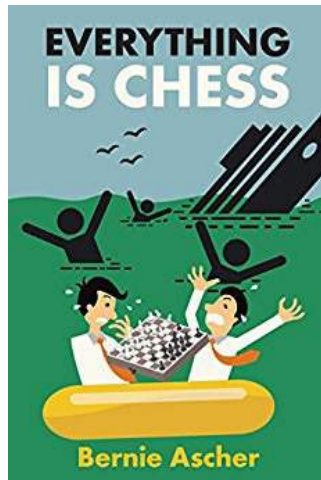

Despite its title and chess puzzles, Ascher would like "Everything is Chess" to be considered a general-interest book rather than a chess book. Most of his readers at Leisure World that he's met are not chess players.

The book is available for purchase online as well as for check out at the "Local Authors" shelf at Aspen Hill Library. Ascher says he doesn't expect his work to be a bestseller, but feels he's been successful.

He hopes readers will enjoy his lighthearted essays as short breaks from stressful lives – and presumably also, if they follow the catchphrase that concludes each piece, that they will "Play chess now!"

From Chess to Politics

Former U.S. State Department officer and university professor Stephen Kane's academic book, "Selling Reagan's Foreign Policy: Going Public vs. Executive Bargaining," examines President Ronald Reagan's and his administration's efforts to mobilize public and congressional support for seven of the president's controversial foreign policy initiatives.

Kane's 26 years at the U.S. State Department, much of which was spent as a public communications specialist, overlapped Reagan's two presidential terms. Kane served under six different presidents in total, from Richard Nixon to Bill Clinton.

Setting the Record Straight

After teaching foreign policy and public communication courses to university students who likened Reagan to great orators of the past, Kane "figured it was time to write a book that challenged the conventional wisdom of Reagan as the 'Great Communicator,' particularly in the field of foreign policy," he says.

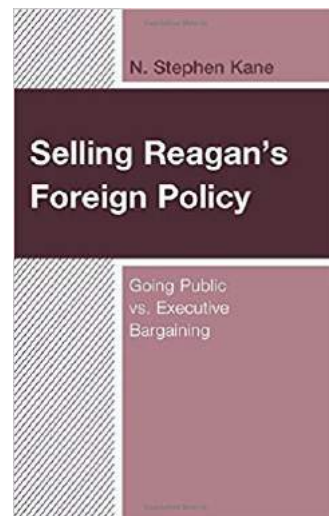

"I wanted to separate and make very clear the real-world Reagan from the mythological one that existed in the public mind," he adds.

Published by Lexington Books this past March, "Selling Reagan's Foreign Policy" is Kane's first book and is available online for purchase. The book will also be available at the Clubhouse I library in the coming weeks.

Kane is currently writing a follow-up that examines how past presidential administrations responded to public protest against their policies.

A Great Day for Leisure World on ‘Good Day DC’

Leisure World of Maryland was the location for local television station Fox5/WTTG’s “Zip Trip” segments on its morning program, “Good Day DC,” on June 29. Throughout the five-hour program, Fox5 hosts interacted with people and places in the community, spotlighting its vibrancy and good living. Television crewmembers began arriving by 3:30 a.m. to set up equipment in front of Clubhouse I, and shortly after dawn the program was broadcasting live. Soon after, resident golfers were sharing tips on the air at the driving range. By 7 a.m., resident deejays Karen and Ernie Poland were playing toe-tapping tunes for the crowd that gathered to watch the Quilting Group display their colorful creations, Mahendri Arundale discuss her Indian cooking, George Jacobs and Billie Saunders hailed as “Hometown Heroes,” Art Guild members painting en plein air, Linda Jones’s grandchild named “Child of the Day,” and county firefighters featured in a “First Responders Friday” segment.

Some video segments are posted at (<http://www.fox5dc.com/good-day/zip-trip/leisure-world-zip-trip-active-living-for-maryland-s-55-and-older-community>). Photos by Maureen Freeman, Leisure World News

Call Wait Times

A dashboard installed on the wall of the PPD call center tracks the number of calls that are being serviced and on hold at any given moment throughout the day, helping staff members stay mindful of each call's length.

If a caller is still on hold after six minutes of wait time, an automated message asks the caller to leave his or her name, phone number and a message, and informs the caller that a staff member will call him or her back shortly.

Callers who prefer a call back rather than be placed on hold can press a button that places their call in a queue. The caller can then end the call, and PPD will call the resident back later in the order that their call was received.

Field Service

PPD is also in the process of upgrading its field service management system.

Service call technicians will soon carry a tablet that provides information about each customer, such as his or her work order, service history, mutual information and maintenance agreements, appliance models and serial numbers and more.

When a ticket for a work order is opened, the system can automatically schedule the service request and assign it to a specific person, who can then see the request and make updates or changes to it as needed.

The customer receives a thank you call letting him or her know that the service request has been assigned, the date and time and to whom. The customer can also opt to receive a text message notification when a technician is en route to their home.

When the technician has finished a job, the customer can sign the service ticket and verify the number of hours the technician worked.

"[The customer] can even get a copy of that invoice right then and there, emailed or texted to them," Merritt added.

If the technician is at a customer's home completing a service order but needs a tool or part, the technician has access to PPD's inventory system.

"Not only is [the technician] going to see everything that's sitting in the warehouse, [he or she] is going to see everything that's on every single one of the trucks," Merritt said.

General Information

PPD's hours of operation are Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., except for holidays. Walk-ins are welcome.

The customer service/call center, walk-in service counter, warehouse and showroom are closed from noon-1 p.m. every weekday. Residents who call after hours with an emergency can press a button to reach the front gate, and a PPD service technician is notified and dispatched to the residence.

PPD generally experiences its highest call volume from 8:30-9:30 a.m. and again from 3:30-4:30 p.m. To minimize the likelihood of a wait time, Merritt suggests calling some time between 9:30-11:30 a.m. or 1:30-3:30 p.m.

For more information or to reach PPD, call (301-598-1500) or email (physicalproperties@lwmc.com).

Board

with developing a long-range strategic plan for the Trust in April 2017, recently distributed a request for proposals (RFP) to 17 consulting companies, with seven expressing interest in the project, according to Phil Marks, SSPC member.

Proposals are due to the committee by Friday, Aug. 3. Upon completion of the bidding process, the SSPC will recommend its preferred consultant to the LWCC board of directors for approval.

Internet Survey

Management recently distributed a short survey by mail to all homes in Leisure World requesting information from residents regarding their internet service.

Survey results will help the LWCC board of directors evaluate the potential advantages of seeking bulk-rate internet service for the community.

All residents are encouraged to complete the survey and return it to their mutual management office, the Administration Building reception desk or the Education and Recreation office in either clubhouse by close of business on Friday, July 6.

A request for information regarding bulk internet service was recently completed by Leisure World's internet consulting firm Columbia Telecommunications Corporation and will be sent to 98 internet provider companies.

Whether Staying in Place or Living On-the-Go, Lifeline Helps Support Residents' Independence

by Leisure World News

For many older adults choosing to age in place, owning a medical alert system can help them continue to live independent, active lives, improving their overall quality of life and providing peace of mind to their loved ones.

Leisure World of Maryland has partnered with Philips Lifeline to offer residents Lifeline medical alert service at a discounted price. A medical alert system allows the wearer to press a button to alert emergency services personnel that medical attention is needed.

Residents can choose from three subscription options – HomeSafe Standard, HomeSafe with AutoAlert and GoSafe – to find the level of support that best matches their needs. With the addition of new technology such as fall detection and GPS, these systems are designed to meet the unique needs of each customer.

Other benefits of Lifeline medical alert service include:

- no activation or installation fee
- reliable, 24/7 access to a North America-based response center associate
- personalized service – the customer chooses who is contacted, such as a neighbor, loved one or emergency services
- FDA-approved, medical grade and water-resistant devices

- landline and cellular connections

Leisure World's security personnel can also respond to Lifeline emergency alert calls, and can maintain a copy of the customer's house key to unlock the door for emergency personnel.

The Lifeline office is located in the Administration Building near the Security office. For more information regarding levels of service and pricing, or to set up installation, contact Karen Arevalo, Lifeline coordinator, at (301-598-1329) or (karevalo@lwmc.com).

Channel 972 also displays notices for upcoming Eyre trips, restaurant specials, programs sponsored by E&R, church services, the landscaping work schedule and special announcements.

On Wednesdays, the previous Sunday's Inter-Faith Chapel Service is broadcast at 2 p.m.

Channel 974

Want a more comprehensive list of the week's activities? Then tune your TV to channel 974. Here you can view a list of Leisure World happenings, Monday through Sunday, 24/7.

Once a month, the LWCC's executive committee and board of directors meetings are aired on channel 974. The dates and times of these airings can be found in the Governance section of each edition of the Leisure World News.

At one of the clubhouses and want to know what is happening? Then check out the TVs in the clubhouse lobbies that are tuned to channel 972 or 974.

Changes and Updates

And remember to check channels 972 and 974 throughout the day for changes and updates. If an emergency occurs, watch either channel for notifications and information, which scroll across the bottom of the slides.

General Manager: A Proud Day for Leisure World

by Kevin Flannery,
General Manager and CEO, Leisure World of Maryland Corporation

Last Friday, June 29, Leisure World of Maryland had a great moment – many great moments, in fact – in the television spotlight when it was featured throughout local television Fox5/WTTG's morning program, "Good Day DC."

The Veterans Park and Cascade Circle area in front of Clubhouse I looked gorgeous in every shot. Vivacious residents showed off their many talents and wonderful qualities on camera, and others who attended the live broadcast supported their neighbors and community with tremendous spirit. Leisure World employees exuded pride in their work in their own interviews during the program.

While we wish more clubs, groups and individuals could have been featured, we can celebrate that so many were. The television producers, who ultimately decide who and what goes on the air, had only so much time allotted for Leisure World. Even 10 solid hours would not be enough to capture all that our lively community offers.

I'd also like to acknowledge the hard work that staff put into making the community's moments in the spotlight such a success. The Communications team spearheaded coordination with the producers, and crucial support from our Grounds Maintenance, Security, Information Technology and Physical Properties teams enabled a smooth morning that showcased the best of Leisure World.

We have much to be proud of, and we showed that to the rest of the world. Let's keep this spirit alive every day.

A Few Things to Remember

- Relevance: Make sure that your submission is relevant to the LW community as a whole and not to just one person, mutual, or organization.

- Brevity: Being concise will ensure that your opinion will have maximum impact.

Enhancing Leisure World

I love the ideas offered in the June 1, 2018 Leisure World News letter on enhancing our environment during the summer. I especially like the picnic grove idea, and I would like to add another idea: a miniature golf course to be used not only by residents, but also by visiting children and grandchildren.

These are the types of things our Facilities Enhancement Fund should be used for, not for tearing down a perfectly good building, or at least a building that could be made perfectly good at a fraction of the cost.

— Rodney Brooks

Golf Course Controversy

There is land we own. Now it's an 18-hole golf course. To be clear, I am not in favor of eliminating the golf course. The question isn't simply about the cost of the golf course per condo/co-op owner per year. It's about how this resource is now being used and how the owners of this resource want to see it used in the future.

I have read some very vague discussion of "strategic planning" for Leisure World in this newspaper. A strategic plan is just a tool to get you from where you are to where you want to be. So, what do we want Leisure World to be when it grows up? Eliminating or reducing the size of our golf course is not simply a question of what it costs to maintain it. It is a question of what else we could do with this land. An alternative use of the land might well cost more than maintaining the golf course. But it might also be something the Leisure World community, as a whole, values far more than the current golf course.

Leisure World can't be the first 55+ community that has faced this issue.

— Barry Kapilow-Cohen

Leisure World Amenities

I moved to Leisure World about seven months ago, drawn by affordable housing, beautiful grounds, maintenance-free lifestyle and the numerous activities and amenities, including the golf course.

I have really enjoyed my time here and have participated in clubs, classes and entertainment options. I walk every day on the miles of walking trails, go to the gym, swim, and, yes, I joined the golf course.

I have been puzzled by the recent negative letters to the newspaper regarding the golf course and feel compelled to respond to some of the points raised. Regarding the participation of non-residents on the course, several of the classes I have taken include non-residents (In fact, in two of these classes, there were equal numbers of non-residents and residents). Non-residents pay more to participate, and in the case of the golf course, can only join for the entire season or play with a resident.

One of the letters noted that only about 10 percent of the residents use the course. If the 10 percent threshold for supporting an amenity were applied across the board, I doubt if there would be any amenities, including the walking trails.

Finally, it was noted that there are many public golf courses outside the gates of Leisure World that golfers can take advantage of. There are many recreation centers outside the gates also. Does that mean we should abandon our swimming pools, fitness center and classes because we could go to one outside Leisure World? We moved here to have these opportunities within our gates.

When I moved here, I was told there was something for everyone. Rather than pit one group of residents against another, I think we should celebrate all that our wonderful community offers.

July 14: Richard Miller and the Brazilian Choro

The E&R Department is pleased to welcome back guitarist Richard Miller to Leisure World on Saturday, July 14. He performs at 7 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium.

Brazilian-born Miller's repertoire ranges from standard classical guitar works to the Brazilian choro, the equivalent of American ragtime, a subject on which he is an expert.

Tickets for the event are $7 per person and on sale in both clubhouse E&R offices.

In addition to appearing as a soloist, Miller often combines talents with other musicians, including other guitarists and vocalists that also specialize in Brazilian music.

He has toured South and Central America as well as the U.S. in both classical recitals and with Latin jazz bands.

He appears often in recital at the Brazilian American Institute and has appeared at the Kennedy Center, Library of Congress and on many performing arts series, as well as performing at the White House for President Barack Obama.

Miller's Background

Miller earned a doctorate in music theory from the Catholic University of America and a master's in guitar performance from the Manhattan School of Music.

He is an adjunct assistant professor at Columbia University where he teaches composition, music theory and ear training.

His dissertation, "The Guitar in the Brazilian Choro," was published by Lambert Academic Publishing in 2014.

As well, he continues as the director of education programs for the Afro-Latin Jazz Alliance based in New York City.

■ Ballroom Dance Club

July 28: Dance to the Music of The Esquires

by Joyce Hendrix

The Ballroom Dance Club invites all members and guests to dance to the music of The Esquires led by guitarist and vocalist Chuck Conner on Saturday, July 28, from 7:30-10:30 p.m. in the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom.

Several of the musicians in this trio have been making music together since 1962. They became known as The Esquires in 1972 and have been playing for weddings, seasonal parties, dances, bull roasts and crab feasts, together and separately, ever since.

The original bassist, Chuck Meyers, is back with the group. Jimmy Bryant has been on drums since 1995. This musical trio has provided dance music for Leisure World's ballroom dancers for the past 20 years.

Suggested dress for the summer dances is dressy casual for the ladies and collared shirts and slacks for the gentlemen. The Club asks that everyone attending make reservations with Connie Roby at (240-393-9808) by the Thursday prior to the dance to ensure you are seated at a table with friends. A cash bar is available at each dance, and dancers are welcome to bring snacks for their table.

Residents may still become members for $10 per person annually, which entitles the member to pay $10 per person for each dance. Non-members and guests pay $15 per person for each dance. Guests must be invited by a Leisure World resident.

by Fred Shapiro

On Thursday, Aug. 2, The Center for Lifelong Learning (CLL) features Sheldon Lehner's presentation of "A Storyteller's Delight, The Honeymooners Game" at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

Drawing on his background in entertainment, Lehner takes audience members on a trip down memory lane by recalling the hit TV show of the 1960s, "The Honeymooners."

Admission is free, but residents are requested to register prior to the program by either stopping by the Clubhouse I E&R office or calling (301-598-1300) beginning at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 10.

provide an especially inspiring forum to build self-confidence in youth and young adults. His dedication over the years to assisting disadvantaged youth, as well as those not exposed or bonded to traditional values, is the key reason he created the Referee Training programs as part of Awesome Sports and Games' program years ago.

This novel program has resulted in developing or improving self-esteem and responsibility in young men primarily, but also young ladies upon occasion, since 1986.

Lehner holds a master's in public administration from the University of Pennsylvania and recently retired after 36 years of local, state and federal government service.

Aug. 4: 'Roy Orbison' and 'The Big Bopper' Together

It's 1960 again. Come take a trip back with your favorite rock'n'roll oldies when music was so special. On Saturday, Aug. 4, at 7 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium, sit back, relax and remember the songs and music of Roy Orbison, Big O, and Jiles Perry "J.P." Richardson Jr., The Big Bopper.

Sponsored by the E&R Department, tickets for this event are $15 per person and on sale in both clubhouse E&R offices.

Terry Harris' impersonation of Roy Orbison has been enthralling audiences for nine years. Harris mirrors the image, look and sound of the late, great Orbison, one of America's greatest singer/songwriters.

Inducted into the Maryland Entertainment Hall of Fame in 2013, he is recognized as one of the premier Orbison tribute artists in the country.

Gary Baker has been performing rock'n'roll classics since the 1990s, particularly the songs of The Big Bopper. Although Baker is not trying to look like the real Big Bopper, his signature song is "Chantilly Lace" and he performs in the style of the Bopper.

Locally known as the "King of the Oldies," Baker was inducted into the Maryland Entertainment Hall of Fame in 2014.

Aug. 12: Eclectic Musicians TransAtlantic Duo Perform Klezmer and More

You might think that there is not much in common between Bach and Klezmer, or between traditional Russian music and jazz.

Yet the TransAtlantic Duo – Alexander Paperny (balalaika) and Vladimir Fridman (guitar and vocals) – command their instruments with virtuosity to seamlessly bring together these diverse styles in their exploration of the world's musical heritage.

Sponsored by the E&R Department, the Duo returns to Leisure World on Sunday, Aug. 12, and will perform at 4 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium.

Tickets for this event are $7 per person and go on sale on Tuesday, July 10, at 8:30 a.m. in both clubhouse E&R offices. Don't miss your chance to hear them!

The program includes Jewish and Klezmer music, as well as Russian, Brazilian, Argentinean and popular classical pieces.

About the Musicians

Paperny and Fridman have worked together for many years. In Moscow, Russia, between 1988 and 1998, they played in an eccentric show group, Jazz Balalaika, with which they toured all over the world and recorded several CDs.

Paperny lives in Hamburg, Germany, while Fridman lives in Gaithersburg Maryland. Yet this distance does not separate these two musicians. Since 2005, the two have annually toured in the U.S. and Europe as the TransAtlantic Duo. In the U.S., they have performed at the John. F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., and many other great venues.

Fridman is a musician with the ability to move flawlessly through classic, jazz and the traditional music of different countries with improvisational spirit, soul and true virtuosity.

Paperny is one of the most famous balalaika musicians in Western Europe. His genuine virtuosity and temperament merge into an unusual combination. He and his instrument carry you away into a magical world of sounds.

Aug. 18: Still Surfin': Tribute to the Beach Boys

There'll be "Good Vibrations" when Still Surfin' rocks the stage in Clubhouse II on Saturday, Aug. 18 – twice in one day!

Show times are at 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. Pick the show that is perfect for you. Tickets are $15 per person and go on sale Tuesday, July 10, at 8:30 a.m. in both clubhouse E&R offices. Please bring your Leisure World ID.

Based in Washington, D.C., Still Surfin' is a well-known Beach Boys tribute and surf band that has been performing together for almost 20 years. Members are Matthew Grose (lead vocals, guitar); Cal Everett (vocals, Fender bass); Rob Isele (vocals, keyboard); Matt Miller (vocals, drums, percussion); and Jonathan Mudd (vocals, guitar) and all are huge fans of The Beach Boys.

None of the group members is a career musician, yet each brings a different musical background that has enabled the band to master the five-part harmonies and surprisingly difficult arrangements of The Beach Boys' music. And while not trying to look like particular members of The Beach Boys, their performance is truly reminiscent of the original live tours.

Remember the first time you heard The Beach Boys on the radio, singing "Little Surfer Girl"? What about "I Get Around,"

"California Girls," "Help Me Rhonda" or "God Only Knows." And no one can forget "Barbara Ann" or "Surfin' USA."

These are just a few of the songs Still Surfin' will have you reliving. You are sure to hear all your favorites.

Protect Your Eyes During Fireworks Displays

by Larry Cohen

According to the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO), fireworks injure thousands of Americans, many of them children, every year.

In the most severe cases, fireworks can rupture the globe of the eye, cause chemical and thermal burns, corneal abrasions and retinal detachments – all of which can cause permanent, severe eye damage.

Those injured by fireworks are not necessarily handling the fireworks. In fact, nearly half of people injured by fireworks are bystanders.

Fireworks Safety Tips

The AAO advises that the best way to avoid a potentially blinding fireworks injury is by attending a professional public fireworks event and respecting the safety barriers at these fireworks shows.

For those who decide to purchase consumer fireworks because they live in states where they are legal, the AAO recommends the following safety tips to prevent eye injuries:

- Never let young children play with fireworks of any type, including sparklers.

- Wear protective eyewear that meets the parameters set by the American National Standards Institute when handling fireworks or as a bystander.

- Leave the lighting of professional-grade fireworks to trained pyro technicians.
- If an eye injury from fireworks occurs, remember to seek medical attention immediately. Do not rub, rinse or apply pressure to the eyes. Do not remove any objects stuck in the eye, apply ointments or take blood-thinning medications such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

For more information, talk with your personal eye care professional, or visit the AAO at (www.aao.org).

Support Group Information

Are you concerned about or living with diminished sight? If the answer is “yes,” you are not alone.

The Low Vision Support Group meets the second Wednesday of every month at 1 p.m. in Clubhouse I (barring inclement weather). The meetings provide presentations and discussions from well-known individuals in the eye care community, offering a wide variety of topics and fellowship.

If residents have questions, hopefully, the Group has answers or knows where to get them. Conversely, if a resident has knowledge on a related eye or hearing subject, consider sharing it with the Group.

The Low Vision Support Group is available to answer questions or provide reassurance. For more information, call Larry Cohen at (908-770-9111).

FISH volunteers are ready and waiting for residents to borrow assistive equipment from the FISH office located in Clubhouse II. Borrowing an item from FISH is a great way to test it out before making a purchase.

General Information

FISH is open Monday-Friday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m., except for major holidays.

The office phone number is (301-598-1345). Residents who call the FISH office when it's closed or when a volunteer is assisting another resident are transferred to the E&R office.

Residents looking for Lost and Found should let the E&R staff person know. Found items are stored in the FISH closet.

For more information, contact Beth Leanza, president, at (301-598-4569) or (bethlea12020@gmail.com).

Group's Summer Activities Include Exhibits and Classes

by Ann Bolt

July promises to be a busy month, with Nancy Bullough's paintings gracing the gallery walls in Clubhouse II.

Bullough grew up in the area and graduated from the University of Maryland with a bachelor's degree in fine arts. And mighty fine art it is. She specializes in both oil painting and charcoal mediums, which yield rich, bright colors and great detail in the black and white of charcoal.

Be sure to stop in the gallery to read more about her and see what she's created. Her exhibit should be ready to view by Saturday, July 7, and is scheduled through July and August.

Clubhouse I Exhibit

The hallway of Clubhouse I displays open studio members' mixed media combinations.

Mixed media can include almost anything combined in a painting. It falls into that category of several fuzzy definitions of what mixed media means.

After a bit of contemplation, most members conclude that it doesn't matter a whit; just do it and enjoy it in the process.

Leave a Message

The more recent general exhibits have included members who are first time exhibitors, greatly enhancing the shows with their art.

Residents who wish to express their appreciation for the artwork on view can leave a message for the artists on the lime green sheet in the vestibule of the studio.

Artists appreciate an encouraging word every now and then, and the Guild enjoys sharing their artistic efforts with residents.

Summer Classes

Rossmoor Art Guild's summer classes start the week of Monday, July 9.

Some of the Guild's talented teachers are off on vacation, but plenty of classes are still available, such as watercolor, oil painting, acrylics, drawing and independent study.

Teachers Ron Erlich, Barbara Piegari, Sharon Minor, Genevieve Roberts, Millie Shott, Firouzeh Sadeghi and guest teacher Fran Call are on the roster for the summer session. Schedules are posted on the studio doors. The cost is $60 for the six-week session.

■ Fun and Fancy Theatre Group

Long-standing Group Seeks to Add Classical Music to its Repertoire

by Hannelte Allen

Leisure World has a vast reservoir of musical talent, exhibited during the past 50 years of Fun and Fancy performances. The Group has staged Broadway musicals and plays, decades-specific musical revues, seasonal programs, TV and radio plays and special event productions.

In addition to this wonderful array of music, the Group would like to initiate a program of classical music featuring the works of Verdi, Puccini, Bizet, Mozart, Bach, Beethoven, Liszt, Paganini and others.

Residents interested in participating in a program of classical music that includes operatic arias, art songs, works for piano, strings and winds (both solo and ensemble), as well as ballet, are asked to call Vito Sabia at (301-438-7722).

Membership

Membership in Fun and Fancy, $10 annually, is required to participate. Current members have already received their membership form. New members will be able to join at the Group's first meeting in September.

Effective July 1, Nancy Koski is the Group's new president, and she is scheduling the monthly shows for the upcoming year. Residents who would like to direct or who have an idea for a monthly show should contact her at (irishchero@comcast.net) or (301-288-7808).

During July, the Ceramics Club display case located in the art gallery of Clubhouse II features the work of its newest members. The Club is happy to showcase the pieces pictured and their creators.

On June 13, 16 Ceramics Club members enjoyed the annual luncheon at the Clubhouse Grille. It was a fun time getting to know one another and enjoying each other's company.

Member Profiles

Carol Bales joined the Club in February. With a science background, Bales thought she was artistically challenged, so is surprised by how much she has accomplished in such a short time.

Joanne Witt loves the Ceramics Club. "I can be creative in so many ways at a minimal cost," she said.

Paul Lipson is a local chap from Wheaton, Maryland. A member of the Ceramics Club since 2017, he joined after seeing items for sale in the gift shop and feeling he could make them himself. He has embraced the spirit of the Club by volunteering to help with studio maintenance.

A newcomer to Leisure World, Dar Rowland has had no previous experience in artistic endeavors. She finds ceramics to be relaxing and fun because she's able to use it to express herself.

Marguerite Norris has been a member for one and a half years and enjoys the art and comradeship within the studio.

Pam Norris Coppage is exhibiting the first piece she created. She wishes she had more time to pursue her creative art form.

Abbe Lazarus came to Leisure World a year ago and joined the studio in February. The clock is her third item and she is very proud of it. She looks forward to designing and creating many more pieces.

Meriel Brewer is new to Leisure World and joined the studio in January. She enjoys ceramics and looks forward to producing more complicated projects, finding much satisfaction in her accomplishments.

Pat Savage has been a member since the fall of 2017. Ceramics has become a relaxing hobby for her and she says that her grandchildren sometimes join her and love to help her paint.

Club Information

The ceramics studio is both the Club's workshop and sales room. All proceeds from the gift shop go to charity. Friendly Club members are happy to show residents around and answer any questions they have.

Club dues are $10 per year and materials (paints, brushes, etc.) can be purchased in the studio.

During the summer months, photos captured from all over the globe by Rossmoor Camera Club members will hang in the Clubhouse I hallway and library and in Signal Financial Federal Credit Union in the Administration Building.

The photos are hung to show the magnificent work of Club members and to attract other residents to join and participate.

Hanging on the Walls

Jean DeSchraver captured a Chihuly exhibit while touring Biltmore Estate in Asheville, North Carolina. Nina Parish captured clouds over Valencia, Spain, and the city's advanced architecture.

Louis Paley shot a hawk keeping the garden plots free of rodents, and Jon Fife shot a photo of a library of the "digital age" in Australia, with digital storage cases on the shelves where books once sat.

Helen Caraway caught a beautiful townhouse street scene in Leisure World with a blooming cherry tree and red azalea bushes. Ingrid Masi captured a sleeping dog.

Julie Friedman is "keeping the wall cool" with an iced-covered mountain shot from the Canadian Rockies, and Larry Mars pictured sand art on the Oregon Coast.

Elizabeth Deckelman tried to capture a parent and child entering school, but the pair walked faster than the camera lens shutter. The result is intriguing.

When David Harris and George Kaye made their Greek Island voyages at different times, they both visited Santorini Isle – Kaye photographed the blue and white Orthodox Church dome with brass bells, and Harris opted to photograph a dog sitting on the shore.

Stu Lillard captured a chubby Cupid with a swan fountain and several blooming water lilies at the Ladew Gardens north of Towson, in Harford County, Maryland, and Julie Thomas emphasized the green and black creeping caterpillar in a garden, Dilly Dilly.

Ann Ferren told the ape to chew with its mouth closed in the Virunga National Park in eastern Democratic Republic of Congo.

Joanne Mars traveled to the Canadian Rockies to photograph the Athabasca Falls in Alberta, Canada, at a slow shutter speed and in black and white, while Ruthe Kaplan emphasized the cacti and sand of the garden in Marrakesh, Morocco.

Ron Masi photographed a desert garden with trails, dry grasses and stark, brown rocks.

Sue Alexander's butterfly alights on flowers similar to Fred Shapiro's red roses and pink cosmos. Bob Kaplan captured the curve of yellow and blue jacket hyacinths from the Kenkenhof Gardens in Lisse, The Netherlands, and Donna Zoldi befriended a Smoky Mountain Bluebird that was searching for bugs on a rotten tree limb.

Gaby Dusan preferred photographing pinecones and needles in Maryland woods, and Al Tanenholtz found a corroded triumph automobile and gave it new life with Photoshop's enhanced colors.

General Information

Club members also alternate exhibits with the Rossmoor Art Guild in The Inter-Faith Chapel, the Clubhouse I library and the Credit Union in the Administration Building. The Club's aim is to have all members display their photos for residents to enjoy.

The Club also encourages more residents who like taking photos with their cameras or smartphones to join the Club and participate in the exhibits. The Club does not meet again until September, but residents are welcome to view members' works.

July 11: Local Geologist, Engineer and Horticulturist Speaks on ‘The Geology of Montgomery County’

by Mary Beth Mason

The Group’s next meeting is Wednesday, July 11, at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II. Christopher Lewis, a geologist and county resident, will speak on “The Geology of Montgomery County.”

According to Lewis, Montgomery County’s geologic past has had a rough go during the past billion years. After continental drift and collision with Europe and Africa, the geology of the East Coast changed dramatically.

According to Lewis, his revelations about how and why pieces of Japan and Mt. Everest can be found in today’s Montgomery County will give audience members goose bumps.

Montgomery County is situated in Maryland’s central Piedmont Province. This province also includes the counties of Frederick, Carroll, Howard, Baltimore and Harford. Most of the rocks and minerals in the Piedmont are gneiss, schist, quartzite, marble, slate, limestone, dolomite, shale, gold, siltstone or volcanic.

Lewis grew up on a Howard County farm. After high school, he studied geology at Susquehanna University in Pennsylvania. His first job was in the oil fields of Louisiana. Eventually, because of his engineering expertise, he moved closer to home when he was hired as supervisor of construction at BWI Airport.

Ultimately Lewis decided to pursue his life-long love of flora, first by studying horticulture at the USDA Graduate School and then by becoming a master gardener through the county certification program.

He also is a certified professional horticulturist, and works for Behnke Nurseries Garden Center in Beltsville, Maryland, where he is garden shop manager.

High School or College...that never was given

This workshop will first help you identify your True Purpose for your American Dream. Each of us has our own set of values and beliefs. When financial decisions align with values we experience a real sense of satisfaction and contentment. Discovering your True Purpose for your American Dream is one step you can take that can help pave the way for long-lasting satisfaction and fulfillment regarding financial decisions. In this workshop we will not focus on where to put your money but seek to help you better understand and navigate the turbulent waters of the financial world with solid financial information so that you can be more efficient. Our goal is to show you where you can find dollars you may be losing unnecessarily to balance your current lifestyle desires and your future lifestyle requirements, without impacting your present standard of living.

We believe there is more to be gained by avoiding the losses than picking the winners.

■ Garden Plot Group

Garden Inspections, Weed Control and New Signs

Flowers abound at the garden plots. Photos by Woody Shields

by Cindy Hensen

The garden plots currently have a waiting list.

Gardeners are asked to bring any rumors of garden plot openings to registrar Susan Curow so that she can check with the gardener. Curow is in charge of the garden area and monitors the plots bins in the shed.

For more information, contact Curow at (301-598-7215) or (scurow@msn.com)

Garden Rules and Reminders

All gardeners are asked to remain extra vigilant in controlling weeds and debris in their garden plots, to prevent weeds and debris from blowing or spreading into other plots.

If, at any time, a gardener cannot comply with the rules and cannot arrange for assistance, he or she is asked to notify Susan Curow, at (301-598-7215) or (scurow@msn.com).

The garden plots' five inspectors inspect the garden plots once a month. If a plot fails to meet the garden rules, then a letter is sent to the gardener. The gardener has 10 days to improve the plot. After three failures to comply, he or she loses their garden plot.

New interim inspector Jim Hensen is available to assist any inspector, and to help explain the rules to any gardener should a problem arise.

Other Updates

Club president Betty Kontaxis informed the Group that the garden road's potholes are filled, but the road needs repaving.

New signs will be installed to remind other residents that the garden plots are not open to the public for harvesting vegetables or flowers without the gardener's permission.

The Garden Plot Group meets the first Tuesday of the month at 9:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

Father's Day at the Train Yards

by Alan J. Goldstein

It was almost like getting on a rush hour Metro, but a lot more fun.

The Rossmoor Model Railroad Club's summer open house was packed with guests, their children and grandchildren on June 16 at the Club's train yards in the lower level of Clubhouse II.

A New Industrial Complex

The Club just completed a major addition of an industrial area near the town previously known as St. George on its huge HO layout. A nearly precise rendering of the actual railway station in nearby Kensington was added to the surrounding area, which was renamed to Kensington in its honor.

The industrial area surrounding Kensington is replete with industry, including a grain processing facility, a printing plant and smaller industrial buildings.

This complements an already rich array of manufacturing, mining and processing centers such as the Hudson Coal Yards, shown above.

Having both supplier and customer industries allows the Club to accurately simulate the operation of real railroads, using manifests and schedules to route freight from its source to its ultimate destination, building up and breaking down long haul trains along the way.

Club Meetings

Residents who find the Club's layouts in HO, N and O gauge exciting may want to consider joining. To go beyond the electric trains of youth and learn what real scale model railroading is about, attend one of the Club's working and operating sessions held every Monday and Wednesday from 5:30-7 p.m., and Thursday from 2 -4 p.m. at the train yards in the basement of Clubhouse II.

Residents may also attend any of the Club's business meetings, held the second Thursday of the month in Clubhouse II.

For further information or to join, call Marilyn Chmielewski, president, at (301-438-3259).

More Harm Than Good: Know What Not to Recycle

by Sarna Marcus and Janice McLean

It's gotten harder to do the right thing when it comes to recycling.

Until recently, China has been the U.S.'s biggest customer for recyclable waste, but it's becoming a fussy customer. China will no longer accept a shipment of recyclable waste that is even one half of one percent (.05 percent) impure, according to an article in the May 29, 2018 edition of the New York Times written by Livia Albeck-Ripka.

To complicate matters, China recently banned used plastic, and now many U.S. municipalities are no longer accepting plastics #3 to #7 – items such as yogurt cups and vegetable oil bottles.

Montgomery County, however, has not yet made this decision and continues to collect plastics #1 through #7, except for #6. Check the bottom of an item to find the number and act accordingly. An entire recycling batch can be contaminated by even one item: one-half of one percent of the batch.

Whether a resident lives in a villa and is responsible for his or her own trash and recycling, or lives in a high- or mid-rise building, everyone can take measures to assure they are recycling the correct items. Here is a list of what not to recycle:

- Pizza boxes – Since much of the cardboard box seems free of pizza oil, many people think it's acceptable to recycle, but it's not. Toss it down the trash chute.

- Paper coffee cup – Have you ever wondered how a paper coffee cup can keep the hot coffee from saturating and collapsing the cup? It's because an invisible polyethylene inner coating lines it. Again, just toss it.
- Food still in container – This seems to happen all the time in many trash room's recycling bins. A yogurt container half full, an ice cream container dripping with gooey, melted ice cream – these are trash, not recycling. Placing them in with the recycling will contaminate the entire batch, rendering the good intentions of your recycling neighbors null and void.

- Plastic bags – Plastic bags plug up waste managers' machinery. Plastic bags are the worst offenders in Leisure World, according to Brad Kline, Vehicle Maintenance, Sanitation and Recycling supervisor. They cost the staff time (and money) to separate all the bags residents throw in with the other recycling items. LW Green recommends residents take their plastic bags with them to the supermarket and toss them into the special receptacles reserved for them.

- Clear plastic carryout containers – If a couple scraps of pad thai are sticking to the plastic container, wash and recycle it. Recycled items need to be reasonably clean. They don't have to be scrubbed spotless, but a good rinsing is recommended.

- Dirty diapers – Trash only

Club Information

As a group of residents dedicated to becoming better environmental stewards, LW Green has decided to emphasize increased recycling, reducing and reusing in Leisure World through Club articles, environmental education events and working with the mutuals to increase awareness of the impact of recycling, reducing and reusing.

LW Green meets on the fourth Wednesday of the month at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse I. All residents are invited.

Interested residents can contact co-presidents Marybeth Ardike at (marybeth.ardike@gmail.com) or Janice McLean at (janicewmclean@gmail.com).

■ Jewish Discussion Group

July 22: The Ethical Will

by Jerome "Jerry" Cohen

The ethical will is the lead topic for discussion at the Group's upcoming session on Sunday, July 22, at 10:30 a.m. in Clubhouse II.

Last Session

At the Group's June 24 session, Dr. Ira Weiss presented his informative talk, "The Matsav (Situation)," which included a presentation of videos and slides before an appreciative audience of about 60 people.

While the Group did not resolve the differences and hostilities between the Israelis and Palestinians in Gaza during the session, it certainly learned a great deal about this political tinderbox.

Weiss' presentation was so interesting and engendered so many questions during the question and answer period, one could only wish there was more time to further discuss this hot topic. Needless to say, many opinions were expressed, and the session closed with a hearty round of applause and appreciation for Weiss.

General Information

Attend the Group's sessions and partake in the lively discussions of Jewish-related subjects.

Suggestions related to invited experts and discussion topics are welcome.

The Jewish Discussion Group invites people of all faiths to attend its free sessions held on the fourth Sunday of each month from 10:30 a.m.-noon in Clubhouse II. Recently, many new faces have been seen and the Group looks forward to welcoming even more people to its rapidly growing number of participants.

League Hosts Annual Meeting, Adds Positions to Existing Policy

by Maxine Lewack

On June 2, the League of Women Voter's Montgomery County (LWVMC) Rossmoor Discussion Group hosted the annual meeting and luncheon for the Montgomery County League of Women Voters.

Besides the usual business of annual meetings, resident Holly Joseph was honored as a 50-year member.

Although she began her membership in a different state, she continued participating after moving to Maryland, and eventually, Leisure World. The Group is proud of her dedication to promoting democracy and serving the community.

Attendees also voted to add some new language to the LWVMC policy, namely support for universal pre-K education and support for greater efforts to increase Montgomery County economic development.

Adding these positions to the League's existing policy enables the Group to lobby in favor of these positions. League of Women Voters' policies are arrived at from the bottom up: members propose studying a subject; a study group is formed; the results of the study are returned to the membership; and a consensus is taken.

Future Activities

Although the Rossmoor Discussion Group will not have a regular monthly meeting until September, many members will be busy with League tasks during the lazy, hazy days of summer.

Some will work on the voters' guide for the General Election in November. A few will take training at the Board of Elections for the Poll Support Program. Others will take voter registrations, and some will work on program material for the fall.

Several members will be educated on the meaning and effect of the ballot questions on the November ballot for the League of Women Voter's Speakers' Bureau.

Maryland State League of Women Voters continues to work towards more equitable redistricting in the state. Along with the Tame the Gerrymander organization, they co-sponsor a gathering on the 274th birthday of Elbridge Gerry, father of the gerrymander, on Sunday, July 15, at 2 p.m. at the Carroll Creek Amphitheater in Frederick, Maryland.

Representatives will discuss future plans to address the redistricting problem. Birthday cake and light refreshments will be served.

Club Elects New Officers

by Elizabeth Brooks-Evans

During the annual meeting on June 23, the Going It Alone Club's (GIAC) members elected the following officers: Ruth Witt, president; Georgiana Jones, vice president; Vivian Penda, treasurer; and Sharon Boone, secretary.

The meeting also included a brief review of the past year's activities and a look at the year to come.

Joe Parker and Sylvia Pachenker were applauded for planning and implementing the Club's many enjoyable trips taken throughout the year.

Members discussed other Club issues, such as its name, trip prices and desired games for Saturday Afternoon Live (SAL).

Members are encouraged to continue providing their input on Club issues and activities during board meetings, which are held on the first Thursday of each month at 3 p.m. in Clubhouse II.

Armchair Travel

On Saturday, July 7, travel with well-known travel guide Rick Steves to "Cinque Terre: Italy's Hidden Riviera."

Join calloused locals and other sunburned travelers enjoying the area's unique mix of Italian culture and nature. There's not a Fiat or museum in sight – just sun, sea, sand (pebbles), wine and pure, unadulterated Italy.

On Saturday, July 14, follow

Steves to "Siena and Assisi: Italy's Grand Hill Towns."

Take in Siena situated atop three hills, sit at a café on the main square and wander narrow, carless streets lined with colorful flags.

Tour the town named for St. Francis and see where he was baptized, a shirt he wore, a hill on which he prayed and the church where a vision changed his life.

Games

The Club enjoys bingo games on the second and fourth Saturdays of the month from 2:30-4 p.m. in Clubhouse II. There is no charge to play and participants are free to play as many bingo cards as they can handle. The winner of the last game of the day, known as "blackout," receives a prize.

GIAC needs someone to assist in calling the bingo games. Those interested should contact Sylvia Pachenker at (301-598-5325).

Club members play pokeno on non-bingo Saturdays, and bridge, poker and Rubik's cube are played every Saturday. A poker game will be added to SAL beginning on Saturday, July 7.

Trips

Trips are scheduled to Sight and Sound Theatre to see "Jesus" on Tuesday, July 24, Harris' Crab House plus the Amish Market on Thursday, Sept. 20 and Harrington Casino on Nov. 7. A trip to Dutch's Daughter in December is being planned, so watch for further information.

More detailed information on GIAC trips can be found in the Club Trips section of this publication.

Club Funds Zoo Trip for Pre-K Students

by Marcia L. Elbrand

With help from the Rossmoor Women's Club (RWC), 20 Head Start students recently took a trip to The National Zoo in Washington, D.C.

In recent years, the RWC has provided enrichment to the Head Start class at nearby Harmony Hills Elementary School in Silver Spring, Maryland.

In addition, many generous donors are helping the RWC provide books for the classroom library, subscriptions to "My Weekly Reader" and holiday gift books for each student's home library.

Volunteers provide the students with conversational opportunities to build language skills, according to Rita Posner, the RWC's education committee chairperson.

The education committee provides hundreds of dollars worth of nutritious food packages for the students' families five times a year to help strained family budgets during school vacations, and the RWC also supplies hand-knitted hats and scarves for the students to wear when the weather turns cold.

The RWC is currently completing its second year of assistance to the Head Start class and has nearly $1,000 in donations for the next academic year, but more donations are always welcome.

To donate, send checks, payable to Rossmoor Women's Club, to Marcia Hahn at (3100 North Leisure World Blvd., #720, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

Residents are asked to write Harmony Hills Elementary on the check's memo line.

Dues Time

More than 90 members have already sent in their $40 dues checks for the 2018-2019 Club year, according to RWC membership chairperson Arlene Siller.

Membership checks are welcome all year round. However, members who want their contact information included in the forthcoming 2018-19 Club directory must have their check to Arlene Siller before the directory goes to print.

Residents can reach Siller at (abs929@yahoo.com) or (301-460-7859).

Anniversary Gala

The Club's 50th anniversary celebration, "Cheers for Fifty Years," is on Sunday, Sept. 23, in Clubhouse I. Cocktails begin at 5 p.m. and the gala will feature a three-course seated dinner, with entertainment by the James Hubert Blake High School jazz ensemble.

A slide show of historic moments will be presented. To attend, send checks, $40 per person, to Carolyn Thompson at (15000 Pennfield Cir., #202, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

On the memo line, write Fiftieth Anniversary Gala.

Scholarship Fund

The Club's board has established a scholarship fund in memory of Patricia Lyddane, who recently served as RWC's treasurer for three years.

Funds will be used to provide a college scholarship for a young woman planning a career in accounting. Several generous gifts have already been received.

To donate to this fund, send checks to Marcia Hahn at (3100 North Leisure World Blvd. #720, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

On the memo line, write Pat Lyddane Scholarship Fund.

Writers Share ‘Pearls of Wisdom’

by Carlos Montorfano

Radha Pillai discussed a dream she had as a child of four in her Mother Country, remembering how easy it was to fall asleep during that period of her life and comparing it to the difficulty she has nowadays.

Gladys Blank read about how much she enjoyed seeing the musical “Camelot.” She recalled Robert Goulet’s version of the song, “If Ever I Would Leave You.”

P.D. Wendkos read his “Pearls of Wisdom” which begins, “Be selective in whom you choose as close friends and confidants” and “listen to your spouse, who means the best for you.” He also read a piece about the world’s silence toward minorities who suffer discrimination.

Douglas Kiessling shared how to make cement, which he said comes from Pennsylvania.

Denise Parker read “The Stoop,” recalling how every home in the past had a stoop where children played and mothers waited till 5 p.m. when “when fathers came home.”

Jane Hawes shared her experience using the buses that serve Leisure World residents. Frequent riders and the driver soon get to know each other, and the group becomes a small, friendly community.

Lee Hardy read a poem she wrote about something her son said when he was little that still brings a smile to her face. Her son, Mike, who was visiting from Texas, read a letter he wrote to his granddaughter, Mia.

A visitor, Priscilla, read her poetry in public for the first time. She wrote about reality, dust, family and travellers.

Danuta Montorfano read

“Short Walk in May,” giving thanks for avoiding the recent gigantic flash flood in Ellicott City, Maryland.

The Writers of Leisure World meet on the first and third Thursday of each month at 11 a.m. in Clubhouse I. All residents are welcome.

Club's Next Picnic Planned for August

by Beth Leanza

The Club takes a break from potlucks during the summer, switching instead to picnics. Its first picnic was on June 10, and another is planned for Sunday, Aug. 12, at noon at East Norbeck Park.

For a small fee, (usually $10, or $5 if you bring a dessert or salad) members can eat hamburgers (beef, veggie, turkey), hot dogs, steak, salads and desserts. The park's pavilion shields from rain and heat, so don't hesitate to come.

Movies and Outings

Boomers watch a movie in the Clubhouse II auditorium each month, usually on a Friday evening at 7 p.m., followed by shared refreshments. Sometimes, Club members go out to dinner at Gordon Biersch restaurant followed by a movie at Stadium 13 or Arclight in Rockville, Maryland.

Toby's Dinner Theatre in Columbia, Maryland, always puts on a great musical show with a generous buffet. Some months, Club members get together to play board games.

How Do I Join?

To join the Baby Boomer Club, send a check for $5, payable to Baby Boomer Club, to membership chair Susan Landesberg at (3505 Twin Branches Ct. 37-C, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

Include your address and phone number (if they are not on the check) and email address. Members who do not have email should keep in contact with a member who does, because the Club mostly communicates by email.

Adding the Baby Boomer group email address, (bbclw@googlegroups.com), to your contact list or address book will help to prevent the Club's emails from ending up in the spam or junk folder.

The Club keeps its emails limited to activities that members might enjoy.

Club members who have joined but are not receiving emails are asked to contact Beth Leanza at (301-598-4569) or (bethlea12020@gmail.com).

Mah Jongg

Experienced mah jongg players can join a group that meets on Tuesday or Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II. For more information, email Donna Copeland at (dc@grandmathegeek.com).

Friday Hikes with Joyce

The full walk is about three miles – 45 minutes in and 45 minutes back. Some walkers opt to turn around sooner.

If you want to carpool, contact Joyce Richardson at (301-598-7098) or (777cheekie333@gmail.com) by Thursday evening.

However, many walkers meet up at the walk site. Always bring water to each hike.

- July 13 – Swains Lock (Potomac) Meet in the parking lot. Bring water and a lunch. Drive through Norbeck Gate and turn left onto Norbeck Road. Norbeck Road becomes First Street, and First Street becomes Wootton Parkway. Continue on Wootton Parkway, and then turn left onto Falls Road. Turn right onto River Road. Turn left onto Swains Lock Rd. The parking lot is at the end of Swains Lock Road.
- July 20 – Crescent Trail (Bethesda) Meet in the Bethesda swimming pool parking lot at 10:15 a.m. Bring water and a lunch. Drive through the Connecticut Gate and continue onto Connecticut Avenue. Turn right onto Bradley Lane and drive for 1.1 miles. Turn left onto Hillandale Road and drive for 0.4 miles. Turn right onto Little Falls Parkway. Parking is on the right.

Sunday Morning Walks

For a three-mile walk right here in Leisure World, walkers can meet up on Sunday mornings at 8:30 a.m. near the corner of Leisure World Boulevard and Arden Court (across from Kelm-scott Drive). The group walks the entire Leisure World Boulevard circle. Usually, the walkers go out to breakfast after the walk.

Weeknight Walks

For those who want a shorter walk, meet up with some Boomers Monday to Friday at 7:15 p.m. in the Clubhouse I lobby. No one makes an announcement, so ask around.

Volkssport Walks

One Club member also belongs to the American Volkssport Association (AVA). He posts AVA walk information on (bbclw@googlegroups.com). Click on Walks, below the Calendar.

Need More Information?

The Club's website is available at (<https://sites.google.com/site/bbclwmd>) and includes a calendar with walk information.

We hear with our brain. Our ears are just a tool to transfer sound to the brain. Over time, reduced stimulation to the ears and brain can actually impair the brain's ability to process sound and recognize speech. When you can't hear what's going on around you, it contributes to reduced mental sharpness and communication abilities.

The Magic of Contacts

by Ron Masi

Often, LW Apple Club members assist residents in the Apple Clinic who keep their friends and family's contact information in scattered locations, such as a Pages list, Numbers list, different email accounts or paper address books.

Storing information in this way can be cumbersome, inefficient and difficult to keep accurate and up-to-date.

Keeping contact information in Apple's Contacts keeps all information in one place on all devices and makes it easier for the user to send emails and messages to individuals and groups.

Some shy away from Contacts because they don't want to enter the data. But consider the time saved and benefits derived; users can also delete outdated information in the process.

Entering Information Into Contacts

To enter information into Contacts, open the Contacts icon – a brown book with colorful tabs on the side.

Click the Add button (+) near the bottom center of the window, and then click on New Contact. A blank "card" appears with First (name) highlighted. Type in the contact's first name, and then then tab to the last name.

Continue down the card, clicking grey areas to enter information, such as home phone, mobile phone, email or home address. There is no need to fill in every field, just what will be most useful.

As a minimum, the Club suggests entering the contact's name, phone number and email address. As time permits, enter in information for all contacts.

Benefits of Contacts

After Contacts is populated, users can do many things with it, such as:

Print addresses on envelopes, including the user's return address, if it is in Contacts.

Print envelope labels and customize the font and even add images, a bonus for making holiday cards.

Print a list of all or selected Contacts:

Open Contacts, and then select contacts desired by highlighting each. Click Command + P to open a print window showing a thumbnail of the printout on the left and several options on the right.

Look at the right side carefully; this is where the user checks what he or she wants printed from the individual Contact cards. Check what you want printed and uncheck what you don't want. You'll see changes on the thumbnail to the left.

If a field is not completed on an individual's card, it won't print. From the same pop-up window, select other desired setting, a useful tool if a user wants to share hard copy of the data or create a handout of club members.

Easily send email and text messages by starting to type the contact's name – the rest fills in automatically, or options are provided between contact users with similar names.

Use Siri to call, email or send a text message by name: "Hey Siri, call/email/message Gladys." If the user has more than one Gladys, or if there is more than one phone number, say "Call Gladys Home" or "Call Gladys Mobile."

Create Groups of people, such as family members, Club members or mutual members, to send the same message to many people at once. A person can be in more than one group.

To create a group: In Contacts, select (+), new group and then enter a name for the group and drag those contacts want into the group. To remove them, drag the contacts out.

Club Reminder

The LW Apple Club is taking the summer off from presentations and meetings. The next meeting is on Tuesday, Sept. 25, when the Club hosts everyone's favorite speaker from Apple, Jim Ritz.

The Clinics will go on as usual, on the first three Tuesdays of the month at 10 a.m. in the Computer Learning Center in Clubhouse II.

July Fourth is Big Business

by Bernie Ascher

While some 45 million Americans are traveling to celebrate July Fourth this year, the rest are enjoying the holiday closer to home with cookouts, picnics, parades, flags and fireworks.

About 90 percent of those traveling at least 50 miles during the holiday season will drive automobiles, according to the American Automobile Association, and four percent will travel by plane. On average, Americans will travel over 600 miles to reach their desired destinations.

The National Retail Federation estimates that Americans spend about $7 billion on food and other merchandise to celebrate Independence Day.

More than 65 percent of Americans will attend picnics, and Americans will have approximately 75 million cookouts, according to Fox News.

On this holiday, Americans consume 150 million hot dogs along with roughly 70 million cases of beer. Consumers spend around $105 million on hot dogs plus $70 million for the buns, $37 million for the ketchup and $25 million for the mustard.

It is the top beer-drinking holiday of the year, accounting for more than five percent of the annual total, according to the Nielsen Company. Expenditures on beer exceed $1 billion. Wine accounts for another $560 million.

Many municipalities spend from $5-30,000 on firework displays, about 16,000 in the entire country, viewed by nearly 45 percent of Americans. New York assigns 5,000 police to maintain public safety during the Macy's parade and fireworks demonstrations.

Some 15 million people watch the New York fireworks on NBC and three million watch along the Hudson River. The nation spends more than $800 million on fireworks for this occasion.

Three states ban the sale of consumer fireworks: Delaware, Massachusetts and New Jersey. Since 2011, eight states have relaxed restrictions on the sale of consumer fireworks: Kentucky, Utah, New Hampshire, Michigan, New York, Georgia, West Virginia and Iowa.

The American Pyrotechnics Association reported that fireworks-related injuries declined by 43 percent since 2000, when the trend in relaxing consumer fireworks laws began.

According to (<https://wallethub.com/>), a personal finance website, 65 percent of Americans own U.S. flags. Ironically, U.S. imports of American flags come predominantly from China, about $5 million annually.

Americans celebrate the Fourth of July because Congress adopted the Declaration of Independence on that date. (John Adams thought it would be celebrated on July 2.) Britain did not learn of the Declaration until Aug. 30, 1776, and did not acknowledge independence until the Treaty of Paris in 1783.

Americans celebrated the holiday beginning in 1777. In 1870, Congress made it an unpaid national holiday, applicable only to federal workers in the District of Columbia. In 1885, Congress extended coverage to federal employees outside Washington. It was not until 1938 that Congress made it a paid national holiday for the entire country.

Perhaps the only negative aspect of Independence Day is that people do not receive presents. For chess players, July Fourth is not big business, although various places conduct chess tournaments annually during the holiday, such as New Jersey.

Chess players at Leisure World do not need festivals and special events to play the game.

In the game pictured on this page, Black's Knight at c4 is threatening to capture White's Pawn at a3, forking White's Queen and Rook. What is White's best move?

The answer follows this reminder that the Chess Club meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1-4 p.m. in Clubhouse II. Membership is free. For further information, call Bernie Ascher at (301-598-8577).

ANSWER: The White Queen moves to c6. Checkmate!

So, do not wait for patriotic music. Do not wait for a parade. Do not wait for fireworks. Play chess now!

For more information, call Maureen McCleary at (301-598-1145). Fee: $45 for 1 day per week; $75 for both days. Register at Clubhouse II.

NEW – Mild Exercise with Shirley: All exercises, seated or standing, are led by instructor Shirley Lloyd.

Class meets Tuesdays, July 24-Aug. 28, and Wednesdays, July 25-Aug. 29, 11-11:45 a.m. You can take the class on Tuesdays or Wednesdays, or sign up for both days. Fee: $36, one day per week; $60 for both days. Register at Clubhouse II.

NEW – Senior Sneakers: Get up and go with a safe, heart-healthy cardio workout that is gentle on the joints. The workout includes easy-to-follow low-impact moves and upper-body strength training. Have fun and move to the music through a variety of exercises designed to increase your cardio fitness level, strength, range of movement, and activities for daily living. Bring your hand-held weights and work at your own pace.

Class meets Mondays (with Shirley), July 23-Aug. 26, and Thursdays (with Sue), July 26-Aug. 30, 9-9:45 a.m. You can take the class on Mondays or Thursdays, or sign up for both days. Fee: $36, one day per week; $60 for both days. Register at Clubhouse II.

NEW: Tap Dancing in a Chair with Carol Neckar: This is great way to have fun, learn something new and exercise! If you are an experienced tapper and miss it, or a beginner who always wanted to tap, but your body says “no,” this is the class for you. For experienced tappers, this will be a “remember when” and an “ain’t this great!” review. For beginners, it will be an easy start with the basics, moving to delightful music that will make your feet want to dance. It’s going to be a lot of fun.

Experienced tappers who don’t need a chair are welcome to take the class, but all students work from a chair.

No tap shoes are required, but participants must bring a pair of hard sole shoes.

Carol began taking tap lessons at age four, continuing through high school when she taught tap to offset the cost of lessons, and performed in recitals and community theater. In college, she taught dance for the Physical Education Department and, in the summer, continued to perform in local theater. While her career took her in another direction, her love affair with dance has never ended.

If you have questions, call Carol at (301-598-5980).

Class meets Thursdays, Aug. 2-Sept. 6, 4-4:45 p.m. Fee: $38. Register at Clubhouse II.

Ballet Exercises for Seniors: Get ready to move like a dancer! No experience required. Enjoy ballet movements at the barre for seniors. These exercises promote balance while improving muscle tone and posture. Have fun and get fit. Low impact; learn the vocabulary of ballet: plié, releve and tendu. For more information, call Betty (301-598-4245).

Class meets Wednesday, July 25-Aug. 22, 2 p.m. Fee: $29. Register at Clubhouse II.

WATER EXERCISE

NEW – Water Exercise with Nancy: Participants will gain strength, stamina and tone from this cardio class. Dumbbells are used, although they are not required, and are available for purchase from the instructor.

Class meets Tuesdays, July 24-Aug. 28, and Thursdays, July 26-Aug. 30, 11 a.m.-noon. You can take the class on Tuesdays or Thursdays, or sign up for both days. Fee: $36, one day per week; $60 for both days. Register at Clubhouse II.

NEW – Non-impact Fusion with Beth: This class is held in the round leisure pool (warm water). Dance, yoga poses, and cardio movements are all fused together to give students an awesome, fun class. Participants will improve their posture, balance, flexibility and muscle strength.

Class meets Tuesdays, July 24-Aug. 28, and Thursdays, July 26-Aug. 30, 1-2 p.m. You can take the class on Tuesdays or Thursdays, or sign up for both days. Fee: $36, one day per week; $60 for both days. Register at Clubhouse II.

NEW – Aqua Fit with Shirley: This unique class blends the best of both worlds using water aerobics and yoga. Water aerobics is done in the lap pool for 30 minutes, focusing on cardio and strength. The class then moves to the social warm water pool and finishes up with yoga stretches that focus on balance and posture.

Class meets Wednesdays, July 25-Aug. 29, from 1-2 p.m. Fee: $36, 1 day per week; $60, when taken with one day of another water class. Register at Clubhouse II.
