

Computerized Machine Helps Users Make Complex Woodwork

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

Automation and design have joined forces at the Clubhouse II woodshop ever since the group acquired a Computer Numeric Control, or CNC, machine last December. The machine, which works by using automated machinery to cut wood to a computer design’s specifications, allows users to create elaborate carvings and engravings in their woodwork that would be too cumbersome to do manually. Proponents of the machine, like woodshop president John VanDyke, say it allows woodworkers to produce faster results with less waste. “You’re telling the machine what tool to use and how deep to go,” VanDyke said. Prior to moving to Leisure

World, VanDyke’s home in Virginia had a two-story woodshop, and he had been gearing up to purchase his own CNC machine. So once here, he already understood the value that automated machinery could bring to the group. One woodworker in the group, an artist, used to hand design and carve all his items before sandblasting them – a long process. “Whereas now we can take his drawing, put it into the computer, import it into the program, and 10 minutes later he can put it on the machine,” VanDyke said. VanDyke made practically every piece of furniture for his former home, from a Murphy bed built into the wall of a guest

Board Welcomes New Staff, Confirms LWMC Officers

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

The Leisure World Community Corporation (LWCC) board of directors voted on a medley of community directives and Leisure World Management Corporation (LWMC) proposals at its Oct. 31 meeting. The board kicked off the meeting by welcoming newly hired Tom Snyder, assistant general manager of facilities and services, who joined the LWMC staff Oct. 10. He replaces Jolene King, who left the position in July. Snyder is responsible for enhancing existing and new client programs, including short and long-range planning, construction and renovation projects, preventative and corrective maintenance, energy management and landscape, janitorial and asphalt and concrete management. The board also confirmed the appointment of several LWMC officers, including Snyder and Melissa Pelaez, director of mutual services, as vice presidents and Crystal Castillo, executive coordinator for support services, as secretary.

GOOD TO KNOW: PRO SHOP OPEN FOR ALL

Sure, residents can find new clubs and golf balls for sale at the community's Pro Shop, but the shop is also well stocked with merchandise that non-golfers can use and enjoy, too. Short and long-sleeved shirts, light jackets, warm quilted vests, Bermuda shorts, visors, hats, sunglasses and hand towels are all available in a rainbow of colors. Some have the Leisure World logo, others do not – but either way, visitors can look stylish and move comfortably as they enjoy their purchases.

bedroom, to floor to ceiling cabinets and shelving. But one of his more personal designs is a two-person cremation urn that will house his and his wife's ashes one day. A strip of wood now separates the two sides of the box's interior, which will lift to mix both sets of ashes together.

So far, just five woodworkers – VanDyke, Gary Weiner, Michael Higgs, Frank Roddy and Elliott Greenwald – are authorized to use the machine, which requires users to complete a six-month training course taught by VanDyke.

Woodshop user Gary Weiner has used the machine to make several items, including a one-of-a-kind pen and pencil box for his granddaughter.

After testing his design on a cheaper wood, Weiner made the final product using oak and purpleheart, an exotic, aubergine-hued wood that comes from the rainforests of Central and South America.

Weiner was initially against purchasing the CNC machine because he thought it would detract from the traditional craft of woodworking, but now believes it might actually attract more residents to the woodshop.

"The younger the person who joins the shop, the more [he or she is] into computers," he said.

And just as with the woodshop's manual machinery, the CNC machine is also being used to help repair other residents' old items or bring their imagined creations to life. Someone recently brought a small wooden chopping board and clock to VanDyke, and the machine will allow him to insert the clock into the board with the kind of precision he could never imagine doing by hand anymore.

The introduction of the CNC machine has sparked the group's interest in other automatic woodworking machinery, including a digital drill press that was recently added to the shop.

The Woodshop Users Group purchased the $9,000 CNC machine after their request from the community's Capital Equipment Fund was approved.

Low Vision Support Group

by Maureen Freeman,
Leisure World News

While vision loss can affect anyone at any age, low vision is most common for those over age 65, according to the National Eye Institute, a vision research division of the National Institutes of Health.

Losing the ability to see is not for the faint of heart.

When corrective lenses, medicine or surgery cannot help, a person with low vision might find the ordinary life functions – reading, cooking, watching television and, certainly, driving – challenging at best.

But the Low Vision Support Group provides practical help to those grappling with vision loss and its effect on their lives.

“It’s about the possibilities,” said the Group president, Larry

Cohen. “It doesn’t have to be as hard as you think it is. Life’s not over.”

The Group demonstrates that positive, productive attitude with a crowded slate of activities and regular speakers who address a variety of topics. A representative from the Washington Metro system shared information on navigating the transit system and taking advantage of discounts. Ophthalmologists discussed the importance of eye examinations and the symptoms they can detect. From other speakers, members have learned about using electronic gadgets; technology, equipment and items that can enhance their lives; and local and national organizations that assist people with low vision.

Members arrange group outings, too, including to the Rockville Public Library, where they engaged with a staffer who discussed the library’s materials and equipment for low vision patrons.

More recently, the Group has been on the move in another way, with a bone-builders exercise class that meets twice weekly in Clubhouse I. Sponsored by the Montgomery County Department of Health and Human Services and monitored by a sighted trainer, the class features stretching and movement using a chair or nearby wall.

Cohen plans to expand the bone-builders classes to all residents while continuing to provide an abundance of educational and functional support to members.

“I may be legally blind, but I still have vision.”

Community Fair Promotes Club and Organization Membership

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

Representatives from roughly 50 Leisure World clubs and organizations gathered in the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom Oct. 25 to share their mission, interests and activities in the hope that other residents would be enticed to join or learn more.

From sports and hobbies, to community service organizations and interest groups, there was a little something for everyone to consider as they browsed tables and chatted with their neighbors.

Some groups even demonstrated their past-time in real-time, such as Chess Clubbers Bernie Ascher and Hal Kern, who each played for checkmate as attendees shuffled by, with the occasional resident stopping to watch or learn how to play.

The Wood Shop Users Group's table was a lively spot, with a digital photo carousel of members in action and hand-made pieces of woodwork on display, such as trinket boxes, engraved plaques and even a candy dispenser.

The annual fair is an especially good opportunity for clubs with a small membership or niche interest, such as the Amateur Radio Club, to spread the word about who they are and how others can join them.

■ Jewish Residents of Leisure World

Nov. 12: Kristallnacht Observance

by Fred Firnbacher

Jewish Residents of Leisure World (JRLW) observes the 79th anniversary of Kristallnacht on Sunday, Nov. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Clubhouse II. The keynote speaker is JRLW member Fred Firnbacher, who experienced Kristallnacht.

In November 1938, a 17-year-old Jew living in Paris named Herschel Grynspan received news that his family had been deported from their home in Germany to the Polish border, where they were stranded and mistreated.

An enraged Herschel went to the German Embassy and shot a diplomat named Ernst Von Rath. On Nov. 9, Von Rath died. The Nazi propaganda chief, Josef Goebbels, saw the killing as an opportunity to take the persecution of the Jews to the next level.

With Hitler's consent, Goebbels called for a pogrom against Jews.

Within hours, Nazi stormtroopers were rampaging through almost every town and village in Germany and Austria. Synagogues were desecrated and set afire by the Nazis. Jewish businesses and homes were broken into and plundered. Most Jewish males were arrested and sent to concentration camps, and some were killed. Many consider this night to be the beginning of the Holocaust.

Kristallnacht, or "Crystal Night" in English, is also referred to as the Night of Broken Glass, a reference to the broken shards of glass from Jewish-owned stores that littered the streets.

The Kristallnacht Observance is sponsored by JRLW and free of charge. All residents are invited to attend.

SIGN UP ON RESIDENT WEBSITE

Would you like to be part of the community from the convenience of home?

Residents who wish to access the updated resident website (residents.lwmc.com) to take advantage of its information and resources must first sign up as a user.

Residents can sign up on the website's welcome page one of two ways – by clicking on either “sign in” in the center of the page or “resident sign in” at the top of the page.

Password

Residents who sign up to access the website must create their own sign-in names and passwords. Passwords must be a minimum of six characters (letters, numbers, symbols, or a combination thereof).

For example, “Apple$75” is a password that meets all the requirements, whereas the password “opal” does not. Choose a sign in name and password that are meaningful to you and easy to remember.

Once signed up, any user who forgets his or her sign in name or password should click on “Forgotten Sign In Name or Password” on the resident sign-in page and follow instructions for how to reset his or her sign-in name and/or password.

More Security Cameras = A Safer Community

In my opinion, the population of Leisure World could accurately be described as “vulnerable.” For example, there are residents who drive under the influence, automobile mishaps that are truly “accidents,” and non-residents who enter our campus on the bus or on foot and wander around without being challenged. These incidents and others put all residents in potential danger.

My solution is to install security cameras in all residential parking lots. When it comes to mutual property, this would need to be a project initiated and developed by each individual mutual, according to the Leisure World director of Security and Transportation. For Trust buildings, he said that there are some security cameras already in place and he expects more to be installed in the future.

To my mind, waiting until an untoward event occurs is not evidence of rational thinking. So, I urge all of my fellow Leisure World residents to contact your mutual management about the installation of brighter exterior lights, exterior cameras focused on parking lots and highly visible signage alerting everyone – residents, staff and visitors alike – that they are “on camera.”

Kudos to LW Bus Drivers

There are probably a few residents who ride our buses even if they still are able to drive their cars, but those of us who ride the bus out of necessity are fortunate to have wonderful Leisure World bus drivers. I have seen so many acts of kindness over time that I feel the need to share my observations. I might have missed it, but I have never heard management give these drivers the recognition that they deserve.

I believe that these drivers are one of the biggest drawing cards that Leisure World has. They make a practice of welcoming the rider and later, wishing them a good day. In some cases, I suspect that the driver's interest might be the only verbal contact that the rider will receive that entire day. These few kind words can make the difference between feeling worthwhile and thinking that nobody cares.

The drivers know practically every rider's name and something positive about them. One day a nearly blind lady did not see her bus arrive at the Giant supermarket. The driver got off the bus, and said, “Are you going home with me?” She then proceeded to help the woman onto the bus, putting the lady at ease.

Another time, an obviously disabled woman whispered to the driver that she needed new batteries in her smoke alarm and she was unable to perform that task. The driver pulled the bus to the side of the road and asked the other riders to please be patient while he installed the needed batteries. It only took a minute or two. It was not in his job description; it was just the kind thing to do.

One day the bus was totally full, so a rider had to be told he could not get onto the bus. After a number of riders departed at the medical center, the driver turned around and went back to get the person who had been left behind. Nobody would have expected this gesture, but it seemed “second nature” to the driver. They are constantly watching and making themselves available to help in any way that they can.

I could tell many more stories of the generous acts that I have observed and I am proud to ride with these individuals. I hope that, at the end of the year when management issues bonuses to deserving employees, our bus drivers will be included for compensation.

Nov. 8: The Starvation Army Band

The Education and Recreation Department is pleased to welcome The Starvation Army Band to Leisure World for a performance on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium.

For Leisure World, The Starvation Army Band plays an eclectic mix of Dixieland and swing music, as well as some klezmer and novelty tunes, that the band is sure you will enjoy.

The Starvation Army Band (SAB) was founded in 1989 as an offshoot of the Columbia Concert Band, and specializes in Dixieland jazz. Its founder, Jim Fozard, thought that the quirky moniker would elicit amusement, and perhaps some sympathy from an audience that might not quite know what to expect from the band.

Since then, the band has broadened its repertoire to include klezmer and swing. The band performs throughout the Baltimore-Washington area, including regular appearances at the Columbia Lakefront concerts, Columbia Festival of the Arts, Vantage House, the Longfellow July 4 parade, and the Hebrew Home of Greater Washington. All members pursue day jobs along with performing the music they love.

Tickets are $7 per person and are on sale in both clubhouse E&R offices. Please bring your Leisure World ID.

■ Education and Recreation Department

Nov. 18: Do Your Holiday Shopping at the Arts and Crafts Bazaar

The E&R Department's annual Holiday Arts and Crafts Bazaar is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 18, from 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m. in the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom. Start your holiday shopping right here in your own community. All vendors are Leisure World residents who are selling a variety of gift items – original, new and perfect for the holidays.

A vendor does not have to belong to a Leisure World arts or crafts group or organization, but must be a resident who has handcrafted the items offered for sale. All items must be new. This is not a flea market; no used, re-gifted or commercially manufactured items can be offered for sale.

E&R is looking for ceramicists (poured and thrown), artists, woodworkers, jewelry-makers, photographers, weavers, needle-workers, knitters, crocheters, seamstresses, quilters and anyone else who can offer new and original art and craft items for sale.

This is also a great opportunity for Leisure World groups, organizations and clubs – not just individuals – to raise money for charitable causes or other pursuits.

Registration is now open in the Clubhouse I E&R office. Registrants must fill out a form indicating what they will be offering for sale.

To accommodate the greatest number of residents and groups, space is limited to a maximum of 12 feet – the equivalent of two 3'x6' tables or one 3'x6' table and one rack. Vendors can rent tables at $18 for 3'x6' and $9 for 3'x3'. One chair is provided for a 3'x3' table, and two chairs for a 3'x6' table. The fee for extra chairs is $1 each. A limited number of clothing racks are available to rent for $10 each.

Tables, chairs or racks cannot be brought into the sale. (Display racks that fit on top of rented tables may be brought in).

Please note: If a vendor brings in his/her own rack(s), regardless of size, the vendor will be charged an additional $10 for each rack on the day of the bazaar.

Registration fees can be made by check (payable to Leisure World of Maryland Corporation) or by MasterCard, Discover or Visa (for charges over $10). Registration is first come, first served.

Merchandise may not be placed on chairs, next to or in front of tables and racks. Space is limited; items placed around the rented space impede traffic and are a major safety concern, and therefore will not be permitted.

Fair vendors may begin bringing in their merchandise at 8 a.m. The market opens to the general public at 9:30 a.m.

Vendors are reminded that they must remove all unsold merchandise and debris (boxes, hangers, wrapping materials, etc.) when they leave.

Individuals and organizations are responsible for the collection and payment of sales tax.

Nov. 30: Broadway Musical Milestones

Steve Friedman returns on Thursday, Nov. 30, at 1:30 p.m. in Clubhouse I for his continuing series of programs on the history of Broadway. He uses song and lecture to delve into how Broadway musicals have developed over the decades.

Certain musicals changed things in their times and had an impact on the future of the Broadway musical. Friedman demonstrates how these special musicals influenced our culture and vision of what a Broadway musical could be.

A Washington, D.C., resident, Friedman is a trained classical tenor and has performed many musical theater roles. It was through performing in musicals and his love of musical theater that he developed a desire to lecture on the history and development of the Broadway musical.

Tickets are $5 per person and on sale in both clubhouse E&R offices. Please bring your Leisure World ID.

Dec. 3: Free Speech Under Attack – What Would America’s Founders Say?

by Jonas Weiss

Stephen D. Solomon, professor of journalism at New York University and founding editor of (FirstAmendmentWatch.org), lectures about free speech on Sunday, Dec. 3, at 2:30 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium. His timely talk explores how the raucous political protest of the nation’s founding period gave meaning to the freedoms of speech and press at a time when the crime of seditious libel was used to punish criticism of the government.

Solomon is the author of the book, “Revolutionary Dissent: How the Founding Generation Created the Freedom of Speech.”

His previous book, “Ellery’s Protest: How One Young Man Defied Tradition and Sparked the Battle Over School Prayer,” explores the landmark 1963 case in which the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that state-sponsored prayer in public schools violated the religious liberty protected by the First Amendment. The case still inflames passions today, as Americans debate what role, if any, religion, prayer, creationism, intelligent design and the Ten Commandments should play in public schools.

Solomon holds a bachelor’s degree from Pennsylvania State University and a J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center. He teaches graduate and undergraduate courses on the First Amendment. His published articles have won two of the most prestigious awards for business writing – the Gerald Loeb Award and the John Hancock Award for Excellence, as well as the Hillman Prize.

by Mary Ann Johnston

The next meeting of the Patients Rights Council of Leisure World is on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 1:30 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

The presentation aims to guide people in their decision-making when facing advanced illness and death, and explains what people need to know regarding advance medical directives.

What is truly compassionate care? Will a patient be hooked up to all kinds of machines and tubes? When is it appropriate to allow death to take its natural course?

These are questions that permeate the culture and impact family discussions and decisions. The Council believes the answers to these questions are to inspire hope and a deeper appreciation for the gift of life.

Forr received a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's in education from the University of Notre Dame.

All residents and guests are welcome and encouraged to attend the Council's informative talks. The Council's treasurer continues to accept 2017-18 member dues.

FISH's Mission

FISH started in Leisure World in 1969 and has been serving the community ever since. Its mission is to lend assistive equipment to residents and employees.

FISH receives donations, so the equipment is not new, and staff does its best to make sure items are usable. FISH has wheelchairs, walkers (with wheels and without wheels), commodes that can be bedside or placed over the toilet, and tub stools (also called shower chairs).

FISH also receives donations of canes, crutches and easy reachers that staff is happy to give away. Other donations include incontinence items, blood pressure monitors, wheelchair pillows, baskets and trays for use on walkers.

Most items are stored in the closet, so feel free to take a look at what is there, and check back often.

Lost and Found

FISH also houses Lost and Found items turned into the E&R office. If you lost something, keep in mind that some Mutuals have their own Lost and Found collections.

A tip: Place an address label on items like canes so that you are identified as the item's owner.

Hours and Staff

FISH is staffed by volunteers and is open Monday to Friday (except major holidays) from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. The E&R staff can assist residents before and after hours.

Contact the FISH office at (301-598-1345). If the office is closed, or the volunteer has stepped out of the office, the call transfers to the E&R office.

Experiences of a Civil Rights Activist

by Patricia Means

Donald Wendell, a civil rights advocate and LWAAAC member, was the guest speaker at the group's Fall Membership Meeting and Program on Oct. 19.

Wendell has a long history in the civil rights movement. He spoke of his experiences in nonviolent protests, civil disobedience and dialogues, and cited life-threatening and confrontational situations during his activism to challenge racial discrimination in the U.S.

As an influential figure in the Congress for Racial Equality (CORE), Wendell motivated himself and others in the fight to gain and protect civil liberties. As part of the presentation, Wendell gave recognition and expressed appreciation for the late James Farmer, former director of CORE.

An in-depth article of Wendell's participation in the Civil Rights Movement appeared in the July 15, 2016 edition of Leisure World News. See the newspaper archive on the resident website (residents.lwmc.com) for a copy.

Upcoming Events

LWAAAC screens the movie "Rosenwald" on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse II auditorium. For more information, see the Events and Entertainment section of this publication.

Residents Enlist as Citizen Lobbyists

More than 40 people attended an LW Green-sponsored program on climate change on Oct. 22.

Guest presenter Phil Jakobsberg from former Vice President Al Gore's Climate Reality Project encouraged residents to join groups such as Citizens Climate Lobby (CCL) as a way of combatting the global threat of climate change.

Jakobsberg voiced optimism that energy sources that do not contribute to global warming, such as wind and solar power, are gaining ground and could soon reach a "tipping point," when they overtake fossil fuels in terms of economic viability.

CCL seeks a comprehensive federal solution to climate change. More information is available at (citizensclimate-lobby.org).

Other groups or individuals who would like to schedule Jakobsberg for a presentation can reach him at (pjakobsberg@gmail.com).

Holiday Open House and Two Artists of the Month

by Gail Bragg and Linda Daniels

This month, the Club has a real treat for everyone – two artists have their ceramic pieces on exhibit. Jim Cermak and Linda Daniels, who are relatively new to ceramics, share the shelves in the display case.

Daniels, who also paints, had crafted a few ceramic pieces with relatives when she was in her 20s. Cermak had no prior experience. They joined the Club in 2016 because they wanted to participate in a handmade Christmas gift exchange with Cermak's family. They made ceramic mugs painted with Maryland crabs for each family member.

This year, they have become more adventurous in their designs, expanded their skills, and have begun using a variety of ceramic techniques.

They still feel they have a lot to learn, but they have fun pouring the clay, painting and glazing their ceramics.

Daniels and Cermak appreciate the friendly assistance from the more experienced members of the Club, received both on an individual basis and during the periodic classes held that demonstrate specific molding and painting techniques.

Daniels has owned a home in Leisure World since 2008; she continues to be amazed at the variety of activities available in the community and the awesome talent of its residents.

Holiday Open House

Don't forget the Club's annual Holiday Open House on Thursday, Nov. 9, and Friday, Nov. 10, from 11 a.m.-3 p.m. each day in the studio. Holiday items will be on display as well as everyday pieces. This year's proceeds go to hurricane relief.

The Ceramics Club's $10 annual membership fee includes instruction on how to make your own ceramic pieces. We welcome new members, so drop by our studio in Clubhouse II. You can view some of our ceramic pieces in the studio's gift shop; they are for sale with proceeds going to charity. We hope to see you soon!

From Protesting to Painting

by Ann Bolt

Methinks the lady doth not protest enough!

Marie Powell, who feels pulled to protest about the world's unrest but would rather find an absorbing art class, is Rossmoor Art Guild's (RAG) featured solo artist for November and December.

In the 12 years she has been painting, Powell has chosen mostly western landscapes for subjects, with a few cityscapes. She appreciates the beauty of nature and this is reflected in her paintings at Clubhouse II.

She studied with artist Gavin Glakas, and currently studies with Barbara Piegari at RAG.

After retirement, she found time to take lessons in oil painting at the Woman's Club of Chevy Chase.

Powell is a native Washingtonian, but made her way to the University of California at Berkley where she earned a master's in social work, and learned the art of protesting during the 1960s.

After earning another degree in sociology at the University of Maryland, Powell ventured to the West and Midwest, working for a while in Kansas, then returned to her hometown area. She spent 30 years as a psychotherapist before finding her way to the art world.

Powell attributes her artistic efforts to genetic influence; her mother and aunt were both artists, as was her grandmother who went to art school in 1875. She has a daughter who is a page layout designer and another daughter who is a teacher.

She keeps busy reading and volunteering with the Montgomery County Literacy Council helping immigrants learn English.

November Exhibit

The November exhibit in Clubhouse I includes a section on "best buddies" by the Open Studio Group. There were no restrictions on how this might be interpreted. Come check it out. The Open Studio's theme for January is wheels – any kind.

RAG offers sincere apologies to Nancey Veit, whose name was misspelled many times with an overdose of "i" before "e." Some rules just don't fit all the time.

Nov. 8: Fossil Trip to Morocco

by Chuck Mason

Morocco is exceptionally rich geologically and is one of the primary places in the world for fossil collecting. Moroccan tours include many that focus on geology and fossils.

Take an armchair tour of the country's geology by attending the next meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II, when the featured program is "Morocco: A Fossil Collector's Paradise."

The Club's "tour guide" is Dr. Bob Farrar, who has a long history of collecting fossils and minerals, and has traveled far afield both to learn and to collect. He has presented programs at several clubs in the area, including Leisure World's. In 2013, he presented a program to the Club on amethyst of Brazil.

Farrar presents an overview of the country's major fossil locations and the types of fossils to be found at those locations. He also discusses some of the issues associated with the trade, such as questionable working conditions and the marketing of fakes. Attendees will also see some real fossils from Morocco.

I've never met a trilobite I didn't like! How about you? Come and see for yourself. Bring your own fossil for show and tell. Meetings are open to all.

The Gem, Lapidary and Mineral Society of Leisure World has a lapidary shop located in Clubhouse II. The shop is fully equipped for "cabbing," that is, the cutting and polishing of cabochons. With a slab saw, several trim saws, grinding and polishing units, a person can go through the whole process of creating a cab from a rough stone.

Club membership, training in shop procedures and use of the equipment, and a $15 shop fee payment is necessary to be able to use the shop. The shop is open Monday afternoons beginning at 2 p.m.

For more information about the shop, call Mark Parker, shop steward, at (240-723-5860) or Chuck Mason, assistant shop steward, at (301-933-3093).

For information about the Club, contact president Frank Roddy at (301-598-3698) or (roddy.frank2014@comcast.net).

Gardeners Take Stock As Season Winds Down

by Mary Lalley

The end of the season is approaching, and it is time to take stock. Gardeners should renew their plots by filling out an application and returning it to Susan Crow by Friday, Dec. 1.

Plot applications can be picked up and, when filled out, dropped off at the E&R office in Clubhouse I. If paying by check, be sure to included it with your application.

Seventeen people are on the wait list and five gardens are available, so now is the time to decide whether or not to renew.

Remember, in order for the initial deposit to be returned, the plot must be in planting condition when it is relinquished.

Clean-Up

Water is turned off on Wednesday, Nov. 15, and hoses are emptied and wound for storage, which is a group effort. Betty Kontaxis will post a notice of the exact date of cleanup, and she asks for volunteers to help. Plots should be cleared of debris and made ready for spring. The garden area is not a storage area.

Meetings

Monthly gatherings are suspended until spring 2018. The last seasonal meeting is Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 9:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I. Officers for the upcoming year will be elected, and all end-of-season issues will be discussed. The next meeting is in February 2018.

Security

Be aware that security is patrolling the garden area frequently for the safety of gardeners. Should an unusual or fearful situation arise, do not hesitate to use the red security phone located near the front gate to seek help. While the area is open to residents to walk and enjoy the garden space, it is not an area for parties for non-gardeners.

Remember to keep items in the garden areas to a minimum, step up to help for end-of-season chores and attend the Nov. 14 meeting. Have a happy, healthy winter and we'll meet again in the spring!

The event is an opportunity to socialize and meet new people. Send checks, $10 per person, to treasurer Helen Gross at (3100 No. Leisure World Blvd. #710) no later than Tuesday, Nov. 14.

December Meeting

The December meeting is traditionally a late lunch or early dinner at a nearby vegetarian restaurant, and an opportunity for extended socialization with other Leisure World vegetarians.

The group is considering several locations. Members who have location, time and/or date suggestions should contact secretary Iris Wolf at (leonardbwolf@msn.com).

Society Offers Free Shows to Mutuals

by Bob Bridgeman

The Gilbert and Sullivan Society of Leisure World recognize that many residents are not familiar with the aforementioned duo. Therefore, the group has started an outreach effort to introduce residents to the works of Gilbert and Sullivan, and possibly recruit new members.

Beginning in January, the Society offers a free performance to every mutual. The show, about one hour, consists of songs from several of Gilbert and Sullivan's works.

Residents interested in booking a performance for their mutual should contact Maggi Lindley, Gilbert and Sullivan Society vice president, at (magzjlindley@gmail.com) or (301-758-3889).

The Works of Gilbert and Sullivan

The Gilbert and Sullivan Society of Leisure World is dedicated to performing the works of Sir W.S. Gilbert, playwright and humorist, and Sir Arthur Sullivan, unofficial composer laureate of England and a favorite of Queen Victoria.

They wrote 14 comic operettas, including "H.M.S. Pinafore," "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Mikado," which were wildly popular in their time. They're still widely performed today, more than 100 years later.

Gilbert and Sullivan's operettas were the forerunners of our modern musicals, and, in many ways, resemble them more than grand opera. Their songs and choruses, mostly light and comic, are interspersed with dialogue. Though more than a century old, the works of Gilbert and Sullivan are as fresh and sparkling today as when they were written.

Gilbert may have chosen specific aspects of Victorian society for his satire, but his wit is still relevant. "I always voted at my party's call / and I never thought of thinking for myself at all," sings Sir Joseph Porter in "Pinafore," but it's a line that could just as easily belong to many modern politicians.

Gilbert and Sullivan's songs continue to turn up in television shows as diverse as "The Muppet Show," "Animaniacs," "The Simpsons" and "Rumpole of the Bailey." As recently as 1982, Joseph Papp mounted a successful production of "The Pirates of Penzance" on Broadway, with Linda Ronstadt and Kevin Kline in the leading roles.

by Hannette Allen

The four performances of Joan Bowar's musical revue, "The '60s in Song and Dance," provided delight and nostalgia to its performers, backstage workers, and audiences.

Many walked out happily humming the wonderful songs of that era. Thanks to all for their hard work and dedication to this show. After the final performance, the cast enjoyed a spectacular potluck party, managed by Aileen Feldman.

December Meeting and Show

The group's regular monthly meeting is on Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Clubhouse II. The entertainment is an adaptation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," presented by Steve Bennof and Mary Jane Boyle.

The beloved play has many colorful characters and promises to be a pleasure to perform or see. As always, attendance is free for Fun and Fancy members, or $5 for admission only to this event for non-members.

Judaic Study Group Celebrates 'Women Who Do'

by Barbara Eisen

Hadassah exemplifies “women who do” (and who have done) – women who are or have been outstanding in any field, whether it is art, music, theater, films, medicine, writing, politics, science, social work or another.

On Monday, Nov. 20, the Judaic Studies Group discusses women across this spectrum of achievement at 1:30 p.m. in Clubhouse I. Tell the group about someone you know, either famous or simply someone who had an impact on your own life – a woman who represents the Hadassah ideal of “women who can.”

Please join us; all are welcome. Contact Peri Schuyler at (301-869-2968) or (peris-laptop@aol.com) for further information.

Musical Program

The Club’s regular meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse I features Cantor Michael Kravitz, who presents a musical program entitled “Jewish Composers Go to the Movies, Part 3.”

The program is a continuation of his two previous programs. Kravitz shows clips from films to illustrate his presentation. His programs are always entertaining and offer new and interesting historical insights.

If attending, please RSVP by Friday, Nov. 10, to Janet Lazar at (301-598-4066) or (lazarjl@verizon.net). If your last name starts from Q through Z, please bring a snack to share. Let Janet know what you are bringing when you RSVP.

Pin Sale

Hadassah continues its sale of unique, one-of-a-kind pins, handmade by resident fabric artist, Bobbi Gorban. The pins are $18 each. There are three types: sunburst, vintage, and flower.

All pins are made to order. You may indicate your main preferred color(s) or any other special requests. Designs and colors are unique and will vary. All pins are approximately three inches in diameter and have pendant clasps. Order several for yourself, family and friends. You don’t have to be a member to buy a pin.

Order forms are available at each Hadassah meeting, or pick one up in the Hadassah mail slot in the Clubhouse I E&R office. For questions, contact Judy Rumerman at (judyrumerman@gmail.com) or (301-680-0850).

Cards

Elaine Schenberg and Jan Bloom sell Hadassah greeting cards. The prices are $2.50 each or five for $10. Cards are displayed and sold at every Hadassah meeting. Please call Elaine at (301-598-0079) or Jan at (301-593-7720) to buy cards between meetings.

Project

Larelda Gruber (301-598-5922) is chair of Youth Aliyah/Children at Risk. This project helps disadvantaged children in Israel.

The goal is to create a circle of $1,000, made by individual contributions of $40. Please send donations to Larelda at (3200 N. Leisure World Blvd. #201, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

Presidents as Leaders: From Carter to Trump

by Sharon V. Freedman

On Friday, Nov. 17, and Friday, Dec. 1, the Jewish Residents of Leisure World (JRLW) education committee welcomes Dr. Michael Siegel, one of last year's popular brunch speakers, for a new two-part seminar.

In his seminar, "Presidents as Leaders: From Carter to Trump," Siegel analyzes the leadership skills of the six most recent presidents, seeking to de-mystify the elements and dynamics of effective presidential leadership, which our democracy has come to depend upon and value.

He argues that leadership in the White House can be explained and assessed by using a consistent set of criteria to analyze presidential performance. The leadership criteria that Siegel uses to evaluate the presidents are: vision, execution (implementation), management and decision-making.

Siegel shows that presidential leadership is exercised by real, flawed human beings, and not by super-heroes or philosopher-kings beyond the reach of scrutiny or critique.

Both sessions take place from 10-11:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

The Nov. 17 session covers Presidents Carter, George H. W. Bush, and Clinton, and the Dec. 1 session focuses on Presidents George W. Bush, Obama and Trump. Siegel will give attendees time to ask questions after the seminar.

Siegel is a senior education specialist at The Federal Judicial Center in Washington, D.C. He organizes and presents training programs for federal judges and court unit executives on leadership development and negotiation skills.

He also teaches as an adjunct professor at Johns Hopkins and American Universities. He is the author of the book, "The President as Leader" and 15 articles in political science and criminal justice journals.

All residents are welcome to attend. Tickets, $20 per person for both sessions, are available at the Clubhouse I E&R office. Please keep your ticket to use for both sessions. Make checks payable to JRLW.

For any questions, contact Sharon V. Freedman at (skfreedman@yahoo.com) or (301-367-8141).

Club Invites Residents with Absent Spouses to Join

by Elizabeth Brooks-Evans

Residents with spouses who are incapacitated in some way, or are residing away from them, are invited to join the fellowship and fun provided by the Going It Alone Club (GIAC) by becoming members.

Residents who wish to sign up for membership or trips can do so during Saturday Afternoon Live (SAL) from 1:30-3 p.m. in Clubhouse II. Representatives can provide information and answer questions about the Club and its activities.

For more information about membership, call club president Marion Callaghan at (301-598-6779).

Armchair Travel

Each week, SAL begins with armchair travel at 2 p.m. in Clubhouse II. On Saturday, Nov. 4, members sit back and travel to Venice, Italy, a city of museums and churches packed with great art.

At night, when the hordes of day-trippers have gone, another Venice appears.

Travellers might dance across a floodlit square or glide in a gondola through quiet canals while music echoes across the water.

Games

Following travel, the games begin at 2:30 p.m. with bingo, played on the second and fourth Saturdays of the month, and Pokeno on alternate Saturdays. Rummikub, bridge and poker are played every week. GIAC president Marion Callaghan invites members to join her for dinner at the Terrace Room after games.

Trips

Trips scheduled for 2018 include Harrington Casino in Kent County, Delaware on Thursday, March 22; a "High Tea" at Camellia's Sin Tea Parlor on Tuesday, May 22 and a cruise to Cape Cod and the Islands in June. See the Club Trips section of this publication for details.

■ Rossmoor Woman's Club

Don't Miss Club's Sweet Treat Sale

by Marcia L. Elbrand

On Monday, Nov. 13, more than 50 Rossmoor Woman's Club (RWC) volunteers begin a weeklong sale of Claxton's fruitcakes, Georgia Mascot pecans, and gift boxes of See's chocolates.

The sale runs through Friday, Nov. 17, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. in the Clubhouse I lobby. Final sale hours are on Saturday, Nov. 18, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. just outside the Stein Room in Clubhouse I.

The sale includes dark and light fruitcakes still priced at $5 each. However, prices have risen for both chocolates and pecans.

"Hurricane Irma storm damage wiped out 25 percent of this year's pecan crop. With a much smaller harvest, growers had to increase prices somewhat, in order to survive," said sale chairperson Abigail Murton.

Nonetheless, the sale still includes new crop pecans, the freshest, and traditional favorites, such as pecan halves for $14, chocolate-covered pecans and cinnamon pecans for $12, and chocolate-pecan-caramel clusters, reminiscent of brand-named "Turtles," for $10.

In previous years, many specific items sold out by midweek, so shoppers are encouraged to come early and often. Cash and personal checks are accepted, but credit cards are not.

Sale proceeds benefit local charities, including hospices, a domestic violence shelter and families visiting wounded warriors. RWC also funds college scholarships for James Hubert Blake High School seniors and women in Montgomery College's A.C.E.S. program. Contributions also help support Fireside Forum and Friends in Sickness & Health (FISH).

Knitting Alert

RWC's education committee, lead by Rita Posner, has a partnership with nearby Harmony Hills

Elementary School. In addition to providing teacher-selected books and bags of nutritious food for the children's families, youngsters in the Head Start class each receive winter hats and scarves knitted by volunteers.

Residents who knit are encouraged to create scarves, four inches wide and 40 inches long. For hats, the pattern is "Bev's Really Basic Knit Hat," size 4-9, found at (www.ravelry.com). For either project, use worsted wool on number 8 needles. For more specifics, contact Rita Posner at (ritaposner@gmail.com).

Residents can also send donations, checks payable to Rossmoor Woman's Club, (check memo line: Harmony Hills) to treasurer Pat Lyddane at (15107 Interlachen Dr., Apt. 418, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

Holiday Luncheon

RWC holds a holiday luncheon on Wednesday, Dec. 6, at Manor Country Club.

The highlight of the luncheon is a performance by members of the James Hubert Blake High School string quarter.

Nov. 8: Group Discusses Montgomery County's Rental Housing

by Elaine A. Apter

Montgomery County is changing from a bedroom community to a more urban area. About one third of county residents are now renters, either by choice or necessity according to a Sept. 7 Washington Post article.

The county maintains a vacancy rate of one percent compared to the national average of five percent.

Residents may know someone who wants to rent housing in the county. How easy is it to find a unit that meets their needs in size, location and affordability?

The League of Women Voters' Rossmoor Discussion Group looks at the county's rental situation on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 10:15 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

League meetings are open to all. Please join us.

League Takes Lead in Redistricting Fight

The League of Women Voters is at the forefront of rallying against gerrymandering. It is one of the League's top priorities at all levels of government.

The League participated in a rally outside the Supreme Court in October during oral arguments in the Gill v. Whitford case, which challenges partisan redistricting in Wisconsin and could have implications for redistricting nationwide.

League of Women Voters of Maryland co-president Elaine Apter testified in favor of taking the redistricting process out of the hands of elected officials at the recent State Redistricting Commission hearing.

The League supports the idea that voters should select their elected representatives; elected representatives should not choose their voters.

League Calendars

The League's popular calendars are available for purchase. The 2018 calendars have large boxes for recording events, are loaded with information about Montgomery County, and are erasable.

They make great gifts for only $8. Calendars are available at Gold Castle Jewelers in Leisure World Plaza, or contact Elaine at (301-438-8707).

General Information

The League of Women Voters' Rossmoor Discussion Group meets on the second Wednesday of the month at 10:15 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

League meetings are open to all. The next meeting is Nov. 8.

This is the fifth home I've sold in my life, and Barbara Michaluk is probably the best realtor I've ever had. Her market research was thorough and accurate, she gave us great advice on how to spruce up the home and assisted with finding and coordinating contractors, so we could get the home on the market quickly. She was available whenever we needed to talk. I highly recommend Barbara for anyone seeking an experienced, energetic and results oriented realtor!

Election Expert to Address Democrats

by Rita Penn

Confused about next year's election? The Democratic Club hears from someone who can walk members through the confusion, Dr. David Lublin, on Thursday, Nov. 9, at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

Lublin is an author and professor of public affairs at American University. He is also the former mayor of Chevy Chase and has experienced elections firsthand.

He currently writes a blog, (www.theseventhstate.com), in which he expounds on much that is happening in Montgomery County politics.

In addition to commenting on the many candidates running for various county offices, he will also touch on elections in the neighboring states of Virginia and New Jersey.

So come to be enlightened about this very unusual election year, and be prepared to meet some of the candidates, as they have an open invitation to attend Club meetings.

Residents can also report their traffic concerns to the MDOT representative.

OLNEY THEATRE CENTER

Everyone Is Invited to the Health Roundtable

by John Moens

On Monday, Nov. 20, all residents and visitors are invited to the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom for the largest event chapter 1143 has ever hosted: The Health Roundtable.

Seating begins at 1:30 p.m., and the event begins promptly at 2 p.m. Admission is free and tickets are not required. Attendees can sign up for a free hearing test.

Speakers from AETNA, CareFirst Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Kaiser Permanente, MedStar Health, New York Life, the Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP), the Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare address the audience, and then move to individual tables to provide more detail and answer questions.

Be sure to take notes and take advantage of any free literature. The Ballroom must be cleared no later than 4 p.m.

The Health Roundtable concludes the chapter's autumn series of events that began with Rep. Jamie Raskin's program in September, and was followed by a special program for veterans on Oct. 16.

Veterans' Program

During the veterans' meeting on Oct. 16, Phil Munley, director of services for the Maryland Department of Veterans Affairs, and Michelle Morgan-Bey, director of the department's Rockville office, addressed veterans from all branches of the armed forces.

Munley mentioned the trust fund that aided a Silver Star recipient living in a building without heat. He suggested that claimants contact an accredited advocate, such as Morgan-Bey, to avoid lengthy processing delays.

To minimize burdens on their families, veterans should make preparations for when they pass on. Marines who were based at Camp Lejeune were exposed to contaminated water, and the department wants to make sure they are treated if any symptoms develop.

The chapter hopes to make this an annual event, so that chapter members can help those who did so much to help the nation.

Baby Boomers Anticipate Holiday Party

by Beth Leanza

The Club enjoys a holiday party featuring a potluck dinner and band on Saturday, Dec. 2. Bring a dish to share.

The party costs $5, but members who prefer not to cook can purchase additional food and supplies by paying $10.

The Club screens a movie in the Clubhouse II auditorium each month, and sometimes go out to dinner and a movie. Members should check their email for details. Baby Boomers had a great final picnic in October with more than 60 people attending.

Mah Jongg

If you already know how to play mah jongg, join the group on Tuesday or Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse II. For information, contact Donna Cope-land at (dc@grandmathegeek.com).

Friday Hikes with Dawn

Many walkers meet up at the walk site, but if you want to carpool, contact Dawn Carlisle at (301-598-7098) by Thursday evening. Always bring water to each hike.

Nov. 10 – Woodend Sanctuary (8940 Jones Mill Rd.) Meet in the parking lot near the gift shop at 1:15 p.m. Bring water. Go through the Connecticut gate and continue south on Connecticut Avenue for five miles. Turn left onto Plyers Mill Road and drive for 364 feet before taking the first right onto Metropolitan Avenue. Turn right onto Stonybrook Drive and continue onto Jones Mill Road for .6 miles. Woodend Sanctuary is on the right.

Nov. 17 – Berma Road, Potomac: (10801 MacArthur Blvd.) Meet in the parking lot across from Old Angler's Inn at 1:15 p.m. Bring water. Go through the Norbeck gate and make a left onto Norbeck Road. Continue on Norbeck Road. Norbeck Road becomes First Street for a short distance and then becomes Wooton Parkway. Follow Wooton Parkway to Falls Road. Turn left onto Falls Road. Falls Road becomes MacArthur Boulevard. Continue onto MacArthur Boulevard until you see The Old Angler's Inn on the left. The Berma Road parking lot is on the right.

Sunday Morning Walks

On Sundays at 8:30 a.m., another group of walkers walks the three-mile loop around Leisure World Boulevard, occasionally leaving Leisure World's premises. They meet up at the corner of Leisure World Boulevard and Arden Court across from Kelmscot Drive. Sometimes they go out for breakfast after the walk.

Weeknight Walks

From Monday to Friday at 5:15 p.m., a few Boomers meet in the Clubhouse I lobby to walk the one-mile around the Broadwalk in Montgomery Mutual. Announcements are not made;

so first-time walkers should introduce themselves.

Volkssport Walks

One Club member belongs to the local American Volkssport Association (AVA) and updates the website with information on various walks.

Some walks are seasonal and can be completed within a given date range, while others are preplanned, group events. Members can get information about them from a local "walk box." You don't have to be a member, but AVA does encourage members with awards.

For more information, visit the Boomer's website and click on "Walks" below the Calendar.

Join the Club

Looking for an enjoyable evening out with other residents? Are you looking for people who like to play board games, go for walks, watch movies and dance to the music of the '50s and '60s?

Then check out the Baby Boomer Club; dues are only $5. Residents who join now will be paid up for 2018. Residents can join by attending a Club event or mailing checks, $5 per person, to Club president Pat Leanza at (15111 Glade Dr. 1B). Include your email address, as most Club communication is sent via email.

Residents who don't have email are asked to write "no email" on their check. The Club strongly urges members without email to connect with a member who does have it, so they do not miss out on the fun. The Club keeps its emails limited to local activities members might like.

For more information about membership, call Pat Leanza at (301-598-4569). For more information about the Club, visit its website by searching for "BBCLWMD." The calendar lists Club events and information on various walking opportunities.

Not Getting Emails?

Members who joined but are not receiving the Club's email are asked to contact Beth Leanza at (301-598-4569) or (bethlea12020@gmail.com).

Destruction, Gullible Hunters and Drapery

by Carlos Montorfano

Radha Pillai read “A Last Thrill,” about the Oct. 1 mass-murder attack in Las Vegas. Coincidentally, the next day, Oct. 2 was Mahatma Gandhi’s birthday and the International Day of Non-Violence.

Danuta Montorfano read “Island in Despair,” about the terrible damage done by Hurricane Maria in Puerto Rico, an island she had visited and where she had even worked at one time. Grace Cooper read her poem “Cage,” about the fog that masters the sea.

Bobbie Troy read some of her short poems, including another of her “She” poems. This one was about a singer who sang as she had never sung before, and of her audience who had no hint that this would be her final concert.

Woody Shields read another chapter from his book, “The Gullible Deer Hunter,” recounting how hunters are vulnerable to exploitation by scammers who try to sell them any kind of product that might increase their chances of “baggin’ a big buck.”

Verna Denny read the very romantic, true story of how she and her partner first met during a vacation in Nantucket. After their first date, they found out that they lived on the same block, steps away from each other in Manhattan. They celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary this year.

Gladys Blank told the group about the time she decided to replace the drapery shears on her balcony’s large glass sliding door, but found out that the cost was higher than she expected. She got a second opinion from someone who serendipitously showed her a picture of an oil painting, “Orange Lady.” She liked it so much she asked for a copy and will soon own it.

Lee Hardy read “Prince Indra of Manor Hill,” about a black dog her family adopted that became her best friend and guardian. Jane Hawes read about her first trip to China and the culture shock she experienced there.

Meetings are on the first and third Thursday of the month at 11 a.m. in Clubhouse I. All residents are welcome.

■ LW Apple Club

Are You Updated?

by Ron Masi

Although Apple notifies vendors of non-Apple software and peripherals, there is no guarantee that all vendors have updated their applications to work with the latest OS update.

This may affect the very few users that have older or non-standard software or hardware. If in doubt, visit (<https://roaringapps.com>) or call or visit the product’s site before proceeding.

- The latest updates are:
- iOS devices (iPhone, iPad, or iPod touch): iOS 11.0.3
- Mac (desktop and laptops): MacOS High Sierra 10.3
- Here’s how to know if a device is current or needs updating:

iOS Device:

1. In Settings, tap General > Software Update — where the user is advised if the software is up-to-date. Users who need an update should do a backup first. To complete an update, the device needs to have at least a 50 percent charge. If the device has less, plug it in.

2. Tap Download and Install. The update will then download to the device. It may take many minutes depending on the user’s network connection and speed. (Have a glass of wine or read the paper.)

3. Once downloaded, the user is asked if he or she wants to “install now.” The user can install now or later. Installation could take up to an hour.

3. If the user is asked to enter his or her passcode, he or she should do so (remember, the passcode is not the user’s Apple password).

4. A message will appear when installation is complete. The user will also receive a short message introduction to the new iOS.

5. The user will be able to use the device as he or she did before without extensive retraining, but will notice a slightly new look.

To learn more about the new iOS, go to the Tips app already on the device to see, “What’s New in iOS 11,” and check back often.

Mac:

Be sure the Mac is backed up before updating. If the device is portable, it must be plugged in.

Go to the App Store and download the High Sierra

Mac Update. Just like the iOS download, it may take many minutes. When the download is complete, the installer will open automatically.

Follow the installation directions. Be prepared for the installation to take well over an hour. After the update is finished, the user will receive a short introduction to the new OS.

Explore and enjoy.

■ 10-Pin Bowling League

Half and Half Pours on the Winnings

by Rita Mastrorocco

As winter approaches the following bad weather rule is in effect: If Montgomery County schools are either closed or on a two-hour delay based on snow or icy conditions, the league does not bowl.

The league is based on handicaps with averages for the bowlers ranging from 69 to 175. Even if you have not bowled in years, come out and join the fun.

Chess Devotion Is More Than Skin-Deep

by Bernie Ascher

People can't buy kangaroo leather shoes in California, even though Australian kangaroos are no longer on the endangered species list.

The state first prohibited the sale of kangaroo products in 1971, a year after banning products made from 23 other animals, including polar bears, zebras, whales, dolphins and elephants.

Kangaroo-skin shoes are preferred by soccer players because of their flexibility, mobility, and comfort. The shoes, such as Adidas Predator, generally sell at higher prices than ordinary soccer shoes – about $200 a pair.

In 2003, a British-based animal-rights group with an office in Davis, California, called VIVA! (Vegetarians' International Voice for Animals), challenged Adidas, arguing that the California ban was valid because states have the power to enact stronger protections for wildlife than the federal government.

The group argued that kangaroos are slaughtered cruelly, and millions of kangaroos are killed every year in what the group said "is widely regarded as the largest wildlife massacre on the planet."

A San Francisco Superior Court judge and the appeals court ruled in favor of Adidas in 2006, concluding that the law conflicted with a federal policy to resume imports in 1981 as a result of Australia's implementation of a program managing its kangaroo population.

In 2007, the California Supreme Court, however, reversed the decision, thus upholding the law.

Despite the court decision, California's legislature enacted a moratorium in 2007, which was scheduled to expire at the end of 2015. Efforts by California businesses to remove the ban permanently failed, allowing the ban to be reinstated on Jan. 1, 2016.

Nationally, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) originally banned imports of kangaroo products in 1974, but allowed imports to resume in 1981 because the kangaroo population had increased to 35 million, and Australia had imposed hunting quotas.

In 1995, USFWS delisted kangaroos due to Australia's kangaroo population management program. The International Union for Conservation in Nature, an international organization that monitors endangered species worldwide, has ruled that kangaroos are not threatened with extinction and classifies them in a category "of least concern."

Under Australia's commercial harvest program, there are no kangaroo farms. All kangaroos are killed at night in the wild by licensed marksmen who follow a federal "Code of Practice for the Humane Shooting of Kangaroos," which requires a single bullet to the head.

The number killed each year for meat and skins is subject to quota limits, generally 10 percent of the population or roughly two million per year. The population of the harvest area averages about 25 million, but has been as high as 50 million in some years. Despite these harvests, the kangaroo population continues to grow. Some parts of Australia are overrun by kangaroos, which are regarded as pests in rural areas.

The kangaroo industry contributes to Australia's exports and overall economy with production valued at $174 million in 2014, generating 4,000 direct and indirect jobs, 2,000 of which are in the processing and transport sector, in addition to allied jobs in government. Kangaroos also are recognized for their appeal to tourists.

Chess players do not need to wear kangaroo leather shoes to play their game. In the chess game on this page, Black's King is in trouble on all sides, but it is Black's turn to move. What is Black's best move?

The answer follows this reminder that the Chess Club plays Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1-4 p.m. in Clubhouse II. For further information, call President Bernie Ascher at (301-598-8577).

ANSWER: Black's Queen moves to e1. Checkmate!

So, do not wait for a hunting license. Do not wait for kangaroo shoes. Do not wait for an end to California's ban. Play chess now!

Nov. 6: Newcomer Duplicate Bridge Meeting

by Jerry Miller

The next meeting for newcomer duplicate bridge, sponsored by the Duplicate Bridge Club, is on Monday, Nov. 6, at 6:45 p.m. in Clubhouse I.

In duplicate bridge, players hold the same hands, so skill, rather than luck, is emphasized. The newcomer games offer experienced duplicate players as mentors.

Mentors provide a printout of the hands played at the end of the game, so players may review the hands they played without having to rely on memory.

A minimum of 20 persons comprising five tables is required to have a successful game, and justifies the time and effort required to prepare and supervise the game. Members are encouraged to invite their bridge-playing friends to ensure the continuation of these games.

Pairs are preferred, but singles are matched up when possible. A charge of $2 per person is collected at each session.

To aid in planning and forming partnerships if necessary, please RSVP by Sunday, Nov. 5, to Aaron Navarro at (abn123@netzero.com) or Nadyne Cheary at (slamfan105@aol.com).
