Resident Organizes Donation Drive to Help Save Lives

When Mutual 14 president Ruth Hunter caught wind that CPAP machines, commonly used to treat obstructive sleep apnea by keeping airways open, might also be used to treat patients with COVID-19, she knew she had to help.

After a slew of emails and phone calls, and with the help and guidance of friends and a community-wide robocall from Leisure World management, Hunter was able to organize a donation drive at nearby Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church that within three days procured approximately 100 CPAP machines for the Montgomery County Department of Health and Human Services.

“The county told me that 40 [CPAP machines collected] would be an excellent response,” Hunter said. The donation drive more than doubled those expectations.

“This has shown us that everybody can do something,” said Rev. James “Jim” Boccabella, pastor of Our Lady of Grace, who offered the church’s vestibule as the designated drop-off location and helped carry the bagged machines to the county’s pickup trucks on April 13.

“Father Jim has been so helpful and cooperative,” Hunter said. “When people phoned him to say they couldn’t get to the church on their own, he arranged...”

Executive Committee’s Meeting to be Live Streamed on Website

The Leisure World Community Corporation (LWCC) executive committee, which was recently granted authority by the LWCC board of directors to temporarily act on the board’s behalf, plans to meet on Friday, April 17, at 9:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I.

The Committee is expected to take action on a contract for work on the indoor pool, funding for guest management software, Trust amendments and a recommendation from the Audit Advisory Committee, according to the meeting’s agenda.

Although the meeting is closed to foot traffic, residents can watch and listen to a live stream of the proceedings from their laptops, smartphones or other internet-connected devices by signing in to (residents.lwmc.com) > Your Community > LWCC Committee & Board Meeting Recordings.

A resident must be signed up as a user on the site to access the live stream. The meeting will also be archived in that section of the website for those who wish to view it later.

Residents who would rather have the option to actively participate in the meeting remotely can do so either by telephone or computer or mobile app; an open forum will be held at the meeting’s end.

How to Make and Wear a Face Covering

Residents are urged to continue to comply with the stay-at-home order issued by Gov. Larry Hogan on March 30 to help stop the spread of COVID-19 (coronavirus).

But for those who must leave their homes for an essential reason, such as grocery shopping or a medical visit, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) now recommends wearing a cloth face covering.

Cloth face coverings should:

- fit snugly but comfortably against the side of the face
- be secured with ties or ear loops
- include multiple layers of fabric
- allow for breathing without restriction
- be able to be laundered and machine dried without damage or change to shape

Remember to routinely wash the mask in a washing machine. When removing a mask, be careful not to touch your eyes, nose or mouth, and wash your hands immediately after.

Some residents have chosen to sew their own masks. But for those who don’t sew, here are two tutorials from the CDC that they can use to make cloth face coverings from common household items.

Keeping Fit and Flexible While Staying at Home

by Leisure World News

The Clubhouse II Fitness Center is closed. Exercise classes are canceled. And citizens across Montgomery County are ordered to stay at home to prevent the spread of a pandemic.

But residents of all exercise levels – from the Fitness Center regulars to comfortable couch potatoes – can benefit from a few of Sam Ellis’s recommendations for staying active and flexible.

A short video that features Ellis, who manages the Fitness Center, demonstrating some simple exercises began airing daily on television channel 974 on April 10. Viewers can see it at a quarter past the hour from 7:15 a.m. to 5:15 p.m.

In about 11 and a half minutes, Ellis shows how an individual can stretch and strengthen their thigh, hip, ankle, shoulders and lower back muscles using only a chair and the edge of a kitchen sink.

Using the empty Fitness Center to demonstrate the exercises, Ellis emphasizes the importance of building up good balance, which aids in fall prevention.

The buses are running on a modified 2-bus schedule (Saturday route, 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m.). Beginning Monday, April 20, the buses run Monday, Wednesday and Friday only (Saturday route, 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m.).

Security asks that residents only use the bus service for essential travel needs.

An ‘App’-ropriate Substitute
Some Clubs and Committees Telemeet During Pandemic

by Stacy Smith, Leisure World News

With the COVID-19 pandemic placing in-person communications on pause, some clubs and advisory committees are turning to telecommunications to conduct business and carry out their missions.

The Garden Plots Group, the Emergency Preparedness Advisory Committee (EPAC) and the Leisure World Association for African-American Culture (LWAAAC) have all held meetings in April using an teleconferencing app, and all three of them say they will hold subsequent meetings this way as well.

The groups’ leaders have found that staying in touch with their members despite any obstacles that technology creates has more advantages than disadvantages.

“I think people are suffering from cabin fever right now,” said Bob Malson, acting president of the Garden Plots Group. “The quicker we can facilitate getting people into their gardens, the better.”

The Group is preparing for spring planting while adhering to social distancing guidelines and is preparing for its post-COVID-19 future by accepting garden plot applications via postal mail from would-be members. It held a teleconference on April 14 to discuss these matters.

Malson said he’s comfortable meeting this way because he used to participate in daily conference calls as part of his job. “It’s all about coordination,” he added.

While communicating remotely can be a hassle for some, others say the new format has some surprising upsides.

“People feel freer to chime in and express their opinions on agenda topics instead of waiting to be recognized in a regular meeting,” said EPAC president Emily Gellar. She believes telemeeting is “an appropriate substitute” for in-person meetings during the pandemic.

EPAC held a teleconference on April 2 that was facilitated by Jim Resnick, senior outreach coordinator for Montgomery County Fire and Rescue Services, who provided a brief presentation on fire safety.

Gellar said that the committee is using less paper since meeting remotely, which is good news for the environment but makes getting things done more difficult.

“No one can pass out paper documents for others to consider and act on,” Gellar said. “We tried to get around this by asking members to email any paper work ahead of time, but this is not always possible or satisfying.”

LWAAAC’s board of directors conducted its first teleconference on April 1 and was able to cover everything from the Group’s finances and by-laws to nominations for its pending election of officers, said member Patricia Means. The Association plans to hold another telemeeting on Wednesday, May 6.

LWAAAC is no stranger to using technology to communicate; the Group has sent robocall reminders to its members for years.

They’ve recently encouraged their members to take part in the county’s Healthful Thursdays program, originally planned to be a series of in-person events, via the popular videoconferencing app Zoom.

As the pandemic continues, several more clubs and committees may choose to meet remotely.

For information and updates on meetings, including instructions on how to remotely participate in a meeting, check TV channel 972 and (residents.lwmc.com).

virus while in rehabilitation outside of Leisure World for another condition unrelated to the coronavirus, and that the resident “had very limited contact with anyone at Leisure World.”

Still, all residents are reminded to exercise every precaution that public health officials and Leisure World management have urged. These include:

• following the orders issued by Gov. Hogan and county representatives regarding essential travel only – this includes limiting your visitors to essential visitors;
• limiting your contact with other people and surfaces and;
• if you must leave your home for an essential reason, staying at least six feet away from other people and wearing a mask.

Please keep in mind that any resident who contracts COVID-19 is not required by law to notify management and, because of privacy laws, management cannot ask if a resident has been tested or diagnosed.

MedStar Health and other healthcare providers cannot disclose the personal health information of their patients but are required by law to report COVID-19 results to the Maryland Department of Health, which would then determine if any additional notification or action would be required.

Residents who wish to receive regular email updates from management regarding the COVID-19 pandemic and other community-related information must be signed up as a website user on (residents.lwmc.com). For details on how to sign up, see page 6.
Donations

to have their donations picked up at their homes.”

Several news outlets, including WRC channel 4 news and WJLA channel 7 news, covered the donation drive and interviewed Hunter, who wore a face mask to protect herself and others from the spread of COVID-19. The virus affects the respiratory system and has so far taken the lives of 54 Montgomery County residents as of April 15.

“To think that we may be able to save a life, to lessen someone’s suffering; it feels so good,” Hunter told WJLA channel 7 news during a TV segment about her efforts that aired on April 12.

Repurposing the Machines

The hope is that providing hospitals with CPAP and also BiPAP machines, which are very similar in function and design and both used by sleep apnea patients, might help mitigate the shortage of ventilators around the country.

But in fact, studies are showing that only 20-30 percent of COVID-19 patients placed on ventilators come off of them successfully, said Dr. Sanjay Gupta to CNN on April 15. These results have prompted some doctors to say, “Let’s try other strategies. Maybe not put a breathing tube in right away and instead use a machine that’s more like a CPAP machine,” Gupta said.

Hunter said she knows that concerns have been raised by medical personnel about CPAP machines aerosolizing contaminated droplets into the air, creating a hazard to those in the room. But several groups are working on ways to modify the machines so that they can be used to treat COVID-19 patients.

One of these groups, according to the American Academy of Sleep Medicine’s website, is the COVID-19 Ventilator Rapid Response Team, a coalition that includes University of California, Berkeley engineers, emergency room doctors, critical care physicians and pulmonologists. They also have set up a website, VentilatorSOS.com, where a person can fill out a form to indicate that he or she is interested in donating a CPAP or BiPAP machine.

Mt. Sinai Hospital in Manhattan, a hot spot for COVID-19 cases, has modified 30 of its 300 CPAP machines so far, according to an April 7 article published on (businessinsider.com). Healthcare workers placed a viral filter on the exhalation port of the machine, ensuring that the air breathed out by a patient would go through the filter instead of directly into the air in the room.

These modified CPAP machines could be used for less severe COVID-19 patients, as well as for other patients who might not be first in line for a ventilator, according to the article.

A Way to Help

Hunter’s husband has used a CPAP machine for sleep apnea for five years and recently got a new one, she said. His old machine was going unused in a closet in the couple’s home. She figured there must be many others like her in Leisure World who also have CPAP machines they could dispense with.

“Remember the public service announcement back in the ’50s about speeding? The [tagline] was, ‘The life you save may be your own’. As an at-risk group ourselves, there is little that we ‘elderly’ can do to help during this pandemic,” Hunter said.

Indeed, Gov. Hogan’s stay-at-home orders have confined many people to their homes who would otherwise be out and about, including Hunter. Before the pandemic struck she would often take trips into Washington, D.C., where she serves as ‘mail clerk’ for the National Desert Storm War Memorial Association, a 501 (c)(3) non-profit that has congressional approval to erect a memorial on the National Mall in honor of Desert Storm veterans.

“A lot of us have suffered frustration, because we’re used to being the caregivers for our children, our husbands, our communities,” she added. “[The donation drive was] a chance to contribute.”

Hunter is unsure whether a second donation drive will be held, but said she would gladly hold one if the county requested it.

Committee Advocates Conserving Electricity

by Robert Morrisson

Reduce, reuse, recycle. The Energy Advisory Committee (EAC) advocates reducing the need for raw materials while keeping waste out of the landfills is good stewardship of the earth’s resources.

Much of our electricity comes from burning fossil fuels, which pollutes the air. Electricity cannot be recycled, so reducing our usage will help reduce pollution while keeping money in our pockets.

Conserving Electricity

Leisure World’s electric power comes from the Potomac Electric Power Company, also known as PEPCO.

As the area grows, so does the need for electricity. The EAC believes there are two ways for PEPCO to meet these needs:

- build new generating stations and transmission lines
- reduce the load on the existing equipment

PEPCO offers discounts to some customers who reduce their consumption during times of highest usage, which is generally during the afternoon.

Fifty-seven percent of residents have unit meters, paying PEPCO directly for their monthly usage. Usage is billed at a flat rate.

Much more can be done to conserve energy. During the coming months, the EAC will cover a number of interesting topics.

About the Committee

The EAC works to identify and take advantage of energy savings opportunities and tax incentives for the mutuals and the Trust. EAC meetings are typically held the third Tuesday of every month at 9:30 a.m. in Clubhouse I, but the meetings are suspended because of the COVID-19 crisis.

Residents are encouraged to share their energy-saving ideas at these meetings or to submit them to Bob Namovicz, EAC chairperson, at (namovicz@gmail.com).

April 17, 2020 Leisure World News
AN INSPECTOR GENERAL FOR LEISURE WORLD

This letter is to propose an Office of Inspector General be established for Leisure World. To support and substantiate this initiative, I believe that a little background is appropriate. I am certain that most, if not all, residents of Leisure World have heard about the inspector general of at least one of a number of federal agencies. Nonetheless, they may not know exactly what an inspector general is and what he or she is supposed to do.

Office of Inspector General (OIG) is the generic term for the oversight division of a government agency, aimed at preventing inefficient or unlawful operations. Such offices are attached to many government agencies. They are charged with identifying, auditing and investigating fraud, waste, abuse, embezzlement, inefficiency and mismanagement. Accordingly, it is readily apparent the purpose is to protect an agency’s financial interests.

The underlying purpose of a Leisure World OIG would be the same as government’s, namely: to conduct audits to ensure the efficacy of all procedures or to discover the possibility of misconduct, waste, inefficiency, fraud, theft, etc., all of which would ultimately result in the protection of the financial interests of all residents. This should be a topic of personal interest to all residents, because it is directly related to our personal financial interests.

I encourage everybody who reads this letter to provide me with questions, comments, suggestions, etc. Furthermore, I suggest that every person who reads it advices others to do the same. Before I pursue this initiative any further through any appropriate or required channels, it is important, actually necessary, that I know what level of interest it will generate.

As we enter into the holiest week of Christendom (April 5-12, April 12-19 Orthodox), we are reminded that Easter is, above all, a celebration of Hope, the beginnings of the fulfillment of the Promise of everlasting Life, the Promise of Glory that follows trials and suffering. Especially as we await relief from the effects of the COVID-19 virus, we offer to each other the same promise of Hope, confident in the Maker of that promise.

We also wish grace and peace for all those who will celebrate the Passover April 8-16.

Maryland’s health insurance marketplace has extended its special enrollment period as an effort to cover more people during the COVID-19 outbreak. Now, those who are uninsured may enroll until Monday, June 15.

Application can be made through (marylandhealthconnection.gov), which provides tools to estimate costs and compare plans from different companies, or by downloading the Enroll MHC mobile app at (marylandhealthconnection.gov/enrollmhc). Montgomery County residents can alternatively call Montgomery County Health Connection at (240-777-1815).

Those enrolling during this period should request or select “Coronavirus Emergency Special Enrollment Period.”

Benefits of Insurance
As the outbreak has been designated an emergency, health insurance companies are required by the State to make some special provisions during this time. They are removing time restrictions on prescription refills, allowing patients to receive their medications sooner lest they be required to stay home in the future. COVID-19 testing and vaccination, should it become available in the future, are covered completely by all plans, without any cost to the patient.

Preparing for a Medical Emergency with ‘File of Life’
by Emily Geller and Alan Nelson

Most residents are confined to their homes because of the threat of COVID-19, leaving only for necessary trips to get food or medications while remaining conscious of the need to wash hands frequently, practice social distancing and wear a mask in public.

While isolated at home, think about how to prepare for a medical emergency. What if you should need help from emergency medical personnel, perhaps because of a bad fall, heart attack or a similar emergency?

The Montgomery County Fire and Rescue Service (MCFRS) provides the File of Life program to help residents prepare for such an emergency. The File of Life is a red, magnetic packet and insert form on which a person writes his or her personal and medical information, including medical conditions, allergies, medications, emergency contacts, health insurance information and healthcare decisions.

MCFRS recommends that people fill out the File of Life and place it on their refrigerators, as this is the first place that rescue paramedics look for it.

If you already have a File of Life, take the time to check it to see if the information needs to be updated; perhaps your medications have changed, or an emergency contact has a new address or phone number.

If you don’t have a File of Life yet, there are several ways to obtain one:

• Download and print the form at (residents.lwmc.com) > Documents > Advisory and Special Committees > Emergency Preparedness > File of Life; or visit (www.montgomerycountymd.gov/mcfrs-info/tips/seniors/fileoflife.html);
• call (240-777-2430), leave a voicemail with your name and address and MCFRS will mail one to you; or
• call 311 and ask for one to be mailed to you.

If you don’t have the red, magnetic File of Life packet, you can still download and print the insert form, fill it out and, with either tape or a magnet, attach it to your refrigerator.

Cannabis 101 Club

Club Helps Residents Register Remotely for Medical Cannabis
by Carminetta Verner

The Cannabis 101 Club has initiated a process to help residents register remotely with the Maryland Medical Cannabis Commission (MMCC) during the COVID-19 (coronavirus) pandemic.

Email (Lwcan101@gmail.com) with the information needed to prepare the registration form. The resident will be contacted and asked to take a photo of the front and back of their unexpired driver’s license and a 2 x 2” photo of him or herself to be uploaded to the Commission. If possible, use a smartphone to take these photos.

The photo of the resident needs to be current and passport size. A good passport app for the iPhone is “Passport Photo – ID Photo,” which is free from the App Store. For Android phones, use the “US 2x2 Photo Editor – Passport Size Photo at Home” app, which is free from Google Play.

To complete the registration process, the MMCC charges $50 for a Maryland Medical Cannabis ID card. Visa and MasterCard are the only credit cards accepted for payment.

After all of a resident’s information is received, the Club will provide it to the Commission. It takes approximately two to four weeks for approval depending on the MMCC’s workload.

A resident approved by the MMCC will receive a patient ID number, which allows him or her to take the next step toward purchasing cannabis: obtaining a medical certification by a medical provider registered with the Commission. The Club is investigating the use of telemedicine to visit a medical provider. Using telemedicine avoids face-to-face contact, helping residents remain well and safe.

Residents also have the option of registering with the MMCC on their own at (mmcc.maryland.gov). To help keep residents safe during the coronavirus outbreak, cannabis dispensaries have initiated special hours for seniors to visit the store and drive up for curbside pickup for orders placed through Leafly or Weedmaps.

For questions, contact Carminetta Verner at (630-699-1629) after 10 a.m.

Fitness Club Plans Future Pop-up Programs

by Pat McConnell

The next quarterly meeting of the Fitness Club would have been April 15, but it was canceled because of the COVID-19 pandemic. Once the virus restrictions are lifted, the Club will regroup and make a plan.

Club leader Pat McConnell has contacted numerous presenters who plan to provide programs and activities for the Club in the future. Club members will receive an email when the next individual is set to present to the Club.

Pop-up Programs

Even though the Club meets on a quarterly basis, there are opportunities to present ‘pop-up programs’ between set meetings, which are based on availability of presenters and meeting locations.

The Club’s first ‘pop-up’ on Feb. 24 focused on nutritional fitness. Registered dietitian and nutrition consultant Libby Lamancusa discussed how our food choices affect many aspects of fitness beyond our body weight. She outlined the role of macronutrients – protein, carbohydrates and fat – in our diet, and how nutritionally dense foods may increase our protection against diseases.

About the Club

The Fitness Club’s objectives are to educate on, encourage and explore all types of fitness including but not limited to exercise, movement, nutrition and overall health and wellness to increase and improve awareness of the health and well-being of residents.

Residents interested in learning more about the Club or joining should email Pat McConnell at (pmcconnell02@gmail.com).

Annual Meeting and Luncheon Moved to September

by Beth Leanza

FISH hopes to hold its annual meeting and luncheon on a to-be-determined date in September at noon in Clubhouse II. Hopefully by then it will be safe for everyone to gather!

Anyone who has ever volunteered for FISH is invited to attend. Current volunteers are especially urged to come as the meeting and luncheon are a great opportunity to look around, meet the other volunteers and receive some updates from FISH president Beth Leanza.

FISH needs an accurate head count for this event, so those planning to attend are asked to call Beth at (301-598-1345) or sign up at the FISH office when it reopens after the pandemic. Sandwiches, some salad items, cookies, iced tea and Sprite will be served at the luncheon.

About FISH

FISH accepts donations of assistive equipment and lends them to residents and employees of Leisure World.

The FISH office in Clubhouse II is closed to foot traffic. Residents who would like to borrow an item from FISH are asked to call (301-598-1345) to schedule an appointment.

FISH is not a 501(c)(3) and so cannot offer tax donation slips but is nonetheless grateful for the donations it receives. FISH’s volunteers try to make sure donated equipment is in good working order, but they urge borrowers to check with a professional if unsure.

Other Donations

The FISH office is also the place to donate items for other clubs and organizations. Residents can drop off cans for the Kiwanis Club, which then donates them to Ronald McDonald House, and the Lions Club accepts donations of glasses and hearing aids. Residents can “upcycle” their cardboard tubes and calendars at the office and a resident will take them to a local elementary school to be used for art projects.

Lost and Found

FISH also houses found items, such as keys, gloves and jewelry. If you have lost an item and want to look for it at the FISH office, call (301-598-1345).

Volunteer

Residents thinking about volunteering with FISH are asked to call Beth at (301-598-4569) and set up a time to sit in with another volunteer for a simple training session.

With Travel Plans on Hold, Photographers Look to Home for Inspiration

by Fred Shapiro

One of the things residents can do under coronavirus pandemic restrictions is walk the community looking for photo opportunities. Whether nature or socially-distanced neighbors, there is much to capture with our camera or iPhone.

Hopefully, the pandemic’s limitations will end and, at that time, consider joining the Rossmoor Camera Club and taking photos wherever you go. As a Club member, you can add your photo to the numerous exhibits in Leisure World and enjoy the moment when someone offers a compliment such as, “I saw your photo in the clubhouse – how beautiful!”

The Club offers two levels of membership. Members who expect to compete in the monthly competitions pay dues of $25 for the year. Residents who wish to join the Club to learn more about photography but are not interested in competing pay dues of $15.

Communicate on Groups.io Listserv

by Paul Eisenhaur

Knowing where to find information regarding Leisure World is important, especially during this health crisis when accurate information is vital.

The Groups.io listserv (formerly the Yahoo Group) is a dedicated source for happenings in the Leisure World community. In the past few weeks, it has been a valuable mode of communication for its approximately 500 resident-only members.

Most of the postings have been about COVID-19, and most of those have been informational and helpful. All posts are made only by Leisure World residents about matters that are relevant to the community.

The site’s homepage has a set of common sense rules to follow. The site’s owner/moderator, Paul Eisenhaur, is also chairperson of the Leisure World Community Corporation board of directors, and so he does not post his governance-related opinions to the site but rather provides objective information that he feels is beneficial for residents to know.

The site is secure and easy to join. To join, send an email to Eisenhaur at (paule@lwm10.com) and include your name and the name of your mutual, and you’ll be directly added and registered as a user on the listserv. You’ll then receive a confirmation email with a link to the site.

In your account settings, indicate whether you want to receive an email of each new post, an email summary of posts or no emails. If you choose the third option, you can just log in to the Groups.io webpage to see an index of the posts.

Center for Lifelong Learning Looks Forward to Rescheduling its Classes and Programs

by Fred Shapiro

In the interest of the community’s health, the Center for Lifelong Learning (CLL) has canceled a number of its classes and programs. The CLL’s board hopes to reschedule all of them by late May.

Residents can look forward to signing up for the following classes at the Clubhouse 1 E&R office when it reopens:

- Tom Conger, an experienced geographer and community planner, will present “Geography Up Close: Regional Landscapes of the U.S.”

- A program presented by Avrum Ashery about Israel’s technological advancements that have helped other countries solve problems around the world.
- A program on smart investment strategies by Ben Offit. Learn how balancing your account affects your current desires and future legacy.
- A program addressing the needs of older people, presented by Julie Dino of Montgomery County Public Libraries.
- A presentation on “Diabetes Awareness and Prevention” given by Olivia Johnson of Pleasant Hearts Private Care and Nurse Staffing, LLC. The presentation will include awareness and prevention information about the disease, health management, nutrition and living with a debilitating disease.
- A lecture about final expense protection by Talaya Cook and Gwennetta Budd from Equis Financial.
- A program entitled “Memory and Dementia-related Disorders” by Angy Kallarackal from the National Institutes of Health.
- Other programs and classes were in the works when the coronavirus pandemic struck. These, too, will be scheduled in the days ahead when the restrictions on group gatherings have been lifted.

Garden Plots Group

Warm Weather Kickstarts Growing Season

by Judy Elrod

The Garden Plots Group is complying with the guidelines issued by the federal and state government and Leisure World Management regarding COVID-19. An email sent to members on March 22 directed them to observe the six-foot social distance rule while in the garden. Since then, the federal government has directed citizens to wear a face mask in public.

Because gardening is considered a form of exercise, the Group’s gardeners are taking full advantage of the plots. Several new fences have been erected, which enhances the overall appearance of the gardens and brings a sense of optimism and commitment – the garden plots are here to stay for a while! On any given day, visitors can find folks avidly preparing their soil and planting. Some gardens are already showing some real growth in the vegetable department.

The Physical Properties Department (PPD) began the spring process of turning on the water in late March. The process involves checking and replacing faucets and broken pipes, as needed, and connecting the hoses. Until the process is completed, one hose is being run from PPD into the garden for gardeners’ use. The Group expects the entire garden’s water system to be operational by late April.

The Group conducted its April 14 meeting using Zoom. It was yet another first for the Group this year, along with email communications.

Apply for a Plot

The new bulletin board has been erected across from sheds 1 and 2 near the garden’s entrance, which is where residents can find a list of available plots – they are going quickly. To submit an application, visit (residents.lwmc.com) > Your Community > Clubs and Organizations Information Page > Garden Plots Group, and print a copy of the application.

After indicating your top three preferences, mail the application and a check, payable to Garden Plots Group, to Judy Elrod at (15115 Interlachen Dr., #123, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

Membership

The Group’s objective is to encourage gardening in Leisure World and to provide individual garden plots to those residents who wish to plant vegetables and flowers and enjoy the gardens in peace and harmony with their neighbors. All residents who support the objectives of the Group are eligible to join. Members are plot renters.
Group Plans ‘Let’s Green Up Leisure World’ Initiative

by Janice McLean

Later this year, LW Green plans to launch a new initiative called “Let’s Green Up Leisure World” and envisions a community-wide effort to plant more native canopy trees on both mutual and Trust properties.

Once stay-at-home restrictions are lifted and groups are allowed to meet again, the Group will be thoughtfully pursuing this initiative. All residents are invited to join and attend all meetings and presentations.

About LW Green

Founded in the spring of 2015 with by-laws prepared and approved by the Education and Recreation Advisory Committee in 2017, LW Green’s purpose is “to inform and enlighten ourselves and our community in the care and conservation of natural resources through education and advocacy both within Leisure World and beyond its gates.”

In support of this mission, the Group has presented numerous educational programs with emphasis on climate change at the international, national and local levels and improving and increasing the tree canopy in Leisure World as well as increasing recycling in Leisure World.

Film Presentations

Recent environmental films shown include “Paris to Pittsburgh,” which chronicles U.S. cities struggling with climate change and offers solutions on how to reduce the country’s carbon footprint.

“Woman at War” is an environmental drama featuring the story of a fearless eco-activist in Iceland who is determined to halt the construction of a new aluminum smelter, sabotaging power lines and demolishing drones deployed to deter her.

“The Devil We Know” is a documentary about the development, production and widespread use of Teflon – how the chemical has left a lasting mark in every home in America and how it ravaged a town in West Virginia where DuPont made the chemicals.

Programs and Meetings

Other programs on climate change have included a presentation on “Building a Vibrant Elder Movement to Address Climate Change” by Montgomery County leaders of the national movement, Elders Climate Action.

The Group hosted an informative lecture by environmentalist and philanthropist Rabbi Nina Beth Cardin about the Healthy Green Maryland Amendment, which was submitted to Maryland’s House of Delegates and Senate and aims to hold the State “accountable for its obligation as a trustee of the natural resources of the state to care for those natural resources.”

The Group has had numerous meetings on recycling, including two presentations by the Sierra Club lead on Zero Waste, a lecture on “The Five Myths of Recycling” based on articles from National Geographic and a program on the Plastics and Packaging Reduction Act, which passed in the Maryland State Senate and was postponed by the House of Delegates during this legislative session.

LW Green regularly arranges tours of the Montgomery County Resource Recovery Facility, better known as the Recycling Depot. Participants see first-hand what happens to all that recyclable stuff that is picked up each week.

At the most recent tour, the Group saw how plastic bags mixed in with recyclables get caught in the machines that separate the recycled items. These plastics can cause breakdowns and possible injuries to the workers as well as damage to the machines, which is both dangerous and costly.

Based on this experience and awareness about the contamination of recyclables by plastic bags, LW Green initiated a “Ban the Bag” campaign at Leisure World and produced and distributed hundreds of colorful flyers that are posted near recycling areas throughout the community.

Contact Information

Further information about the Group and its activities is available at (www.lw-green.org) or by contacting co-presidents Marybeth Ardike at (Marybeth.ardike@gmail.com) or Janice McLean at (janicewmclean@gmail.com).

Art Guild Highlights its Male Artists
by Ann Bolt

The Rossmoor Art Guild’s (RAG) membership hovers around 100, and at least 20 members are men. Having just celebrated Women’s History Month, it is now time to give the men their due. They are a learned, talented bunch and are dedicated and loyal to both the craft and the teachers:

Gregory Nash
Nash started painting in oils and other media when he moved to Leisure World. In his late teens he didn’t find what he wanted to decorate his room, so he painted his own pictures to hang. He paints both in abstract and realism and wants to try impressionism. He is currently studying with RAG instructor Genevieve Roberts.

Paul Ganz
Ganz took an art class in high school but was sidetracked with a football scholarship. While living in the UK for 30 years, he has taken classes at the University of Cambridge and Ware Community College. He started at RAG with drawing and painting classes in 2010. He has studied with RAG teachers Ron Erlich, Bill Mapes and Doris Bryant.

Steve Irish
Irish took art classes in high school and college and became a member of the Gaithersburg Art Association in the ’80s. He’s won awards locally with his acrylic and oil paintings. He has exhibited his works in both clubhouse hallways, Signal Financial Federal Credit Union, the library and the Computer Learning Center. He recently helped set up the new furniture in the RAG studio.

Al Temin
When Temin retired, he quit on a Friday and was in an art class by Monday. He took classes with the Montgomery County Recreation Department and eventually found his way to RAG. He’s been oil painting for almost 12 years with instruction from Genevieve Roberts. He paints a lot of landscapes but is leaning toward more abstracts. Temin is known for his t-shirts, which he wears to protect his clothes while painting. He’s on about his sixth one, and they almost stand alone as separate works of art.

Donald Cavalieri
Cavalieri remembers making art in grade school, but he only really worked at it since retirement. He prefers to work in watercolor to create landscapes and seascapes. He’s been taking classes since 2012 with RAG teacher Firouzeh Sadeghi, whom he considers an absolutely wonderful teacher. He’s making art at home as time permits.

RAG hopes to feature more male artists in the future. Both men and women are welcome to join RAG, and the Guild looks forward to a return to the studio.

Staying in Dance Form

by Ida Leong

The Club’s Saturday, April 25, dance was to feature the music of Mixed Company, but the coronavirus crisis has forced the cancellation of this event.

The crisis has given rise to numerous online ballroom dance practice sessions, enabling dancers to stay in shape while refining their dance posture, poise and form. Non-dance exercises such as tai chi — which eight Club members reportedly have been practicing in private during the crisis — are also great for improving dance balance and poise, in addition to enhancing health, equanimity and (possibly) immunity.

For basic dance practice, two friends of the Club recommend watching the Passion4Dance’s recent “live chat” rumba session in which instructor Leon provided pointers on Cuban (hip) motion plus a bonus refresher on the Electric Slide line dance. Search for it on YouTube.

Dancers who have their own favorite online dance resources are asked to share them with the Club by contacting Jim Leong at (jleong4035@aol.com). The Club is fortunate to have several current dance instructors and their students as regular participants at its dances. The Club plans to reach out to these instructors to get their ideas on staying in dance form while maintaining the requisite safe social distance during these challenging times.

Quarterly Meeting

If circumstances permit, the Club will hold a quarterly meeting in the future, with the date to be determined. Members will brainstorm dance class possibilities and other ideas for enhancing the monthly dance events.

In the meantime, the Club is exploring long-range possibilities for occasionally offering beginning and refresher ballroom dance classes in Leisure World, conducted by highly experienced instructors.

Contact Club president Jim Leong at (jleong4035@aol.com) to express your preference for the types of dances, such as slow waltz, foxtrot, rumba, tango, cha-cha, East Coast swing or West Coast Swing. One Club member responded immediately to the April 3 article and suggested rumba, tango and additional East Coast Swing moves.

About the Dances

The Club’s monthly dances are unlikely to resume before July or August at the earliest. If held, suggested attire for these two summer months’ dances will be casual, with no ties or jackets required for the men and business casual for the ladies (no jeans).

If the resumption occurs in August, the Club will welcome everyone back with its traditional Hawaiian-themed dance and attire. In the meantime, Aloha and stay in (safe) dance form!

AIM (Arts In Motion)

AIM Brings the Arts to Leisure World

by Grace C. Cooper

Arts In Motion (AIM) is perhaps not like a traditional club. It is the brainchild of resident York Van Nixon III, a former classical ballet dancer, writer and businessman whose idea has been to help support the arts in the DMV area and to share access to the arts within Leisure World. He recruited like-minded residents who enjoy the arts, many of whom had also practiced one or more of the arts before moving to Leisure World, to join in helping keep the arts alive in Leisure World as well as helping budding artists achieve their dreams.

Through dues and admission fees to some of its events, AIM gives area arts students scholarships and prizes to help them continue in their chosen fields. Scholarship recipients share their art at Leisure World.

AIM also presents concerts by seasoned performers, some of whom are also senior citizens, to entertain residents. All residents and their guests are invited to the Clubhouse I Crystal Ballroom on the second Friday of every month for Café AIM concerts that present jazz and, occasionally, blues music.

Tickets are $25 each. Even the culinary arts are a feature of these events as Leisure World’s restaurant staff provide delicious, light appetizers. While all residents are invited to attend, only members may reserve a table for eight people.

AIM does not just have concerts. It also sponsors other arts performances, most at no charge to residents. For example, AIM holds poetry writing contests for local high school students. Prizes are awarded to students from local schools who share their talents with the audience.

The Authors In Mind program features professional writers. This past year, a group of women mystery writers appeared at Leisure World.

And coming up soon, a group of Leisure World’s professional fiction writers are expected to share their work and answer questions from the audience about what it means to write professionally.

AIM looks forward in the future to continuing its focus on supporting the arts through its programs that entertain residents.
May 6: Group Elects New Officers and Directors

by Hannette Allen

The Fun and Fancy Theatre Group’s scheduled activities have had to change because of these uncertain times. The Club will not hold a May meeting/monthly show because the quarantine will likely still be in effect at least through the end of April, which leaves no time for rehearsals. However, the Club will have an election for new officers and directors on Wednesday, May 6. Members will be advised of the procedure via email.

At this point, the Club plans to proceed with the annual banquet on Wednesday, June 3, and performances of “The Solid Gold Cadillac” on Friday, June 19, Saturday, June 20, Sunday, June 21, Friday, June 26, Saturday, June 27, and Sunday, June 28, as planned.

Meanwhile, here is some general information about the Club, which should answer some frequently asked questions.

About Fun and Fancy
The Club is dedicated to the enjoyment of theatrical performance and provides an opportunity for residents to take part in monthly shows as well as ‘big shows’ presented twice a year. The Club also frequently performs at local community centers and assisted living and nursing homes.

Any member of the Club is welcome to audition; usually there is a part for everyone. In addition, people are always needed to work on scenery, lights, sound, costumes, ticket sales, publicity and other backstage activities.

The audience is an important part of the Club’s shows. Many members do not wish to perform themselves but eagerly look forward to watching productions. The Club has absolutely no requirement to perform in order to enjoy being a member. The majority of members take part by enjoying the show from the audience.

In addition, the Club presents an annual banquet with entertainment for its members in June.

My name is Jay Guan
I am a husband, a father, and on weekends, a soccer player. I am an aerospace engineer, an education advocate, and also a transportation activist.

I am running for MCPS Board of Education At-Large
I am running because I believe that All kids should have access to an excellent future-ready education.

I grew up in an immigrant, low-income family. I personally experienced the effects of the opportunity gap. I was fortunate to tread the upward mobile path; and I want our kids with less means to be able to do the same.

About the Shows
The monthly shows are up to an hour in length and follow a short meeting. They are normally held on the first Wednesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. in the Clubhouse II auditorium from September to May.

The shows are usually musicals, and are generally upbeat and comical. Performers sing, dance, play the piano and perform comic acting routines. Occasionally there is a short, light play. The monthly shows are written, produced, directed and performed by Fun and Fancy members.

The preponderance of music performed is Broadway tunes, jazz and pop favorites; however, there is a great deal of variety. Other genres presented recently included an evening of classical music and a show featuring Irish music. Occasionally a comedy is written and presented by a member.

All monthly shows are followed by a popular social gathering at which delicious desserts and beverages are served. Attendance is free for the audience and cast and provides an opportunity to mix and mingle.

The ‘big shows,’ presented twice a year, are full-length productions. They are often shows that have been performed elsewhere on the professional stage. Recent productions include “Damn Yankees,” “70, Girls, 70,” “The Music of Irving Berlin and Cole Porter,” “A Walk on Jewish Broadway,” “Songs of the ‘60s,” “Broadway Melodies of the ‘60s,” “Sweet Charity” and “Rumors.”

Some shows have used the services of professional directors, musicians and choreographers from outside Leisure World; many have provided a showplace for Club members’ own talents as directors.

The ‘big shows’ are usually held in November and May, staging four to six performances.

Tickets are sold in the clubhouses for weeks before the performances. Seating is reserved, and tickets are $10 each. Any resident is welcome to purchase a ticket.

How to Join
All residents are welcome to join the Club; membership is required for those who wish to perform.

New members are asked to arrive a little early to any performance and pay their dues at the door. They will receive a membership ID card. Membership runs from September to May, but residents can join at any time.

Yearly membership costs $10 and includes admission to all monthly meetings and performances, plus the dessert socials. For non-members who only want to attend one performance, admission is $5 at the door.

Keeping Up with Republican News and Information

by Fred Seelman

 Although the Republican Club has canceled its meetings during the coronavirus pandemic, residents needn’t be alarmed that they will miss out on Republican-related news and information.

 Residents have many alternative news sources. The Republican Party provides news in connection with the various levels of the government. It publishes news items at websites relating to Montgomery County, the State of Maryland and the U.S., available at (www.mcgop.com/); (https://mdgop.org/); and (https://gop.com/), respectively.

 Maryland Republican county and state news is also available from the news organization, Red Maryland, at its website (https://redmaryland.com/). The Republican Club has had Red Maryland’s publishers as guest speakers at its meetings.

 Returning to the federal news level, two other large Republican organizations offer news at their websites: The National Republican Congressional Committee at (www.nrcc.org) and The National Republican Senatorial Committee at (www.nrsc.org). They work to get Republicans elected to the U.S. House and Senate.

 For information from and about young Republicans, take a look at the College Republican National Committee at (www.crrc.org/) and Young Republicans National Federation at (https://yrfn.com).

 If after looking at all the aforementioned websites you want to read still more Republican-related news, visit (www.libertynation.com/top-20-conservative-news-sites-to-read-in-2020/) for a list of the top 20 conservative news sites to read in 2020. It lists as its top five Breitbart, American Thinker, The Federalist, Liberty Nation and Judicial Watch. Reading these should satisfy your desire for Republican-related news and information.

 Club News
 Besides reading these sites, the Club is considering webinars to conduct meetings online or by telephone as an alternative to live meetings. Contact Club president Fred Seelman at (fseelman@gmail.com) with any ideas that you would like to share about using that approach.

 Don’t forget to plan to help the Club by working on Primary Election Day, now Tuesday, June 2, at one of the three Leisure World precincts: Clubhouse I, Clubhouse II or The Inter-Faith Chapel.

 Email comments or questions about these or any other Club matters and/or offers to volunteer to Fred Seelman at (fseelman@gmail.com), or call first vice president Robert Kammer at (301-847-9820).

 In an Election Year, Club Forges Ahead with Voter Registration and Education

by Roger Blacklow

 Gov. Larry Hogan has been asked by the Maryland State Board of Elections to expand vote-by-mail balloting. The process would include sending a ballot to all registered voters.

 Residents can register to vote in Maryland by visiting the Club’s website at (www.demcluboflw.com) and clicking on Voting Resources in the Voting Information dropdown.

 But there is more to the website than voter registration; check it out!

 Also, the Democratic Club has sent out a couple of “Donkey Dispatches” about online letter writing parties and similar activities. The Club hopes to narrow down these activities to just one or two for the Club to focus on, so stay tuned.

 Democratic Activities
 Rep. Jamie Raskin held several extremely informative virtual town halls. They are part call-in and part expert opinion. One town hall had the directors of all three of our areas’ health department heads. To hear them and obtain a schedule of upcoming events, visit (Raskin.House.gov).

 State Sen. Ben Kramer and Dels. Charlotte Crutchfield, Bonnie Cullison and Vaughn Stewart plan to conduct a live, but virtual, town hall on Saturday, April 18, from 2-3 p.m. Call or email their offices for specifics.

 When the “stay at home” and restrictions on congregate dining are lifted, the Club will invite them all to address members at a meeting. The Club’s board looks forward to gearing up soon!

 General Information
 For more information about the Democratic Club, visit (www.demcluboflw.com) or email (leisureworlddemclub@gmail.com). Join the Club by sending a check for $15 per person to (Democratic Club of Leisure World, PO Box 12374, Silver Spring, MD 20908). Pay now and your membership lasts until June 2021.

National Active and Retired Federal Employees (NARFE) Chapter 1143

Now More Than Ever, Chapter Values its Focus on Health and Wellness

by John Moens

Starting with its third annual health roundtable and Expo last October, NARFE Chapter 1143 was focused on health issues.

And following the briefing on health plans by Consumers’ Checkbook editor Walt Francis and the cardio health class sponsored by the Chapter and held at The Inter-Faith Chapel in January, it seemed that the Chapter was as well informed as a chapter can be.

But February stunned Chapter members as they witnessed the social, political, physical and economic impact of a single virus. The virus swept away all membership activities at a time when the need for accurate information is greatest. Fortunately, the Chapter’s contacts are still ‘in contact.’

Rep. Jamie Raskin notified the Chapter that he would conduct a phone-in town hall on March 27. Many of Montgomery County residents’ questions were answered by calling 311, which connects residents with offices that provide updated lists of grocery stores with special hours for seniors and information on how to order groceries by phone, volunteer, get tested for the virus and more.

Additionally, research volunteers can find opportunities on the websites of Gov. Hogan, John Hopkins University and the University of Maryland.

To learn about future meetings, visit the Congressman’s website, available at (raskin.house.gov), and subscribe to his newsletter for free. Keep abreast of City Council actions on the virus with the Glass Gazette, available through the website of Councilman Evan Glass at (www.montgomerycountymd.gov/Glass). The current issue reports that the Council has called on banks to grant a 60-day moratorium on loan defaults during the crisis.

In the meantime, don’t forget that keeping healthy isn’t just about wearing masks and maintaining social distancing – diet and exercise have a role to play, too. After the current crisis passes, let’s return healthier than we were before it started.

The Inter-Faith Chapel

Chapel Offers Resources for Spiritual Connection

by Bonnie Bonner

The ministers of The Inter-Faith Chapel, Rev. Dr. Woodie Rea and Rev. Dr. Ramonia Lee, along with director of music Kevin Clemens, continue to offer weekly worship services televised on TV channel 972 on Wednesdays at 2 p.m.

To view a service online, go to (www.inter-faithchapel.org) and scroll down to the Worship section. Click the button there to view the Wednesday worship service outline, which includes the hymns to be sung. These will be posted each week no later than the Tuesday before the service shown on Wednesday. All are invited to “join,” come as they are and sing along!

The Chapel’s website includes other resources. Click on the Spiritual Enrichment tab at the top of each page to view a prayer guide for coronavirus, and spend time with God’s word during the pandemic. Click on Worship > Worship at Home at the top of the page to see outlines of services for personal devotion, including links to accompanying songs.

These resources are updated at least once a week. To receive an email notification of new material on the website and other Chapel news, email (b.bonner@inter-faithchapel.org) to be added to the Chapel’s email list. Email addresses will not be shared with anyone, and subscribers may unsubscribe at any time.

Broadcasts

On Easter Sunday, April 12, TV channel 972 broadcast 2019’s Easter morning worship service. The Chapel plans on rebroadcasting other services on pertinent topics such as worry and fear. Service times will be listed in advance on the TV channel. If you view a service and can see more than two to three people, it is a rebroadcast of a previous service.

Providing Donations

The Chapel is supported solely by donations from members and friends and is able to continue serving the community because of their generosity. Each month, the Chapel donates money to support local, national and international missions.

In April, the Chapel will donate money to the Capital Area Food Bank, Manna Food Center, the Montgomery County Coalition for the Homeless and Shepherd’s Table.

Currently, the members of the Interfaith Committee for the Homeless and Working Poor are not able to prepare and deliver sandwiches each week to the men’s shelter. The committee is donating funds to the shelter each week for their meal program.
What is Hadassah?

by Barbara Eisen

Henrietta Szold, an American nurse from Baltimore, founded Hadassah in 1912 after a visit to pre-state Israel showed her the impact of starvation and disease on the people living there.

Hadassah's current slogan is "The Power of Women Who DO," and its official mission statement is: "Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, is a volunteer organization that inspires a passion for and commitment to the land, the people, and the future of Israel. Through education, advocacy, and youth development, and its support of medical care and research at the Hadassah Medical Organization, Hadassah enhances the health and lives of people in Israel, the United States and worldwide."

The areas in which Hadassah functions are many and various. Its hospitals in Israel show her the impact of starvation and disease on the people living there.

Hadassah has recently opened an advocacy office so that it can continue to fight for causes in the U.S. such as women's reproductive rights, stopping sexual violence, condemning hate crimes, preventing genetics-based discrimination and promoting voter registration.

For more than 100 years, Hadassah's main focus has been connecting and empowering Jewish women to effect change — advancing health and well-being, advocating for women and building community in the U.S. and Israel.

Hadassah at Leisure World

All programs, board meetings and Judaic Study Group meetings are canceled through June. Most programs at Leisure World feature speakers on timely subjects or entertainment relevant to Jewish or Israeli issues. On Tuesday, Aug. 18, cantor Michael Kravitz is scheduled for one of his special presentations relating to Jews and music.

The Group encourages women of any religion to join Hadassah as an annual or life member. The Group has special associate memberships available to men.

If interested in knowing more about Hadassah, contact one of its membership vice presidents: Lois Fields at (301-585-9804) or (loisfieldsz@gmail.net), Linda Epstein at (301-847-9650) or (lepstein8@gmail.com) or Natalie Rosen at (301-279-5640) or (bnrosen@comcast.net).

Hadassah is also a fund-raising organization with the need to raise the money necessary for all its projects. Elaine Schenberg and Jan Bloom sell Hadassah greeting cards. The prices are $3 each for one to three cards and $2.50 each for four or more cards. Call Elaine at (301-598-0079) or Jan at (301-593-7720) to buy cards. They will even send them for the buyer if he or she adds postage costs to the regular fees.

Larelda Gruber, available at (301-598-5922), is chair of Youth Aliyah/Children at Risk. The project helps disadvantaged children in Israel. The goal is to create a circle of $1,000, made by individual contributions of $40. Send donations to Larelda at (3200 N. Leisure World Blvd. #201, Silver Spring, MD 20906).
Due to the ongoing concerns about the coronavirus, NA’AMAT is canceling the annual spiritual adoption luncheon, the donor luncheon and the trip to Dover Downs Hotel and Casino in Dover, Delaware.

Hopefully in the fall, the organization can resume activities in which all members can participate.

NA’AMAT is the largest provider of childcare in Israel. NA’AMAT not only provides the physical facilities but also continues to provide the staff and the necessary supportive services for each child. NA’AMAT offers vocational training for teenagers and at-risk students in photography, communication, mechanical engineering, dental technology and more.

The purpose of the Leisure World chapter of NA’AMAT RBZ is to raise additional funds to support or ‘spiritually adopt’ these children. The spiritual adoption luncheon is a major fundraiser for the organization.

The Israeli children in need whom NA’AMAT members ‘spiritually adopt’ are the future and deserve every opportunity to develop their abilities to become responsible and contributing members of society.

Now more than ever during these precarious times NA’AMAT needs the financial support to provide necessary support services. Any amount makes a difference. To donate, send checks, payable to NA’AMAT RBZ, to Harriet Chaikin at (15101 Interlachen Dr., Apt. 216, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

Volunteer Needed

After 14 years of writing for the Leisure World News, Carole Mund is retiring in June of 2020. NA’AMAT is eagerly looking for someone to take over the responsibilities.

The newspaper is a main vehicle for communication to the Leisure World community. A member does not have to be currently active to accept this position. For more information, contact president Linda Schoolnick at (301-681-1076).

Tribute Cards

Tribute cards and memorial cards are the perfect way to acknowledge events of friends and family. In this time of separation, it is nice to connect with friends through cards. Funds collected support the many programs NA’AMAT sponsors.

NA’AMAT has cards to honor all occasions, from congratulations for a special event to memorial cards. Each card is $3.50 if purchased and sent by you or $4.50 if sent by Lenore Kalen, tribute chairperson. For questions, contact Lenore at (301-922-4348).

Contact Information

For more information about NA’AMAT RBZ Club, contact co-presidents Linda Schoolnick at (301-681-1076) and Gladys Blank at (301-438-9666). For membership information, contact Harriet Chaikin at (240-560-7487). For information about the book club, contact Barbara Tahler at (240-669-6961).

Spotlighting Italy
by Flo Merola

Many Italian Social and Cultural Club members have travelled to Italy during the past few years. Some members were born there and still have family and friends living there.

Italy was one of the first countries in Europe to experience the coronavirus. The Club wishes blessings on Italy, the U.S. and the whole world at this very serious time in history.

The Club’s mission is dedicated to promoting knowledge and appreciation of Italian heritage and culture. The Club holds events that celebrate the Italian experience with language, song, dance, drama, comedy, food and fun.

Past Club events have included:

- Café Cinema – the screening of films with Italian themes
- bus trips to Little Italy in Baltimore with lunch at Sabatino’s restaurant
- Italian comedy wedding dinner theater
- wine tasting with Italian wines
- opera gala presented by the American Center for Puccini Studies
- Festivale Italiano: an indoor street fair with music, dancing and, of course, food
- bocce matches on the court twice a month

Although Club events are on hold, the Club plans to regroup as soon as this current crisis ends. The Club invites new members, both Italians and non-Italians, to join. If you’ve ever eaten pizza or pasta, you’re practically Italian anyway! Club members enjoy discounts and advance notice of upcoming events.

For more information, contact Barbara Kaminski (301-847-9313) or (bkaminskio064@gmail.com). In the meantime, buona salute!

New Yorkers and Friends Group

New Yorkers Group Reflects on Past and Looks Forward to Future
by Linda Mahler

The New Yorkers and Friends Group, although only into its second year, accomplished a great deal in a short time.

Formed with the purpose of meeting fellow New Yorkers, reaching out to help others in the community and engaging in social activities, the Group of 80 members is still going strong and growing.

This past year the Group got together and shared favorite New York memorabilia, tested New York trivia skills, enjoyed New York-based movies and savored New York associated foods including bagels, deli, egg creams and more. Some members also participated in a fun outing to Live! Casino in Hanover, Maryland.

Reaching Out

Through the Group’s wonderful camaraderie, a large amount of new, useful items was collected and donated to the local social service organization, A Wider Circle, and a monetary donation was made to the New York-based foundation, Tuesday’s Children.

“In these times more than ever, folks really know what educators do and their love for their students,” Becker said. “When this pandemic is over and things get better, we will all be glad to get out and about, and our special friends at Strathmore Elementary School will need some extra help.”

For information about volunteering, contact Ruth Becker at (301-288-4276) or (yabobecker@aol.com).

Looking Ahead

The Group’s future plans include holding an international potluck luncheon, tentatively rescheduled for Friday, May 15, to learn more about each other’s roots and to sample different ethnic cuisine.

“Getting to Know You” meetings are currently postponed, as well as a pizza lunch and a presentation by Alan Goldstein about the role of the Foundation of Leisure World in the community. The Group also hopes to eventually attend a Nationals vs. New York team baseball game.

Membership
The New Yorkers and Friends Group welcomes new members and is open to anyone who has affiliation to New York, city or state, or who just likes New Yorkers.

Dues for the year are $10 and go from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31. For more information about the Group, contact either co-president Linda Mahler at (301-288-4367) or Carole Mund at (301-598-2768).
Club Shares Positive At-Home Activities

by Elizabeth Brooks-Evans

The Going It Alone Club’s (GIAC) mission is to provide a variety of social activities and opportunities for interaction to single residents of Leisure World.

The Club usually meets every Saturday afternoon in Clubhouse II for armchair travel, game play, trip sign-ups and general socializing.

Due to the coronavirus pandemic, Club members have swiftly moved from meeting face-to-face to remaining isolated at home based on the advice of health experts as well as government mandates. All GIAC activities and trips have been canceled indefinitely.

For this reason, GIAC endeavors to present Club members with the following at-home activities that might bring some relief during this crucial time.

Armcchair Travel
Armcchair travelers who have computer access and have enjoyed beginning Saturday afternoon’s activities with Rick Steves, well-known video travel guide, are still able to ‘visit’ England, Scotland, Italy, France and other countries right from home.

Visit (www.youtube.com) and then type “Rick Steves Travel Videos” in the search bar. The site has various trips to choose from.

Games
For those who have computer access, AARP features a collection of free online activities for seniors including puzzle games, brain games and word games such as Scrabble.

Visit (https://guide forseniors.com/blog/ senior-online-games/).

Trips
All motor coach trips have been canceled. Members will be notified when these activities are to continue. For more information, contact GIAC president Elaine Strass at (240-447-2166).

Club President’s Message
The Club hopes to have its usual annual membership meeting in June. The pandemic situation will be monitored and Club President Elaine Strass will notify members well ahead of time as to whether and when the meeting will be held.

In the meantime, she urges those members who have computers to use the aforementioned websites provided and to share them with friends and neighbors.

And to all members whether they have computer access or not: stay in touch with one another by telephone. Studies have shown that a friendly call can be priceless to someone who is housebound.

Until we meet again, stay vigilant, stay safe, stay well and stay home!

Comedy and Humor Club
Blackout at Comedy Central Continues

by Al Karr

The Comedy and Humor Club went dark, as did many organizations at Leisure World and throughout the nation, in the wake of the coronavirus pandemic, which has severely impacted most of the world.

In normal times, the Club meets every week from 1:30-3 p.m. in Clubhouse II. The following are some of the jokes offered at a few of the meetings the Club managed to hold before the viral scourge began its rampant development.

- Herb Hodes – Recently, he shared the first three of his humorous “12 commandments for older people.” Here is the remaining:
  4. Your people skills are just fine. It’s your tolerance for idiots that needs work.
  5. The biggest lie you tell yourself is, “I don’t need to write that down. I’ll remember it.”
  6. These days, “on time” is when you get there.
  7. Even duct tape can’t fix stupid, but it sure does muffle the sound.
  8. Wouldn’t it be wonderful if we could put ourselves in the dryer for 10 minutes, and then come out wrinkle-free and three sizes smaller?
  9. Lately, you’ve noticed people your age look so much older than you.
  10. You thought growing old would take a lot longer.
  11. Aging sure has slowed you down, but it hasn’t shut you up.
  12. You still haven’t learned to act your age and hope you never will.

- Al Karr – You know you’re getting old when you bend over to pick something up and you look around to see what you can do when you’re down there.
- Skip Schoenstein – A sign in front of an optician’s office read, “If You Don’t See What You’re Looking for, You’ve Come to The Right Place.”

Rossmoor Women Still Fulfilling Club’s Goals Despite Pandemic

by Marcia Elbrand

Three graduating seniors at Blake High School will each receive a $2,000 scholarship from the Rossmoor Women’s Club (RWC) this year, despite changes to the selection process.

Winners typically receive their scholarship awards in person at a luncheon, but those plans were canceled this year because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

“We needed to re-think the process, while still carrying out our Club’s goals,” said RWC education committee chairperson Rita Posner. “As a result, the 2020 winners will be selected by the appropriate Blake High School staff, using the identical criteria.”

Scholarship winners must be young women who exhibit academic excellence, financial need, strong teacher recommendations and evidence of substantial volunteering, in either school or community settings.

In past years, a committee of RWC volunteer readers carefully studied applications and winnowed a field of 15 down to the finalists.

“It was a challenging process,” Posner said, “but we were always gratified when we met the winners and heard their stories firsthand at our festive spring luncheon.”

Fall Plans

RWC president Abigail Murton has been modeling flexibility in devising new leadership techniques in recent weeks, carefully consulting the Club’s board of almost two dozen by email before making future plans.

In lieu of the May luncheon, RWC is planning to hold a gala fall kick-off event in September at Manor Country Club.

“We are expecting that a high percentage of our 150-plus members will be thrilled to attend,” Murton said.

Membership

In the interim, annual membership dues, at $40 per person, will be payable in the next few weeks, as the Club’s fiscal year winds down. Memberships — renewals and new — may be mailed to Aggie Eastham, membership chair, at (3100 N. Leisure World Blvd., Apt. 126, Silver Spring, MD 20906).

As always, women who reside in Leisure World or in nearby communities are all welcome to join.

“We always discover that a wide diversity of women decides to join because they share our commitment to supporting local causes that matter,” Eastham said.

Volunteer Work

Annually, the Club provides financial support to nearly a dozen groups, including Montgomery Hospice, the Betty Ann Krahnke Center, the only domestic violence shelter in Montgomery County, and Fisher House Foundation, which provides lodging for those visiting hospitalized military men and women.

Recently, RWC began providing some financial support to Leisure World’s Social Services Department, which assists residents in the community who are facing hardship.

For more than three years, RWC has partnered with nearby Harmony Hills Elementary School’s preschool Head Start program, to which volunteers provide gifted books, warm hats, enriching field trips and vacation-break food bags.

Posner invites readers for whom this cause resonates to send a donation check of any size, payable to Rossmoor Women’s Club, with “Harmony Hills” written on the check’s memo line.

It should be mailed to RWC treasurer Peggy Sullivan at (3743 Glen Eagles Dr., Silver Spring, MD 20906).
Club Offers Siri Tips for Caregivers and Information on Video Calls

by Ron Masi

All LW Apple Club activities are canceled until further notice. Visit LW Apple Club online at (mac.computerctr.org) for past Leisure World News articles and more.

Here are some Siri-related suggestions, intended to be useful for caregivers of individuals who have memory issues. Step-by-step instructions are not provided; search YouTube for more detailed videos.

Apple Watch
Consider getting an Apple Watch, which provides instant access to Siri. In an emergency, the user can hold down a button, and it will automatically call for help. Newer devices have fall detection capability.

The Apple Watch may be considered costly, but consider the monthly cost for a medical alert system compared to the one-time cost of an Apple Watch. The Apple Watch is an iPhone on your wrist. It also provides email, messaging, maps, blood pressure-taking, a camera and more. And it even tells time.

Users need an iPhone to get the full benefit of the Apple Watch.

Reminders App
Using the Reminders app (already on the Apple device) can remind the user when to take his or her medications throughout the day.

The user can also take a picture of the pill to be displayed with the reminder.

If a user has questions to ask his or her doctor, set a reminder to ask them during the appointment time. The user can set a similar reminder before picking up a prescription at a pharmacy, for example.

Ride Share
Have trouble driving? Download a ride share app for your iPhone or Apple Watch and register. Then, the user who needs a ride can say, for example, “Hey Siri, open Uber.” Then answer the prompted questions such as, “Where do you want to go?” and “What time do you want to leave?”

‘Find My’
Most important perhaps for a caregiver is how to find someone who may have wandered. Set up “Find My” on the wanderer’s Apple Watch or iOS device and the caregiver’s app, and follow the prompts.

Now if the person ever goes missing, the caretaker can open “Find My” and tap the missing person’s name. The location will show up on a map with directions on how to get there.

Video Calls
Following up on a previous article, FaceTime allows up to 30 people on a single call. Here’s how:

Many options exist for video calls but arguably FaceTime is the most secure. Users can always get personal support by calling (1-800-MY-APPLE). And no need to download the app; FaceTime is already on Apple devices.

To make a FaceTime call:
Open FaceTime > tap the + button in the top right corner.
Select the name of the person you’d like to speak to from your Contacts. If the person is not in your Contacts, enter their phone number. Continue to add the names or numbers of the people you want included in your video call.

Press audio for a regular call or video for a visual call. During the call, you can add folks by swiping up on the FaceTime menu to see the “Add Person” on the bottom; press it and fill in the requested information.

To end the call, press the red X on the bottom of the screen. Users must use an Apple device to participate in a FaceTime call.
Several clubs, groups and organizations have canceled or postponed their meetings and events due to COVID-19 (coronavirus). To check on the status of an event or meeting, watch channel 972 or contact the club, group or organization directly.

No Fakes in Chess on Intellectual Property Day
by Bernie Ascher

The current coronavirus pandemic has stalled international travel. Governments have imposed travel restrictions to prevent the spread of the disease.

Consequently, international visitors may be unable to celebrate Intellectual Property Day (April 26) by attending the two museums devoted solely to counterfeit goods: one in Paris, France; the other in Bangkok, Thailand.

In Paris, Musée de la Contrefaçon, opened in 1972, features a six-room exhibit with more than 500 pieces of counterfeit merchandise, from luxury goods (handbags, cosmetics, watches, shoes) to electronic products (fakes alongside authentic originals). The museum adds new items constantly.

The museum is located in a building donated by Louis Vuitton to Union des Fabricants, the Union of Manufacturers (UNIFAB). Vuitton was president of the association. The building itself is a copy of a 17th century mansion once located in another section of Paris, but destroyed during a reconstruction period.

Several pharmaceutical companies created UNIFAB in 1872 to combat counterfeit products from Germany. Today, UNIFAB has 400 member companies and professional associations. UNIFAB drafted the Paris Convention of 1883, the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) established World Intellectual Property Day in 2000 to raise awareness of the importance of patents, copyrights, trademarks and designs and the need to protect creators and innovators from theft of intellectual property. WIPO selected April 26 because it was on that day in 1970 that the WIPO Convention entered into force.

The 193-member-state organization administers 26 international treaties. Its 13-story headquarters building, described as “encased in sapphire-blue glass” on WIPO’s website, has become an architectural landmark in Geneva, Switzerland.

With a staff of more than 1,500 and biennial expenditures of more than 750 million Swiss francs, WIPO is now a specialized agency of the United Nations.

In the U.S., the relentless battle against imports of counterfeit goods is currently focusing on sales through online marketplaces, such as eBay, Alibaba and Amazon. In a program announced in January, U.S. Customs and Border Protection intends to get e-commerce hubs to accept responsibility for preventing the sale of counterfeits.

The Washington Post recently reported that it found “knockoffs” advertised for sale on Amazon, including imitations of Hermès bracelets, Louis Vuitton handbags and Gucci belts. Last year, federal agencies intercepted nearly 28,000 shipments containing counterfeit goods, including vehicle air bags, pharmaceuticals and electronics.

Amazon claims it has more than 5,000 employees worldwide devoted to protecting consumers against fraud. It spent more than $400 million in 2018 for that purpose. Amazon also is working with owners of intellectual property rights (brand-name companies) to help it identify and remove listings promoting counterfeit products.

Chess sets generally are inexpensive with standard sizes and shapes, especially those subject to tournament regulations. So, who would want to copy them? One famous British jeweled set, however, is valued at more than $1 million.

In the diagram on this page, it is Black’s turn to move. What is Black’s best move? The solution follows this message that during the current health crisis, the Chess Club has canceled face-to-face games in Clubhouse II. Members are encouraged to play each other by phone or by computer.

SOLUTION: Black moves the Rook to d2. Checkmate!

Leisure World Duplicate Bridge Embodies Centuries of Tradition

by Marcia Fletcher

“It began with whist, a ‘servants’ game that moved upstairs to entertain the aristocracy,” according to Alan and Dorothy Truscott in “The New York Times Bridge Book.”

Bridge is one of the most popular card games in the world and has been a staple of American entertainment for more than 200 years. Our modern pasttime evolved from the earlier game of whist, which was popular in many parts of the world as early as the 17th century.

Whist began as a trick taking game, but there was no bidding to establish a trump suit; it was determined instead by the last card dealt. The winners were the pair that took the most tricks.

Over the years, the game gained popularity and began to adopt changes that looked more like modern bridge. The concept of an exposed dummy hand, for example, emerged in the late 19th century. By 1904, the idea of auction bridge, in which players bid to decide both the contract and declarer, had taken hold.

In these troubled times, it is reassuring to remember that good things can be born of quarantines. Most historians credit Harold Stirling Vanderbilt, a skillful and dedicated auction bridge player, with a set of refinements that gave us the game we enjoy today.

In October 1925, Vanderbilt was one of four bridge-playing Americans on a cruise from California through the Panama Canal. When the ship reached Balboa, a quarantine prevented them from going ashore.

New features of the game included different ideas for scoring and the concept of “vulnerability.” The quartet embraced the changes and applied them to a bridge marathon for two nights.

According to the Truscotts, Vanderbilt had “developed a scoring table that was almost perfectly balanced. It was so good that only minor modifications have been made in the past 75 years.” The Truscotts wrote their book at the beginning of this century, so Vanderbilt’s improvements have now stood the test of time for 95 years.

Vanderbilt’s innovations and subsequent distribution of his new scoring system fueled interest in auction bridge and led to the development of the duplicate game.

Bridge at Leisure World

Social bridge games are popular in Leisure World and are played in many settings throughout the community. In normal times, the Duplicate Bridge Club offers duplicate games on Tuesday and Friday nights at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse I. The Club’s duplicate competition is more structured than social games and is sanctioned by The American Contract Bridge League (ACBL). These games, in Leisure World and elsewhere, include a certified director who manages the game. ACBL members are rewarded with master points for good performances in sanctioned events.

In the duplicate game, scoring is different from the system used most often in social, or rubber bridge. The hands are pre-dealt and placed in boards that are passed from one table to the next after each round. One set of players (east/west) at each table rotates in the opposite direction, so that all partnerships play the same cards.

All residents are invited to join the Duplicate Bridge Club and are welcome to play at the regular weekly games when they resume after the current health crisis ends. For more information, contact Club president Aaron Navarro at (abn123@netzero.net).

Pickleball in the Time of COVID-19

by Dee Berkholtz

In what should have been a busy time for outdoor pickleball, all games have been put on hold as Marylanders comply with the governor’s mandate to “stay home.”

Pickleball players throughout the community gaze longingly at the empty courts as they walk or cycle past them, getting the only exercise currently approved during these days of restricted socialization.

However, things are happening that should help the 2020 season get off to a strong start as soon as it is deemed safe enough to venture back out to the courts. The reconfiguration of the pickleball courts has begun and will result in a total of six pickleball courts, an increase of two courts.

When completed, the lower courts (closest to Leisure World Boulevard) will host four pickleball-only courts in addition to the two courts that are blended with the tennis court closest to Clubhouse II, which will continue to be shared with our tennis community.

A final push is underway to get all former members and interested residents registered for the Club’s 2020 season. A directory of Pickleball Club members will be made available to facilitate impromptu games and other social interactions, once residents are again able to socialize.

President Scott Keenum has kept communications going with Club members by sending out messages or links almost every week. One very interesting and informative link he sent was of a YouTube posting by Dr. H. Weiss, an epidemiologist and adjunct professor at the University of Wisconsin who also happens to be a pickleball enthusiast.

The 20-minute report, “Pickleball in the Time of COVID-19,” addresses questions asked by many pickleball players such as:

• Can we play if we maintain six feet of distance between players?
• Can the virus really be transmitted via the ball?
• What safety precautions can we take so we can continue to play?

The link to the Weiss presentation can be found on the Club website’s homepage at (www.LWPickleball.net).

For information about the Pickleball Club, visit the Club’s website at (www.lwpickleball.net). Questions may be sent to the Club’s officers via the “Contact” link on the website.
